

)ueen Elizabeth bruised by lowned grouse NDON (AP) Once NDON (AP) Once Aboth was brilled due a groung shoot in aland two weeks deal al kingham Palace ago shot bird spiralled from sky on a masty morning

brushed on the queen't uklet, a palace kestuan sand speaking p carrent and mand printains was not set-A Lamons groupe per s it may become but one that will alter the rse of history be kesman and The queen her guests were wall! with the shooting pany Balmoral, her Scotts de, where she vacation h summer She is die ne Monday The palace in after Friday's edition he Sun tablend newspaha the streets with a atpage story about what called the kamikaze grouse The Sun sad queen on shrekei riving in Britain today? Best be polite NDON (R) - Rush

en she was but by the

I, but she soon laughed

the incident.

ers were being organ day to be mee to one ther Sunga has wa that Brooms who mally value manner to extreme in person faca vener of cenalin on they got behind the eel of a lat So the sal. Automobile (16) The Politic Society has aded to either to sponsor National Day at artera Inscounters erner they said mak oman caned for aduitery:

er dansers develop but

e" and could care are boyfriend freed IAKA. i unglada Literated Production Reality satherped a publication head Islamic deve passed her of adulters by Western Schooling so elect for pregnant we off, new reporteral iday. No one was after for bearing ridge gum for times with I minor cane last week in ant of an andience of our Loro vallagers int duded has beginned S. Begum 23 Sad dr nscribed to having set th Mohamuad Labulat quitted for want of aux Women's nghi office of the least of amen has committee icide in recent vest able to be a the humbs in of purestiment by the meaniscents. The lack regine occurred on MP ) at Lukalipin village in omilia district. 88 kilo erres east of the capital haka according to the makamtha new spaper er he proposed to mur-

i Mr. Lubullah a.r.

Hitler look-alike stabs when taunted ONDON (AP) - A man to stabbed a pub owner er being raunted for sembling Adolf Hiller is semenced to three ars in prison The Hed me Adolf because I ok like Adolf Hulet hn Edney, 53, had told, lice after the incident at pub in Victoria, central ndon Someone should 'sneg bell' and that made angry. Ar Edney had planned after thrustney ort red-handled blade a orrinan, who was slight cut on the chin. In mey, who wears a small sustache similar io the er dictator's is lonely d suffers from a "siege matry" and a belief that

Three parties merge into one

AMMAN (J.T.) — The Interior Ministry on Sunday approved the merger of three small left-wing parties to form the Jordanian Democratic Unionist Party. The new party, which has two members in the 80-seat Lower House of Parliament, said it would remain in opposition and oppose normalisation of Jordan's relations with Israel. The merger of the three parties — the Arab Democratic Party, the Democratic Progressive Party and the Democratic Socialist Party headed respectively by Mazen Saket. Issa Mdanat and Ali Amer - reduces to 21 the total number of political parties in the Kingdom. When the three parties decided to merge last month they elected Mr. Mdanat as head of the new party and announced that the grouping agrees on a political programme rather than an ideological one aimed at creating a future based on Arab unity, democracy and social progress. Mr. Amer of the former Democratic Socialist Party said that the new party would work towards unifying nationalists to fight the "negative political, social and economic impact of the Jordan-Israel peace treaty on the nation."

Number 6041

AMMAN MONDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1995, JUMADA ULA 15, 1416

The Jordan Times

now has two additional telephone lines in service. They are:

684 311 / 699 634

We can still be reached through the Al Ra'i telephone exchange whose number is 667 171

To reach the Advertising Department,

please call: 667 171 Ext. 223

Price: Jordan 150 Fils

Regent condoles

Volume 19

Indonesians

AMMAN (Petra) — His Royal Highness Crown Prince Hassan, the Regent, on Sunday sent a cable to Indonesian President Suharto expressing condolences over the death of Indonesians as a result of an earthquake which hit parts of Indonesia (see inside). The Regent requested President Suharto to convey his condolences to the families of the victims.

Srour leads team on Bulgaria visit

AMMAN (Petra) - Speaker

of the Lower House of Parliament Sa'd Havel Srour Sunday left Amman heading a delegation on a five-day official visit to Bulgaria, during which he will discuss with senior Bulgarian officials bilateral relations in all fields and means of developing them, particularly in the parliamentary affairs. Mr. Srour will meet with the Bulgarian head of state, the speaker of parliament and members of the parliament's political affairs council. The delega-tion includes Abdul Karim Al Dughmi, Nawaf Al Qadi, Samih Al Farah, Nazih Ammarin, Deifallah Al Momani, Hatem Ghzawi and Hani Hijazin in addition to the head of the speaker's office, Khalid Samhouri.

Militants vow to avenge death

RAMALLAH (AP) — Activists vowed Sunday to avenge the death of a Palestinian prisoner whose battered body was found a day earlier in an Israeli prison cell. Mohammad Abu Shakra, 21, was found dead Saturday night in Ketziot prison, where he was serving a fivemonth sentence for stonethrowing and membership in Hamas. An Israeli army spokesman said there were signs that Abu Shakra had been beaten to death. The death is under investigation, but results will not be available until next week, he said. In Ramallah, dozens of Palestinian youths threw stones and bottles at Israeli soldiers and set up barricades of burning tyres on Sunday to protest the death. Three Hamas activists with covered faces, dressed in khaki fatigues and wielding axes. scrawled graffiti on the wall of Abu Shakra's house saying they would avenge his killing.

Chirac envoy visits Oman

MUSCAT (AP) - An envoy of French President Jacques Chirac met Sunday with Omani officials to discuss the situation in Iraq and the Arab-Israeli peace process. diplomatic sources reported. Jean D. Lipkowsky, who arrived late Saturday, also briefed the officials on France's position on regional and international issues, and discussed the situation in Bosnia-Herzegovina, the sources said. They said that in his meeting with Haitham Ben Tareq Al Saced, secretary-general of the Omani Foreign Ministry, Mr. Lipkowsky discussed France's controversial decision to resume nuclear testing

Talibans reject U.N. truce plan

MAIDAN SHAHR (R) -The Taliban movement on Sunday rejected a U.N. plan for a limited ceasefire in warravaged Afghanistan and vowed to attack Kabul to oust President Burhanuddin Rabbani. "We are not willing to consider a ceasefire," a Taliban frontline commander, Mullah Mashr, told reporters at his headquarters at Maidan Shahr, about 30 kilometres southwest of the capital. "Rabbani has not abided by ceasefires in the past, and we will attack when we are ready." he said. Mr. Mashr was commenting on a statement by U.N. peace envoy Mahmoud Mestiri on Saturday that he was trying to bring about a limited ceasenor a central normal new world was against the according to his a yet. Natholas Bleanes fire so he could convene a conference of all the country's warring factions.

Women refuse to leave jail as Israel, PLO work on pullback

OCCUPIED JERUSALEM (Agencies) — Twenty Palestinian women refused to walk out of their jail cells on Sunday in solidarity with female detainees whose release Israel has blocked in violation of the West Bank autonomy accord. But the protest did not prevent the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) from meeting a senior Israeli military official to fix dates for the army's withdrawal from the West Bank. The two sides failed to agree and were to meet again on Tuesday.

An 18-year-old woman, saying she was unaware of the prison protest, became the first Palestinian prisoner to go home under the West Bank deal.

The 20 other women, held at Sharon prison at Tel Mond, near Tel Aviv, refused to sign a pledge that Israel has demanded of all Palestinians being freed.

"We received files with pardons for 21 women. Twenty of them refused to sign the statements and they remain in prison. Only she (Abu Laban) was willing to sign." prison authority spokesman Moshe Malul told

GAZA (Agencies) — The Palestinian National Authority released senior Hamas leader Mahmoud Al Zahar.

who was jailed on June 26, in Gaza Strip on Sunday, wit-

Dr. Zahar was arrested

during a Palestinian police crackdown against the group whose militants have killed

scores of Israelis in suicide

Israel-Palestine Liberation

Organisation (PLO) peace

Arafat aide, Ahmad Tibi, hinted after talks with Hamas leaders that the PNA would free more Hamas prisoners

"I am sure that this is not the only step that will take

The released 18-year-old, who was sentenced to seven years in jail in 1992 for trying to stab a policeman, agreed to sign and went free from Ramleh prison, where she had been held in solitary con-

Bashayir Abu Laban returned to her home in East Jerusalem to an emotional welcome from her family. "I am happy for my release but I was sad when I found out that my fellow prisoners are not coming out. the teenager said, adding that she now supported the peace process with Israel. Israeli President Ezer Weizman has blocked the release of two Palestinian women with Israeli "blood on their hands," sparking pro-tests from the PLO which said the decision violated the West Bank deal signed on Under the accord to extend Palestinian self-rule on the West Bank, all Palestinian women in Israeli jails were to go free. But Foreign Minister Shimon Peres said the government had to bow to the president's constitutional

The army has also refused to free at least another two

Arafat releases Hamas leader

was among around 50 Hamas activists arrested in June 26, a day after a Hamas militant wounded three Israeli soldiers in a suicide attack in the Police said Yasser Arafat,

who is head of the PNA, ordered his release after an appeal from two Arab-Israeli mediators, Sheikh Abdullah

Nimer Darwish and Ahmad

officials rounded up at the same time as Dr. Zahar,

Ahmad Bahar, Sameh Abu

Sameh and Salameh Al Safa-

di, stayed in jail, police said.

Dr. Zahar and other detainees were forced to shave off their beards.

Shortly after his detention,

But three other leading south of the Gaza Strip.

Palestinian women since Mr. Weizman's decision. announced on Friday. according to Israeli radio. The fate of several women was still unclear on Sunday. Palestinian officials blasted Israel for violating the agreement by not releasing the four women. In the Sept. 28 agreement, Israel promised to release "all female detainees and prisoners" in the first stage of the prisoner

"It's a bad omen for the implementation of the whole agreement." Palestinian Municipal Affairs Minister Saeb Erekat told the Associated Press.

"The agreement on this issue is black and white. Israel has no excuse whatsoever to stall.

Hisham Abdul Razak. chief Palestinian negotiator on prisoners, said Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin had personally promised the women's release when the two sides finalised the autonomy accord last

The Israel-PLO agreement calls for an Israeli troop withdrawal from Palestinian towns in the West Bank, Palestinian general elections, to halting anti-Israeli attacks.

Sudan last week was a media-

to mediate between Hamas

and the Palestinian Authority

does not represent Hamas,

it explained in a statement released in autonomous Gaza ences between Hamas and the authority... But Hamas appreciates all efforts to reunite the Palestinian peo-.

ple and to achieve national had "not committed itself to

The group stressed that it

"It's a mediation team

og to settle almer

tion team, it said.

A delegation which left for

"The delegation which left prisoners from Israeli jails.

The women's refusal to leave the prison threw into question the release due on Tuesday of between 1,100 and 1,200 Palestinian men. after a holiday Monday for a Jewish feast.

But PLO leader Yasser Arafat played down any talk of a crisis at a meeting overnight with Mr. Peres. He said Mr. Weizman had pledged to Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak to free all the

"This subject has been arranged between President Mubarak and President Weizman; it is between them." said Mr. Arafat at the Erez crossing from Israel into the Gaza Strip.

Israel holds a total of around 6.000 Palestinian pris-

General Ilan Biran, army commander for the West Bank, and General Abdul Razzak Al Yahya, the chief Palestinian official on a security liaison committee. also met at Erez to fix dates for the army's redeployment. "We did not reach an agreement ... there are still

(Continued on page 7)

IORDAN IS urging other Bomb Arab states to prevent Iraq from breaking into religious and ethnic mini-states. Fore-ign Minister Abdul Karim Kabariti said in remarks published on Sunday. "We are concerned with what is happening in Iraq and with the danger to the region's security posed by this country's collapse and breakup into ethnic mini-states." Mr. Kabariti told the London-based Al Hayat newspaper. because of the suffering of its people and the U.N. sanctions imposed on the country after it invaded Kuwait in 1990, he told the Arabic dai-

He said Jordan would work to preserve Iraq's unity and urged other Arab states to do the same. Jordan did not want Iraq to be divided for ethnic or religious reasons, but could accept a state built along federal lines.

We believe the interests of parties and political forces in Iraq should be taken into account to prevent any political or military action which would provoke some of the Abdul Karim Kabariti people or part of the country into seceding," he said.

Shiite Muslims constitute between 45 and 55 per cent of Iraq's 18 million people, with Sunni Arabs accounting for 20 to 30 per cent and the Kurds around 20 per cent.

Mr. Kabariti meanwhile criticised Syria for blocking Middle East peace. "It is not in Syria's interest to block (Arab-Israeli) accords. On the contrary it must realise that these accords can contribute to the peace process.

"The different tracks of the peace process cannot be delayed in the interest of the Syrian track" of negotiations with Israel, he said.

Syrian Foreign Minister Farouk Al Sharaa told the United Nations on Tuesday that Damascus would reexamine its role in the peace process if the Israeli-Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) accords were used to harm Syrian interests. peace treaty with Israel and the Palestinians have struck deals for autonomy from the Jewish state, Syria and its ally Lebanon have failed to achieve any breakthroughs.

Mr. Kabariti said he could not understand why Syria was refusing to take part in the Middle East and North Africa economic summit in Amman planned for October, which is also to be attended by Israel.

Syria has agreed to participate in a Nov. 27-29 conference in Barcelona, Spain, which will be attended by Mediterranean countries, in-

Hamas said meanwhile it place in the near future," he Israeli radio reported Fritold reporters. backed a mediation with the Dr. Zahar, a paediatrician, PNA but was not committed (Continued on page 7) Bosnia ceasefire is still on track despite battles SARAJEVO (R) — Bosnian rivals clashed on Sunday ahead of a ceasefire and more civilians died in shelling but the West, confident it would take effect on Tuesday. started to discuss the cost of rebuilding the devastated re-

Bosnian Serb and mainly-Muslim government troops supported by Croatian forces iostled for territory in northwest Bosnia as the United States presented proposals for Russia to take part in an international force to implement a peace accord.

Heavy fighting broke out along Serb-Muslim confrontation lines in northwest Bosnia on Sunday, Bosnian army sources and eyewitnesses said.

They said fierce artillery and rocket duels were raging to the north and east of Bosanska Krupa. There was "heavy fighting" along a frontline between Otoka and

Military observers have speculated that the warring Bosnian government and Serb sides might make a lastminute land grab before the U.S.-brokered ceasefire, especially after about 400 Croatian troops reached the area to reinforce Muslim

"Heavy fighting is going on along the whole frontline between Otoka and Kljuc. We shall see the results in the evening and tomorrow," Brigadier Mirsad Selmanovic told reporters in Bosanska-Krupa, 20 kilometres east of the fiercest fighting was in the area of Otoka, 12 kilometres to the north, and some seven kilometres to the east of Krupa. A Western monitor said heavy artillery, mortar and rocket fire had been going on since the early morning. In northern central Bosnia. 10 people were killed and at least 10 more were wounded when their refugee camp was shelled, apparently by separatist Serbs on Sunday, the U.N. said.

Other military sources said

"The refugee centre at Zivinice was shelled at about 1145 this morning according to (U.N. military observers) and at least 10 people were killed and many others injured." said Jim Landale, a U.N. spokesman in Sarajevo.

Despite the fighting, pros-pects for the ceasefire improved after the government said technical delays to restoring electricity and gas in Sarajevo would not affect its timing.

Bosnian Prime Minister Haris Silajdzic said gas from Russia was due to start flowing on Sunday through an international pipeline crossing territory held by the rebel Bosnian Serbs.

Suffering citizens of Sarajevo pray restoration of the city's utilities and the ceasefire will spare them another freezing winter and end the daily grinding tasks of queuing for water under the threat of snipers and artil-

The besieged city has been without water, electricity and gas for the past six months. A spokeswoman for the U.N. peacekeeping force said

Serb soldiers were clearing landmines around electricity pylons which needed repair. The Bosnian government set the restoration of utilities to Sarajevo as a precondition for the ceasefire which peace envoys hope will lead towards ending the 31/2vear war. Mr. Silajdzic told an international conference in Warsaw on Saturday his government needed aid of $12 billion for post-war reconstruc-

The United States and its rich allies called on the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank to act quickly to put together a plan to rebuild Bosnia.

Finance ministers from the Group of Seven (G-7) industrial nations unexpectedly highlighted peacemaking steps in Bosnia, calling in an end-of-meeting communique for swift action by the multilateral lenders "as soon as conditions warrant."

"The G-7 ministers ... urged the IMF and the World Bank to quickly study what Bosnia will need once a comprehensive peace is in place," J.S. Treasury Secretary Robert Rubin said.

In Geneva, Russian Defence Minister Pavel Grachev said the United States had presented new proposals to resolve a disagreement over Moscow's role in an international force to implement a Bosnian peace accord.

After talks with U.S. Defence Secretary William Perry, Mr. Grachev was asked

(Continued on page 7)

explodes at French rail track

PARIS (Agencies) - A bomb exploded on a railway near Paris early Sunday, but ably not linked to a wave of terrorist bombings - including one on Friday - attributed to extremists that has killed seven and injured 150 since late July. The blast, which occurred at 3:10 a.m. Sunday between freezing military operations Marly-le-Roi and Louveciennes on a commuter line west of Paris, blew a crater 30 centimetres in the ground and damaged overhead tables, but did not cause any injuries. Rail traffic was briefly disrupted, but had resumed on schedule by late morning.

Noting that the detonating device - an electrical wire connected to a battery — differed from those used in all the earlier bomb attacks except one, suspicion has turned towards a local perpetrator, investigators said.

a similar overnight explosion that damaged an electricity relay station on Sept. 17 in the neighbouring town of Elang-la-Ville, less than two kilometres distant. That blast affected power supplies to 8.000 consumers in the area. While these two blasts

Indeed, the exception was

were set off manually and were apparently not intended to cause injury, the other bombs were designed to detonate with timing devices, some of which malfunctioned, the investigators noted.

Friday's explosion, which filled the modus operandi ascribed to Algeria-linked militants slightly injured 13 people in southern Paris. The attack coincided with the funeral in Lyon of an Algerian suspect. Khaled Kelkal. killed by police. The name of the metro station where the blast occurred, "Maison Blanche," is also the name of the hamlet near Lyon where Kelkal, 24, was gunned down by paramilitary police on Sept. 29. Kelkal, whose fingerprints were found on a railway bomb which failed to go off at the end of August, is also Gaza Strip. thought by French authorities to have been involved in other attacks, including one on a Paris suburban underground train in which seven people died on July 25. The day after the Maison

(Continued on page 7)

33 Palestinian expellees transit through Jordan

AMMAN (Agencies) — A group of 33 Palestinians expelled from Libya have arrived at Aqaba on the Red Sea on their way to the Gaza Strip, a Jordanian official said Sunday. The Palestinians arrived

Saturday and stayed at a camp used by pilgrims on their way to Mecca, said Lieutenant Colonel Abdul Rahman Shareh, director of border police at Aqaba. Col. Shareh, quoted by the Jordan News Agency. Petra. said the Palestinians then left Aqaba at dawn Sunday headed for the King Hussein Bridge. which crosses from Jordan into the West Bank. From there, they were to travel to the Gaza Strip. Jordan permits Palestinians holding Jordanian passports to enter its territory and only lets those who have Israeli authorisation to transit to the Palestinian self-rule areas. A total of 177 Palestinians have crossed Jordan since Sept. 27 to reach the Libya announced at the beginning of September that it would expel the 30,000 Palestinians residing on its territory to show the "failure" of the Israel— Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) accord autonomy on the West Bank and Gaza Strip. About 900 expelled Palestinians who do not have proper travel papers are stuck at the no-man's land between Libyan and Egyptian borders.

Egypt has refused to allow Palestinians to cross its territory unless they are assured of reaching another country. The road between the two countries was reopened to traffic late Saturday after Palestinians ended a protest that had blocked the border to vehicles for most of the day.

Egyptian border officials

Security sources at the Egyptian border post of Salloum said a group of 200 demonstrators had agreed to reopen the route for 72 hours but would demonstrate again if no solution was found to their plight.

In an interview published Sunday, PLO leader Yasser Arafat urged Libyan leader Moammar Qadhafi to stop expelling Palestinians from Libva.

"I urge him. in the name of Arab fraternity, to put an end quickly to the unjust decisions taken regarding Palestinians." said Mr. Arafat in an interview with the Egyptian news agency MENA published by the Al Ahram newspaper here.

"The Palestinians have been subjected to systematic witchhunts in other (Arab ) countries after the Libyan decision. Similar measures have been taken by the Lebanese authorities with regard to Palestinians holding Lebanese travel documents," he said.

Al Ahram, citing a Palestinian diplomat in Tripoli, said 2,500 Palestinians have registered at the Palestinian embassy to return to Syria. Among them are 1.700 holding Syrian travel documents who have to return within a week, and 800 with Lebanese travel documents.

Lebanon has refused to accept Palestinians expelled from Libya. Since the beginning of October, 600 Palestinians expelled from Libya have left for Syria by boat, Al Ahram said.

Mr. Arafat's appeal followed talks on Friday between Egyptian Foreign Minister Amr Musa and Colonel Qadhafi, which resulted in Egypt raising hopes that the Libyan leader would back off his campaign to expel all Palestinians in Libya.

FIRSTHAND TASTE: His Royal Highness Crown Prince Hassan, the Regent, and Amman Mayor Mamdouh Abbadi on Sunday taste figs during a tour that the Regent made through the capital's marketplaces accompanied by the mayor (see page three) (photo by Boghos)

Jordan urging Arab states to prevent Iraq's break-up

Ramallah waits in wings as Palestinian business capital

RAMALLAH (AFP) — As the intifada graffiti fades off the walls and its 40,000 residents look to self-rule, the bustling town of Ramallah on Jerusalem's doorstep is turning into the Palestinian business capital.

Ramallah is a mere 10minute drive from Jerusalem, set amid rocky, alive-tree dotted hills at the centre of a future Palestinian entity which the Palestinian Liberation Organisation (PLO) insists will one day become a

The town is bracing itself for an economic boom and seeks to lure investors with stability. Unlike the flashpoint town of Hebron, it is free of holy sites that can attract tourists but can also become the focus of religious

"We want to restore our city as the pride of Palestine," said Khalil Mussa Khaiil, the town's mayor.

While encouraging the trend to turn Ramallah into a business capital, he cautions against forecasts that the town could take the place of Jerusalem, although several self-rule ministries are already in place.

"We don't approve of talk of Ramallah as the next capital, our only capital is Jerusalem," he insisted. On the eve of self-rule,

ABU DHABI (R) —

Young Filipina maid Sarah

Balabagan begins an appeal trial on Monday

hoping for freedom but many United Arab Emi-rates (UAE) nationals insist her death sentence for

in public as a warning to others. If you come here to work you have to respect

our laws. This is the United Arab Emirates, not the Philippines or the West,"

said government employee

The uproar that erupted

after an Islamic court in Al

'Ain condemned Ms. Bala-

bagan to death on Sept. 16

for the premeditated murder of her UAE employer

has fuelled resentment

among nationals of this

Reflecting the view of many in this oil-rich emirate, the court rejected Ms.

Balabagan's claim that she stabbed Almas Mohammad

Al Baloushi 34 times in self-defence after wrestling

his knife away during a

The verdict has infuriated the Philippines, reig-niting passions that swept

the country after another

Filipina maid, Flor Con-

templacion, was hanged in Singapore in March for double murder.

It has also tarnished the Gulf Arab federation.

"She should be executed

murder must stand.

UAE nationals

insist on execution

for Filipina maid

mobile phones, satellite dishes, BMW cars and mountain bikes are already common sights in Ramallah, a town long noted as a haven for the political elite and intel-

With Bir Zeit University nearby, the town has Muslim and Christian committee, while Jewish settlements stand on neighbouring hilltops, Al Bireh is its twin

Under the West Bank selfrule accord, which the Israeli parliament endorsed on Friday, the army is to withdraw from all Palestinian towns barring Hebron by the end of the year. Patrols in Ramallah have already been eased.

Hundreds of new firms are planning to set up here, while small to medium-sized businesses, such as pharmacentical companies, are already flourishing.

Major investors, however, are waiting to see what self-rule brings, although a construction boom is already underway, along with work on new roads and a sewage

New building this year covered 112,000 square metres up until June, compared to 78,000 square metres for the whole of 1993, the year before self-rule was launched in Gaza and Jericho, the international fire.

The outrage over the

Abdullah Belouni, manaof the Arab Bank branch in Manara Square that reopened in December for the first time since 1967, said almost all loans were going out to construction.

Land prices have rocketed. In the centre of town, a donum of prime real estate can now sell for as much as a million dollars.

Abu Afif, a 57-year-old developed, returned from Brazil in 1994 and has demolished an old building off the square to build a 10storey block, including a billiards hall and a branch of the U.S. children restaurant

The town has close links with the United States, where hundreds of families have emigrated since the end of the last century.

Red-tiled villas have sprouted up on the outskirts of Ramallah, a district of 300,000 inhabitants, although prices have tripled, according to Salahadin Jabr Alodeh of the newly-rehoused chamber

Mr. Aloudeh said the town is already the centre of Palestinian banking, with 12 new branches opening soon. But the gold rush since the end of the intifada, or Palestinian uprising, also has its

Kamel's case against. Alef Baa is dismissed

case has left some UAE nationals wondering why their traditionally low-key country has come under The Justice Ministry has backed the death sentence.

but the government is pursuing a reconciliation formula with Baloushi's fami-Officials will try again to persuade the family to drop the death sentence in exchange for blood money, an official said. and younger sister arrived in the UAE on Saturday to plead for her life and are carrying an affidavit showing that she is 16. The UAE says she is 27 based on documents Philippine officials say were forged.

UAE President Sheikh

Zayed Ben Sultan Al Nahayan ordered a retrial after the same Al 'Ain court in June sentenced Ms. Balabagan to seven years imprisonment for manslaughter.

It also awarded her comensation after concluding she had been raped.
The UAE federal supreme court must endorse any death sentence and an execution must be approved by Sheikh Zayed.

President Fidel Ramos said he would ask Sheikh Zayed to pardon Ms. Balabagan if the death sentence image of the UAE, angering officials who have said that pressure from Manila Few UAE nationals could jeopardise Ms. Balaappear to favour clemency. bagan's chances for free-'In the street, the word dom in an appeal trial exthe death sentence

Jamal Al Hosany.

should be carried out," said

AMMAN (J.T.) — An Iraqi court has dropped a case against two Iraqi journalists filed by former Iraqi Minister of Industry Hussein Kamel, who defected to Jordan in

The case was filed against Najlaa Qader from Alef Baa magazine and her editor Amir Al Helou on alleged defamation charges, the Al Ra'i daily reported.

On Jan. 25, 1995 Alef Baa published a report about the tomatoes grown in green houses. It quoted farmers as saying that one of the reasons was that no plastic cover was available to the farmers from the concerned authorities and that some of the sheets produced by the Ministry of Industry were sold in the black market to selected farmers.

Following the publication of the report. Lieutenant-General Kamel sued the magazine's editor and the reporter accusing them of libel against a government establishment.

Court Judge Ibrahim Hindawi, who studied the case, announced that after examining the case he found no defamation or slander against any Iraqi official or the Ministry of Industry, Al Ra'i

"The report merely reported the words of farmers who had suffered from the damage to their crops due to the lack of plastic sheets and their inability to purchase plastic sheets whose prices were skyrocketing on the black market," added the

Yesterday's high temperatures: Amman 27. Aqaba 38 Humidity readings: Amman 35 per cent.

USEFUL

TELEPHONE

Regent, on Sunday chats with citizens during a tour of Amman (see page 3) (photo by Boghos)

UAE steps up its campaign against drugs and alcohol

ABU DHABI (AFP) — The United Arab Emirates (UAE) has stepped up a campaign to combat drugs and alcohol amid growing abuse in the country and a surge in narcotics-trafficking from Pakistan and other Asian countries.

A few months after it decided enforce the death penalty against drug-smugglers, the government last week created a Higher Committee for Combatting Drugs and Intoxicants to spearhead the drive.

Officials said around five million dirhams ($1.36 million) had already been earmarked for the committee as an initial budget.
"The committee will map out strategies, policies and programmes to fight narcotics and intoxicants through-out the country," Interior Minister Mohammad Said Al Badi told the official news agency WAM.

"The creation of the committee illustrated our leaders' keenness to take more effective measures to tackle this problem and protect our youth. It also underscores the need for a comprehensive and radical action," he said. The committee is headed Sheikh Sultan Ben Al Nahayan, the deputy prime minister, and composed of senior representatives from the Interior Ministry, intelligence, the central bank, and the ministries of foreign affairs, education, affairs and other depart-

Officials said the campaign would include television programmes, seminars, leaflets and sermons against drug abuse during open-air Friday

The Health Ministry will also expand existing prog-rammes to treat drug addicts, who are pardoned if they turn themselves in.

Mr. Badi, a former army chief, said the committee would boost cooperation with other Gulf states and countries outside the region to fight drugs.

"We will dedicate Friday sermons to highlight the hazards of narcotics and intoxicants and urge our youth to stay away from such harm-ful things." Sheikh Moham-mad Al Khazzaji, minister of Islamic affairs and endowments, said.

Dubai police commander Dahi Khalfan said there was a need to bolster the country's coast and border guard and tighten control of small harbours.

Police records showed most of the smuggled drugs over the past decade came by sea from neighbouring Iran, countries.

More than eight tonnes seized in the past three years, involving hashish, heroin, cocaine, opium and other drugs. The bulk of those arrested in this connection

Libyans paid $50,000 to Egyptian

health, information, Islamic were Pakistanis, Iranians and Africans.

Apart from the surge in trafficking operations, officials have been alarmed by what they call the spread of drug addiction among their own people. Several UAE men were reported to have died from overdoses in the past few years.

"This problem has become very serious. We fell it is time to act before it gets out of control," a senior police officer told AFP.

"Enforcement of the death penalty could deter international gangs. We have to take action at the same time to safeguard our youth from indulging in such crimes," he said.

Despite the introduction of capital punishment early this year, police have reported serveral narcotic smuggling attempts, although they involved relatively small quantities seized mostly at sea.

Experts believe the UAE, a major oil producer, remains one of the most vulnerable to narcotic-trafficking in the region because of its proximity to drug-producing states in Asia, the presence of large foreign communities and its

An Iranian crackdown on drug trafficking is also to blame, they said, as smugglers were forced to switch routes through the emirates and other countries to reach their destinations in Europe.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Egypt and U.S. to hold war games

CAIRO (R) - The annual joint exercises between the Egyptian and U.S. armed forces, known as Bright Star, will take place in November, Egyptian Chief of Staff Salah Halabi said in an interview published on Sunday. This year France, Britain and the United Arab Emirates will also take part, he told the government newspaper Akhbar in an interview marking the Arab-Israeli war of 1973. The exercises were first held after Egypt and Israel signed a peace treaty in 1979 as a sign of better relations and Egypt's shift array from dependence on the Societ Union for shift away from dependence on the Soviet Union for weapons and training. They have taken place almost every year since. Lieutenant-General Halabi did not say how many troops would take part in the exercises or how long they would last.

Rock of emerald to be sold at auction

DUBAI (AFP) — An 80-kilogramme rock glittering with raw emerald is to be sold at auction in the United Arab Emirates (UAE), officials said Sunday. The auction at the Sharjah Expo Centre has been delayed until a later date to allow buyers from abroad to attend after not enough people turned up for Saturday's event, an official for the centre. Adnan Abu Hijah, said. The auction started at $50 million but was cancelled after only 12 of the 30 people who had registered turned up, he said. 'Many people called from abroad showing interest, but did not have the time to come to the United Arab Emirates.' he said. 'So the come to the United Arab Emirates, he said. So the auction was delayed to a date that will be announced later." The rock belongs to a Mauritian, Mr. Abu Hijab

Women-chasers face one year in jail

DUBAI (AFP) - Cruising in cars for women, with the usual cat-calls and whistles, has become a crime in the United Arab Emirates (UAE). "The harassment of girls in public places has become a serious problem in some parts of the country." the Khaleej Times newspaper said, quoting officials. The government has ordered vice squads to apply severe penalties on the stalker." First-time offenders will get a one-month prison term, and if the violation is repeated, penalties include one year in jail and a fine of 60,000 dirhams ($16,000), the officials said. The instrument of the crime - the car - will be impounded and expatriate women-chasers will be deported after serving their jail sentence. Many women have complained about being chased by young men in fast cars, the officials said, adding that another teasing technique was to drive slowly near the sidewalk and follow the women as they walk. And beware of acts performed inside the vehicle, officials said, warning that "those who use their cars for immoral purposes will be jailed for six months."

Kuwait jails man for killing 'witch'

KUWAIT (R) - A Kuwait court upheld a 10-year jail term against a man who killed a sister-in-law he suspected had made his wife ill by witchcraft, a newspaper said on Sunday. The man fired six bullets into the woman's head and then "rushed back to the hospital to see if the spell had left his wife, only to find that she had died," Al Qabas daily reported. The appeal court rejected defence arguments the defendant acted in line with an Islamic rule allowing killing of witches. Islam, which bans witchcraft, says a judge can order the execution of witches after a trial. Al Qabas said the man found items used by witches in the victim's house.

Oman buys Swiss anti-aircraft guns

DUBAI (R) - Oman has bought Swiss 35-millimetre anti-aircraft guns made by a unit of Oerlikon, diplomatic sources said on Sunday. The sources said the contract. which was also sought by Britain's GEC-Marconi, was signed on Oct. 3. No details of the size or value of the deal were immediately available. The official Omani News Agency on Sunday quoted Jund (soldier) Oman magazine as saying the weapons would be deployed in November then the country celebrates its 25th national day. Oman's military modernisation programme is not as extensive as those in neighbouring Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates and Kuwait and Iran across the Gulf waterway. Two French fast patrol warships last month joined the Omani navy, while delivery of 18 British Challenger Two tanks began this year.

Child

exper

 $\#(\mathcal{H}_{\mathcal{B}})_{\geq 0}$

 $ddf_{1}^{\alpha}=$

 $W_{k,k},\dots$

111

Talibans say they will allow women education

- ISLAMABAD (R) — A senior U.N. official said on Saturday that Afghanistan's Taliban Islamic movement had assured him it would allow women to be educated in areas it controls. Under-Secretary General for Humanitarian Affairs Peter Hansen told reporters in Islamabad, that the assurance was given to him on Friday when he visited the southern Afghan town of Kandahar, the headquarters of the Talibans. Earlier press reports from the area said the Talibans had banned girls from schools in the western town of Herat after it captured the area from pro-government forces last month. Mr. Hansen said his talks with the Talibans' Shura (council) included the question of ensuring that girls would be given an opportunity of education.

opposition leader - Rose Al Yousef Libya, flush with substantial oil revenues, has often

CAIRO (AP) — Libya paid $50,000 to an Egyptian opposition party - in violation of Egyptian law - to obtain political favours. Egypt's most prominent agazine said Sunday.

The weekly Rose Ai Yousef published a copy of a letter from a top Libyan official authorising the payment in 1991 to Mustafa Kamel Murad, leader of the small. opposition Liberal Party.

turn for their support of

JORDAN TIMES DAILY GUIDE AND CALENDAR

The magazine, which is government-owned but with a reputation for aggressive, investigative reporting, said the $50,000 payment was part of Colonel Moammar Qadhafi's programme to fund Egyptian opposition parties in re-

Mr. Murad declined to comment on the charges Sun-

ay. It was not clear why the weekly chose to publish the letter now, but it comes a month before parliamentary elections that President Hosni Mubarak's party has sought to make free and fair. The Liberal Party is a small group with little influence that gained some notoriety during the 1991 Gulf war when it supported Iraq. Several opposition parties have set up in Egypt in recent years, but none pose a challenge to Mubarak's ruling funded movements abroad as a way to increase its influence. Such payments have long been rumoured in neighbouring Egypt, despite a ban on political parties receiving any financing from foreign countries.

The magazine said other Egyptian opposition parties were financed by Libya, too. but declined to name them.

In his daily column Sunday in the party's daily Al Abrar newspaper, Mr. Murad de-scribed Col. Qadhafi as "the only Arab leader who stands with his head high at a time of Arab surrender."

SECRETARY WANTED

Public shareholder company located in Amman is in need of Executive Secretary with good command of English language Computer system and other office routine Please send C.V. to P.O. Box 925334 Amman 11110 Jordan

JORDAN TELEVISION Tel: 773111-19 PROGRAMME TWO

pected to last up to two months.

	I LECONOMINE I MO
	14: 0 0
	Shelley Duvall's Bedtime Stories
	14:30 Hey Day
	15:00 Survival
	16:00 I Love Lucy
	17:00
	Children's programme — Les Mondes Engloutis
	17:30
- 1
	Scrie — Les Adventuries Du Rio Verde
	19:60 News in French
- 1	10-10 ALLER TOWN IN THE TOWN
	19:15 Magazine — Minibus
	19:30 News Headlines
1	19:35 McHale's Navy .
-	20-00 C 1/31
- 1	20:00 Camp Wildest 20:30 The Bold and the Beautiful
- 1
1	21:10 Harts of the West
t	22-00 News in English
- 1	INEWS III CHENSII
ľ	22:25 Inspector Morse
- 1	23:30 American Chart Show
ŀ	23:59 Stamp of Greatness
	~~ stamp or Organics

PRAYER TIMES

04-13	Fajr
[ (D:30	(Sunnsc) Dutia
	Dhuhr Maghreb
	, 'Isha
	inaute

CHURCHES

St. Mary of Nazareth Church

. .

Swelfich., Tel. 810740

German-speaking Evangelical Con-gregation Tel. 684195 The Latter-Day Saints Tel. 654932 Church of Nazarene Tel.675691, The Evangelicai Local Church In

Tel. 811295

Bulletin supplied by the Depart-ment of Meteorology.

will prevail with temperatures around average and winds north-

St. Joseph Church Tel. 624590. Church of the Annusciation Tel. De la Salle Church Tcl. 661757 Terrasancia Church Tel: 62/2366 Church of the Annunciation Tel. 623541. Anglicas Church Tel. 652826 Armenian Catholic Church Tel. 721331

7/5261. St. Ephralm Church Tel. 771751. Anuman International Church Tel.

WEATHER

Moderate weather conditions westerly moderate, in Agaba, winds will be northerly moderate to active and seas calm.

Min/Max. temp.

of God Church, Tel.

ian Orthodox Church Tel. elical Latheran Church Tel:

NUMBERS NIGHT DUTY

CUTPINETT.
Dr. Hisham Kan'an	. 649
Dr. Nasser Ibrahim	640
Dr. Usamah Husseini	817
Dr. Issam Al Asmar	890
Firas pharmacy	. 661
rerdows pharmacy	. 778
Al Ascma pharmacy	637
Nairoukh pharmacy	673
Al Salam pharmacy	636
Yacoub pharmacy	64.4
Shmeisani pharmacy	6274
Nairoujh pharmacy	6724
Najib pharmacy	. U.J.
In bustime)	. 64/1

mad Al Qadi ... 248743 ZARQA: Khalifeh pharmacy

EMERGENCIES Food Control Centre ....... 637[1] Civil Defenæ Department 661[1] Civil Defence Department Civil Defence Immediate

..... 630341 Highway Police Traffic Police ... Harmar Police Public Security Department Hotel Complaints
Price Complaints
Water and Sewerage Complaints
Amman Municipality
Complaints 897467 787111 (directory assistance) .... Overseas Calls Central Amman Telephor

Electric Power cn Alia Intl. Airport 08-53200 HOSPITALS

Hussein Medical Centre 813813/32

Shmeisani Hospital . University Hospital 845845
Al-Muasher Hospital 667227/9
The Islamic, Abdali 666127/37 The Arab Center for Heart and (09)900560 Ibn Sina Hospital ...... (09)986732 Al Hikma Modern Hospital (09)99090 Princess Basma Hospital ... Greek Catholic Hospital Ibn Al Nafees Hospital ... (02)275555

Khalidi Maternity. J. Amn

Jabal Amman Maternity.

Malhas, J. Amman ... Palestine, Shmeisani .

Akileh Maternity, J. Amn. 642441/2

"644281/6

.... 642363

Princess Hava Hospital ...... (03)314111 FOR THE TRAVELLER QUEEN ALIA INTERNATIONAL

AIRPORT

This information is supplied by Royal Jordanian (RJ) information department at the Oueen Alia In-ternational Airport Tel. (08)53201-5, where it should always be veri-

ARRIVALS Royal Jordanian (RJ) (Terminal 1) 07:20 Senza (RJ)
..... Damascus (RJ)
..... Joddah (RJ)

New Delhi (RJ)

22:40 ...... Bangkok, Jakaria (RJ) 22:45 New York, Amsjerdam (RJ) Other Flights (Terminal 2)

18:10 ..... Casablanca, Tunis (RJ)

..... Kiev (6U) 18:45 Paris, Damascus (AF ... London (BA)

DEPARTURES Royal Jordanian (RJ) (Terminal 1)

> .... Anasterdam Chicago (RJ)
> .... Anssterdam Chicago (RJ)
> ..... Cairo (RJ)
> ..... London (RJ)
> ..... Frankfurt (RJ) Damascus (RJ)
> Bahrain, Doha (RJ)
> Dubai, Muscat (RJ) Abu Dhabi (RJ)
> ... Damascus (RJ)

Other Flights (Terminal 2) Islanbul (TK)
... Rome (AZ) Bahrain, Abu Dhabi, Muscat (GF)

HIJAZ RAILWAY

TRAIN 8:00 every Monday 5:00 p.m. every Monday

.... 200 / 130 Cucumbers (small) ...... 300 / 200 Lemon Marrow (large) .... Marrow (small) .... Muhukhia 220/ 120 330 / 230 Olives (green)
Onion (dry)
Pepper (hot) Pepper (sweet) . 900 / 7ፍስ ..... 380/280 ..... 250/ (80

nascus 7:30 a.m. every Sunday

5:00 p.m. every Sunday

700/ 500

MARKET PRICES

COOPERATION MISSION: Her Royal Highness

Princess Basma Sunday reviews with a visiting delegation from the British Overseas Development Department the programmes and activities carried out by Queen Alia Fund for Social Development (QAF).

Princess Basma said the fund aims to develop local communities and improve economic and social conditions of families in the unprivileged areas. The Princess briefed the delegation on the educational, health, and social services provided by QAF to women and children around the country. She noted the importance of the training programmes conducted by the fund to empower women to establish and run small income generating projects, thus helping to improve the economic and social conditions of their families. The delegation is here to discuss the possibility of assisting in social development in Jordan, by helping to improve social services and upgrading the performance of social workers. The meeting was attended by the British Ambassador to Jordan Peter

Hinchcliffe, the executive director of QAF and department heads (Petra photo)

BRIEF var games

Neither between the known as Bright Stat and nate Chief of staff baladed on Sunday The Saladed on Sunday The Saladed on Sunday The Saladed on Sunday Sun or the Service Union by taken place almost be Halabi and not out how the exercises in how lag.

sold at auction name took charing ag them in the United Man and a The auction at the daved until a later dater afternd after the challen even an otheral log the The anction started at Sy. ly 1. of the 30 people who ad Many people alla of chief more thanks the time to late. he said Surface that will be attrounced harmonical Mr. Aby Bur

ne year in jail

ars for women with the become a crime in the The horae sment of galer ats problem in some par Times newspaper Se at has ordered vice square the stalker bustons prison term and the sclude one year in fail in att, the otherde and fiher will be impounded will be deposed me women have complaint e technique was to day silow the women who unned mission the value se who as their cately the seemont.

ling 'witch'

prior to see if the griffing had died - Airo Face. acid determentationer († 56 danise tule file a coning for a tropic At 10 sexus the same the same trans-

aircraft guns

and O. Alkon, apostor errice and the centa anys CHC Marion w s displayed in Nasima Militaria de la Color ratha attack med Ast cross the Condocine school member board Di 8. British y half-nger be-

w women education an Estama may member in to be called eal manameral for thempians ers in Tstamer definition har the headquatered is from the area and the hoods with a systemiowa ca from propositioness

with this task, with the

I the spacetrear of cusums

pertuints a canalist

WANTED mpany located in recutive Secretary

English language her office routine C.V. to ian 11110 Jordan

MARKET PRICES

ple gana (Mak man<sup>a)</sup> plage

gatowel gatowel gatowel gatan plan gatom

ling period for the control of the c en tyre off on offset ger cheft ger their ger twee th agranute and and trains director of the (CSD).

tical training, the children met with peers who themselves are victims of different forms of abuse, and learned that not all abuse is physical, said Feryal Saleh,

She explained that the children will have an influential part in the workshop because the CSD considers their contribution important in helping to find solutions at 5:00 p.m.

to the debilitating problem of child abuse, said Ms

The children participating in the workshop coordinat-ed with the CSD and invited violence experts, to discuss the psychological and legal aspects of child abuse.

Participants in the workshop all come in contact with child abuse and violence almost on a daily They include a basis. lawyer, a police officer, a psychologist, the head of the Educational Guidance Department at the Ministry of Education, and 10 mothers from the women's committee of the CSD, said Ms

The workshop agenda will address questions raised as a result of the children's studies, such as: to what extent is the law actually enforced to stop domestic violence; how do police stations react if a child files a complaint against an abusive parent; and how can a child help an abused friend? Although tackling domes-tic violence is the first priority of the workshop, the children will also discuss other areas where violence occurs, such as in schools

WHAT'S GOING ON

EXHIBITIONS

* Arabic calligraphy by Ali 'Abbadi at Baladna Art Gallery, Gardens Street.

*A Retrospective Exhibition of Sculptures and Drawings (1965-1995) by Mona Saudi at Darat Al Funun, Jebel Weibdeh.

Sculptures by Iraqi artist Kazem Shamhoud at Orfali Art Gallery, Um Utheina.

*Painting and sculpture by Rafiq Lahham and Laith Al Turk at the Italian Language Centre Gallery, Shmeisani.

*Abstract art by the Syrian artist Mohammad Daghestani at the Phoenix Gallery.

* Selected works by the young and the established at The Gallery, Hotel InterContinental.

 Works by Lamia Abdel Sahib and Samer Qusama entitled "Aux Sources Orientales de la Fontaine," at the French Cultural Centre.

Regent tours Amman municipality, looks in on progress of projects

AMMAN (J.T.) — His Royal Highness Crown Prince Hassan, the Regent, Sunday toured districts of the Greater Amman Municipality as well as municipal projects under way in the Briefed by municipality officials throughout his visits, the Regent had called at the Amman Municipality where he met with Mayor Mamdouh Abbadi who later accompanied him to the various areas and project sites.

The first stop was at the construction site of the municipality's town hall project at Ras El Ain district. Work there started earlier this year. Prince Hassan was told that the town hall will be the meeting point between the eastern and western parts of the capital and will serve all residents. The Regent looked at blueprints of the project which include the permanent site of the municipality offices, a public library, and multi-purpose halls. Prince Hassan later visited the Yarmouk district and stopped at a development project where he told the engineers in charge to keep in mind the needs and concerns of the local citizens. The Regent also underlined the importance of close coordination between the various development projects in the country and said that all such projects must take into account the protection of the environment.

Later, Prince Hassan stopped by the old central marketplace in the Wihdat district and the new market in Sahab town. At both places he was briefed on municipality services to the merchants and farmers.

The Regent visited eastern Amman where work is under way on the construction of a sports city. While at the site, the Crown Prince received a telephone call from His Majesty King Hussein, who is on a visit to England, enquiring about progress on that project.

He also visited the Wihdat district refugee camps where he listened to residents' concerns. At a meeting with the mayor and council members, the Regent expressed satisfaction with progress of work on the

AMMAN (J.T.) — The

Public Transport Corporation (PTC) plans to borrow up to JD 700,000 from a will require at least one

His Royal Highness Crown Prince Hassan, the Regent, Sunday looks over blueprints on the construction site of the new Amman Municipality facility in the Ras El Ain district with Amman Mayor Mamdouh Abbadi and several engineers responsible for the project (photo by Boghos)

Public buses to undergo JD 700,000 refurbishment

Visiting Indonesian parliamentarians review bilateral ties with counterparts

AMMAN (Petra) — Acting Senate Speaker Zeid Rifai and Speaker of the Lower House Sa'ad Hayel Srour Sunday met with a visiting Indonesian parliamentary delegation to review bilateral relations. In a separate meeting, Mr. Rifai stressed the importance of Indonesia as the largest Islamic country, and as a leading member state of the non-aligned movement and of the Asso-

By Lola Keilani

Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN — For the first time in Jordan, boys and girls between the ages of nine and 15 will participate in a workshop entitled

"Violence against children"

The workshop, which will be held at the Centre for Social Development (CSD)

in Hay Nazal, will discuss different types of abuse and

The 35 children chosen to participate in the one-day event have been conducting their own research on the theoretical definition of abuse and violence for the past six months, and have studied the Jordanian law concerning the rights of the

Also, as part of their practheir effect on children.

with various experts.

Nations (ASEAN). Mr Rifai said he hoped that the delegation's visit will contribute positively to further enhancing parliamentary relations between both countries.

He also referred to the first meeting of the Jordanian-Indonesian Committee in 1993, saying that the second meeting will be held here early next year.

Heading the Indonesian

Children to participate alongside experts in child abuse workshop

status of bilateral relations, describing them as unique and very strong.

He also praised Jordan's support for the Palestinians in helping them regain their legitimate rights on their national soil.

Mr. Rifai conveyed the Jordanian parliament's condolences to the government and people of Indonesia who suffered the loss of many lives in Saturday's delegation is Hassan Ismail earthquakes which hit some ciation of South East Asian Mitarium who praised the parts of the Asian country.

and on the streets, said Ms.

The workshop organisers have asked a young girl who, along with her two younger brothers, has been physically abused by her father for the past six years, to present her own story to

The girl was introduced to the centre through the guidance department at the Ministry of Education, which asked the centre to help in solving the child's problem, said Ms Saleh.

The children participants in the workshop will elect a child to chair the event as well as a child to act as rap-

The children will be divided in groups according to the different schools they attend. The idea behind such a method is to inform the rest of the children on how to deal with violence,

and encourage them to talk about their problems, said about their problems to others of their own age, and because the children participating in workshop are well informed, they can help others tremendously."

"Children speak easily

the participants.

porteur.

Ms. Saleh,

local bank to refurbish its fleet of buses operating within the Amman area, according to Marwan Khitan the corporation's director general Sunday. The refurbishing process

year to complete, he said. Mr. Khitan told the Jordan Times that the corporation owns 240 buses of which 100 are idle because The repair of the buses will be carried out at PTC workshops in Tareq town near Amman, Mr. Khitan According to the corporation's estimate, the JD 700,000 loan from a local bank is less costly than purchasing new buses from a local company or from abroad, he said.

The renovation of each bus will cost nearly JD 12,000.

Mr. Khitan said that in 1993, the corporation repaired several large buses, which were later lent out to a firm that transported pilgrims to Mecca.

He said Jordan has 13 companies operating approximately 550 small buses, many of them in the Amman area, under the supervision of the PTC.

Mr. Khitan said that around 60 bus seats are vandalised by passengers daily, cost the PTC nearly JD 7 per seat or a JD 13,000

month, a consortium of consultancy firms was selected to prepare comprehensive programmes on tourism, transport, energy and telecommunications

for the development of the

The firms were also entrusted with carrying out a feasibility study on the concept of a Dead Sea-Red

Sea canal, Mr. Quteishat

The Public Transportation Corporation's workshops in town of Tareq near Amman

Criminal Court to hear 3 murder cases

Government to announce details on rift valley proposals

AMMAN (Petra) — The government will announce the details of three projects to be carried out in the Jordan Rift Valley at the upcoming Middle East and North Africa (MENA) economic conference on Oct. 29, according to Ministry of Water and Irrigation Secretary General Qusai

Quteishat Sunday. The feasibility studies on the three projects, financed through a grant from the United States, have been finalised and are ready for review by investors, Mr. Quteishat said. The three projects include the Aqaba-Eilat airport, the Aqaba seaside resort, and a telecommunications system for the Jordan Valley, he Towards the end of last valley.

The study will be funded by the Italian government at a cost of $3 million and will be completed in 18 months, according to Mr. Outeishat. Jordan will also submit a project worth $500 million for pumping water from

Disi in southern Jordan to ed in Shmeisani, according to police reports. The second case involves #### was discovered at dawn the next day, on the steps of

AMMAN — The Criminal Court will begin bearing testimony in three separate murder trials in the next few weeks, judicial sources said Sunday.

By Rana Husseini

Special to the Jordan Times

The first case involves a man who allegedly stabbed a 28-year-old woman and her six-month child to death in Shmeisani on March 27.

At the time, police had said "that there was sufficient evidence to indict him.'

The bodies of Maha M.H. and her son Samer were found in the apartment which the suspect had rent-

two men, Kamel Kamal, 22, and Iyad Qassem, 28, who are charged with stabbing death of Munif Hammad on June 19, in Sweileh.

The body of Mr. Hammad

Ali Rukabi School in Sweileh.

The victim was stabbed several times also received a blow to the head, police had said. Police suspected that Mr. Hammad was killed because of a feud. The third case involves a man charged with killing and cutting up the body of a man in his mid-20s in Salt on Aug. 14. According to police reports, the motive behind this crime was a feud over the price of a car.

Infant killed in accident

Meanwhile, an eightmonth child was accidentally run over by a vehicle driven by her uncle in Mafraq Saturday, according to police reports.

The report said that the victim, Salam Nasim, was playing in the backyard of official said.

her house when her uncle Munir T., who did not see the toddler, put his car in reverse and ran over the child.

Also on Saturday in Amman, a 24-year-old woman was listed in critical condition at Jordan University Hospital after suffering second and third degree burns, the reports said.

The victim's father, who was not identified, told police that his daughter, identified only as K.H.A., was in the kitchen frying potatoes when he heard her screaming for help, according to police.

"Apparently her clothes caught fire," police reports

Hospital officials Sunday told the Jordan Times the victim received burns to 77 per cent of her body.

"She is currently listed in critical condition but we are expecting an improvement in her condition within the next few weeks," the

Refinery study recommends expansion

study by the Jordan Petroleum Refinery Company (JPRC) has recommended that the Zarqa refinery be expanded gradually to meet growing needs over the next 15 years. •

JPRC Director General Abdul Wahab Zoubi said the study looked into the possibility of importing oil products from other countries as well as the establishment of another refinery. At present, the refin-

AMMAN (Petra) - A ery at Zarqa is the kingdom's only such facility. Mr. Zoubi said the study also recommended either laying a 20-inch diametre pipeline from Aqaba to Zarga or from Iraq to Zarga to pump necessary supplies of crude oil.

According to Mr. Zoubi. the study also recommended that another refinery be constructed at Aqaba to process crude oil and help meet the country's needs and perhaps even export quantities of refined oil from the sea port. He said a new refinery would cost up to $2.5 billion and would have a maximum production capacity of 250,000 barrels a day.

He said the expansion of the existing refinery would cost $600 million, and the oil products would be marketed in Jordan and exported to the Palestine self-rule

FILMS

"Kufr Qasim" (in Arabic) at the Phoenix Gallery, Gardens Street at 7.30pm.

"Rien du Tout" at the French Cultural Centre "Death of a Salesman," at the British Council

LECTURE

"The Common Characteristics of Arab Progressive Movements" by Abdul Ghaffar Shukur at

Abdul Hameed Shoman Foundation at 6.00pm.

Conservative MP defects to Labour in body blow to Major

LONDON (R) — A senior Mawhinney, fighting to Conservative member of contain the political damage parliament has defected to the opposition Labour Party, dealing a body blow to Prime Minister John Major on the eve of his party's annual conference.

Alan Howarth's shock move — he is the first Conservative ever to "cross the floor" of parliament to join Labour — reduced Mr. Major's already fragile majority in parliament to Attacking the party that has been in office since 1979 but is now deeply unpopular with voters, the former minister said: "There is an arrogance of power and a harshness within the government which is damaging to our democra-

"There is a kind of listthe former minister told BBC Television Sunday. Conservative from Mr. Howarth's resignation, said the decision was bizarre, eccentric and

Mr. Major, who in June fought off a right-wing challenge to his leadership after months of sniping, hoped to week's this Conservative conference to stage a political fightback in the run-up to the next election, due by mid-1997. But Mr. Howarth's defection has given valuable ammunition to Labour, already in buoyant mood after its own annual conference resoundingly backed centrist leader Tony Blair.

Mr. Howarth, who had a safe seat in William Shakespeare's birthplace town of Stratford-Upon-Avon, switched sides after secret talks with the modernist Blair, whose own party has abandoned much of its socialist dogma.

John Prescott, welcoming Mr. Howarth into the party. said: "This is a further blow to John Major and his divided and despised party."

Conservatives stunned after Mr. Howarth announced his resignation Saturday night. The timing could not have been worse, severely bruising morale on the eve of the party conference in the holiday resort of Blackpool.

Conservatives already trail Labour by more than 20 percentage points in opinion polls. Voters are angered by policy U-turns, party in-fighting over Britain's role in the European Union, allegations of sleaze and a string of sexual and financial scandals. Conservative grandee for

Some people were getting rich too quickly, Mr. Jiang

National income distribution was inclined toward the individual and the share of the state was too small, he said, adding that the income

gap between rich and poor

He ruled out the possibility of allowing lumbering

state enterprises to declare

"Only by ensuring the polarisation and dominant position of the public sector can we pre-achieve common prosperity. Mr. Jiang said.

"Any move to shake or give up the dominant position of the public sector will deviate from the direction

Mr. Jiang said giving full play to the role of market mechanism and strengthening macro-control were both fundamental demands for the establishment of a socialist market economic

"None of them can be dispensed with. On no account should they be separated or even antagonised. To stress

only one side to the neglect of the other will be detrimental to the great cause of bankruptcy en masse.

was too big.

veni

of socialism."

system.

out

Lord Howe, whose bitter attack on Mr. Major's predecessor Margaret Thatcher led to her downfall, even hinted that time had finally

"We live in a democracy.

Even the Conservatives don't have the secret of eternal life. Power must change from time to time," he warned last week.

Conservatives hoping to attack Mr. Blair for making spendthrift promises in his conference speech were given little ammunition.

Everything Mr. Blair promised — smaller class sizes, cable links for schools - would either be funded by cuts elsewhere or provided free by grateful companies who have been cosying up to Labour as it looks increasingly like a government in waiting.

Hailing the speech as an election turning point, the Economist magazine concluded: "His speech and this conference could be seen in retrospect as the decisive moment. Even the Tories, who never yield easily, may be forgiven a shiver."

China's Jiang tries to eclipse Mao how good it is."

Deputy Labour leader run

BEUING (R) — In a major policy statement inspired by Chairman Mao Tsetting, China's President Jiang Zemin has told provincial leaders not to defy Beijing and said stability is fundamental to Communist Party

In his 10,000-word speech issued by Xinhua News Agency Sunday, Mr. Jiang announced what he called 12 major relationships that China must tackle, apparently trying to eclipse Mao whose "10 major relationships" address of 1956 was among the most important of his career.

--Addressing the closing of the fifth plenum of the 14th Communist Party Central Committee on Sept. 28, Mr. Jiang said many new problems had cropped up between the central and local governments.

departments had paid undue attention to their own interests, failed to implement central government principles and policies and went so far as to disobey orders and defy prohibitions, Mr. Jiang said.

"We will not allow the existence of neither local interests nor departmental interests that jeopardise the interests of the country as a defying it, for example by arbitrarily raising prices and easing credit, moves the central government says jeopardise its attempts to rein in inflation.

The toppling of Beijing Communist Party boss Chen Xitong last month was seen by some political analysts as a coup for Jiang and a warning to defiant local power brokers.

To accomplish the targets and strategic tasks over the next years, China must seize opportunities, deepen reforms, open up wider to the outside world and promote development and -maintain - stability, - Jiang

"Practice has shown that ... by handling properly the relationship between the reform, development and stability, we will be able to grasp the overall situation nomic and social development. Otherwise, we will suffer and pay for it," he

He said China was now in a period of economic transition. With "drastic changes" taking place, it was of great and immediate significance to maintain stability, he

"Without a stable political and social environment, nothing can be done and it Beijing has repeatedly will be difficult to accom-

Pakistan wants U.S. mediation on Kashmir

ISLAMABAD. Pakistan (AP) — The United States should play an aggressive role in finding a peaceful solution to the worsening Indo-Pakistan dispute over the Himalayan state of Kashmir, a senior official said Sunday.

"It is not just an India and Pakistan dispute," Foreign Minister Sardar Aseff Ali told reporters in the pakistanii capital. "It is the principal issue in South Asia which threatens to destabilise the region."

During his recent trip to the United States to attend the opening sessions of the United Nations General Assembly, Mr. Aseff Ali called on U.S. Defense Secretary William Perry to urge the Clinton administration to mediate talks between India Pakistan.

"Now the ball is in the court of the U.S. to pressure India to come to the negotiating table," Mr. Aseff Ali said.

India and Pakistan have been at odds over the Kashmir region since the territory was divided between the two countries at the end of British rule in 1947.

Despite repeated efforts and offers from the United Nations for mediation, neither India nor Pakistan has been able to agree to meet to discuss the growing rift over Kashmir.

Pakistan believes the Kashmir issue ought to be kept separate from other bilateral topics. India, on the other hand, maintains it must be taken as only one part of overall relations between the two countries. The dispute has triggered two of three Indo-Pakistan wars in less than five decades. One study commissioned by the U.S. senate declared Kashmir one of the most destabilising factors in South Asia, where both Pakistan and India are suspected to have the capacity to build nuclear weapons. Mr. Aseff Ali Sunday ruled out the possibility of direct bilateral talks with India even through regional organisations, including the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation. Since the end of the cold war, U.S. relations have improved dramatically with India - once the former Soviet Union's largest trading partner outside of the Communist Bloc. Washington's influence with India, along with its rebounding ties with Pakistan, could offer the United States a solid position as an honest broker between the two countries, Mr. Aseff Ali said.

But more than 200 gay and lesbian demonstrators. kept at a distance outside by riot police, shouted "stop AIDS, stop the homophobia, stop the Pope."

NEW YORK (R) — Pope

John Paul enjoyed a popstar's reception from

125,000 New Yorkers

Saturday and filled a city

cathedral with adoring protests of his U.S. tour.

experience.

Police ripped down a three-storey high banner declaring "condoms save lives" that AIDS activists unfurled from the roof of the Saks Department Store opposite St. Patrick's.

Six demonstrators were arrested over the banner and four others during a separate protest march. In the march, actress

Olympia Dukakis and feminist leader Gloria Steinem led several hundred women demanding the church end its bans against abortion and women priests. "We are not here against Franciscan friars of the Immaculate Church from New Bradford, Massachusetts, pray with Pope John Paul II during a mass in New York (AFP photo)

the Pope. The Pope is against us," Ms. Steinem said. "We're to encourage women not to lose hope just because the Pope is in town and there's such a production about it," said Dukakis. But the adulation far outweighed the protests, despite the unpopularity of policies here. Many famous Americans took the chance to be at the Pope's side.

the Pope's conservative

Rightwing television Evangelist Pat Robertson was a surprise guest at the Pope's huge mass for 125,000 people in Central Park, sitting on a podium of religious leaders at the side of the altar.

Mr. Robertson later attended a meeting between the Pope and more than 30 Christian and Muslim lead-

Pope prays as AIDS activists protest

Veteran comedian Bob Hope, and New York's top political leaders including Mayor Rudolph Giuliani were in St. Patrick's where the Pope recited the rosary. The Pope got a rapturous welcome when he transformed Central Park into a huge outdoor cathedral. He told a whooping, cheering crowd America was a brave nation. "Do not be afraid always to search for God, then you will truly be the land of the free and home of the brave." The crowd in the park, green heart of New York.

listened intently to his message of compassion for AIDS sufferers, the poor and the homeless. The Pope also pressed his crusade against abortion, a burning issue in America, urging Catholics to work against it, and condemned pomography and so-called

Fergie still out of favour with royals --- paper

LONDON — Britain's Oueen Elizabeth will keep the Duchess of York from the limelight if she reunites with her estranged husband Prince Andrew, according to the Mail On Sunday newspaper. Britain's press have reported the couple, who separated in 1992, are in love again and ready to make a new start. But Queen Elizabeth is adamant the duchess will not be allowed to resume royal duties, the Mail said. "It has become clear that the queen has no intention of rescinding the strict conditions imposed on the duchess when the marriage broke down," the newspaper said.

Madonna to play title role in Evita

LONDON (AFP) -Singer-actress Madonna will play the title role in a film adaptation of the musical Evita about the fiery wife of former Argentine leader Juan Domingo Peron, the film's announced. producers Filming under the direction of British film-maker Alan Parker is scheduled to begin Jan. 18 and last 14 weeks. The film will be shot in Europe and South America, they said. Madonna will play alongside Jonathan Pryce, in the role of Juan Domingo Peron, and Antonio Banderas in the adaption of the musical written by Andrew Lloyd Webber and Tim Rice:

Michael Bolton is available

WASHINGTON (AFP) -Fluttering female hearts be still. American pop singer Michael Bolton is available, having called off a romance with actress Nicolette Sheridan. "I think it's safe to say there is still a lot between us. It's not going to disappear," Bolton said in an interview with USA Today. "Raw is a good way to put it ... Time will tell," the long-haired singer with the soulful voice said.

lette.

9.0

M50.

Patients:

Ur .

Π<sub>CM</sub> .r<sub>.d.</sub> . .

January V.

then in the $r_{\rm deep},$ n., n

 $I_{\rm B}(E_{\rm BG,Y})$

 $h_{\mathcal{M},n_{1}}$

 $p_{\rm tem}$

ton ...

le pro-

Shops of a

 $\mathfrak{h}_{(T_1,\dots,T_n)}$

 $I_{\text{toricy}(\hat{Y}_{A,k})}$

 $W_{-1, \ldots}$

 $th_{\theta, \tau_{\theta, \theta}}$

M<sub>err</sub>, t<sub>n n +</sub>

Gore

and Street

 $A_{M_{\mathrm{trans}}} =$

 $A^{\mathrm{ads}} = I^{\pm}$

 $\Phi^{x,y,x,i}$

M<sub>i</sub>

 $V_{\text{http}}$

Retu.

 $n_{n_{i_0}, i_0}$  : . ,

 $\mathcal{M}_{\mathcal{V}_{\mathcal{A}}}(\mathcal{H}^{\mathcal{A}}(\mathcal{H}^{\mathcal{A}(\mathcal{H}^{\mathcal{A}}(\mathcal{H}^{\mathcal{$

 $w_{\mathbf{t}_{\mathbf{0}}|_{\mathbf{r}_{\mathbf{i}_{\mathbf{1}}}^{\mathbf{1}}(\mathbf{I}_{\mathbf{0}})}}$

economic de la companya de la compan

 $e^{i \epsilon i \sqrt{(\mu^{\mu} \cdot e^{i \tau})}}$

 $C^{(d_0,r_0^q)} = \mathcal{A}$

lo de dig

 $t_{T_{\ell},k_{T_{\ell},r_{1}}^{\ell}}$ repetition.

there is a

 $\eta_{t,u} = 0.55$

Leave ...

 $A_{\alpha}$

Julio's bad side

SAN ANTONIO (AP) -Julio Iglesias has a bad side. As the crooner greeted several hundred fans Friday at a circuit city store, he pleaded with photographers to shoot only his right side."Please no. that's my bad side," he said to one uncooperative photographer who snapped from the left. The 53-yearold was in San Antonio for a concert to promote his new all-Spanish CD "La Carretera."

Boy George takes it like a man

DALLAS (AP) - Boy George took it like a man. The British singer ordered autobiography. Take It Like A Man

Fresh tremors cause panic in quake-hit Indonesian island SUNGAI PENUH, Indo- Diair village, eight kilome- in Kerinci district, told caused panic Sunday at the scene of a devastating earthquake on Indonesia's Sumatra Island which killed at least 78 people 24 hours earlier, officials said.

A 41-member medical team, including five specialists, was flown from Jakarta to the remote mountain region around the northwest Sumatran town of Sungai Penuh Sunday morning to treat the more than 2,000 injured. Officials said several tonnes of rice and large quantities of quick-cooking noodles had been transported to the quake-hit areas, where residents slept overnight in tents pitched outside what was left of their homes in fear of further tremors.

Most expected to spend a second night under the open

"The residents were afraid to sleep in their houses because they were afraid there might be more earthquakes and might be crushed," local government official Fuad Yusuf told Reuters.

He said two army helicopters were being used in rescue operations while another two were on stand-

Mr. Fuad said 100 rescuers had been despatched to the area. Irsal Nurdin, 35, of Koto rres from Sun said its 475 residents feared for their lives when aftershocks rattled the area Sunday morning.

"This morning we panicked because of fresh tremors that lasted two or three seconds. The tremors were not severe but we were really scared," he told Reuters by telephone. "The supply of electricity and water has still not been restored. Local authorities are distributing food, but I am sure we will need more supplies," he said. Authorities said the death toll from the earthquake, measuring 7.0 on the openended Richter Scale, was 74 but one Jakarta newspaper quoted unidentified sources as saying 143 had died. The quake flattened more than 10.000 buildings in villages around Sungai Penuh, a hill town 750 kilometres northwest of Jakarta. when it struck at 1:10 a.m. (1810 GMT Friday). The tremor's epicentre was on land 16 kilometres southeast Sungai Penuh which has a population of more than 40,000 people. Many of the injured spent Saturday night outside in the cold fearing more tremors. "We are not brave enough to enter our houses as there is news there may be aftershocks," Salmi, a resident Antara. Fires dotted the area around Sungai Penuh as survivors tried to stay warm during the night. Antara said fear swept through the area around Sungai Penuh after rumours the dormant volcano Mount Kerinci was erupting and spewing lava. Authorities were swift to quash the reports. Officials said casualties were likely to rise because the quake had triggered landslides on the slopes of Sumatra's mountain backbone.

Antara said records showed Kerinci had been hit by large quakes in 1903 and 1943 and geologists believed a 50-year cycle was at work in the region. Residents said the quake and several aftershocks swept the area, toppling buildings and sending panic through the sleeping town and nearby villages. Nine-month pregnant Nisawati managed to escape with her eight-yearold son through a window of her collapsed house when the quake struck. "It was terrifying," she said. Truckloads of military rescue teams began 10 arrive from the nearest major town, Jambi, 24 hours after the quake struck from Pulau Sangkar village and began distributing food.

engined plane crashed on

Dec. 4, 1980, near the vil-

The crash came at a time

Sa Carneiro's body unearthed in search of sabotage evidence

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Investigators Saturday exhumed the body of late Prime Minister Francisco Sa Carneiro in search of evidence that the 1980 plane crash that killed him was caused by sabotage.

The body of the charismatic leader of the centerright Social Democratic crash. Party was unearthed at Lisbon's Paco De Lumiar Cemetery in the presence of a judge and removed under police guard, cemetery official Manuel Rodrigues said.

Forensic experts at Lisbon's Pathology Institute were to search for traces of lage of Camarate just after metals indicating the take off from Lisbon Cessna light aircraft carrying Mr. Sa Cameiro to northern Oporto might have been brought down by a bomb and not by technical failure as was ruled after the

Mr. Swedish companion Snu killed when their twin- a bomb.

of political turmoil five years after left-wing army captains overthrew a 48-Sa Carneiro's the crash was an accident, year dictatorship. Initial investigations ruled Later reports pointed to Abecassis, his defence negligence. Only recently Minister Adelino Amaro Da has evidence emerged Costa and five others were pointing to the possibility of Airport.

3 ounces of wheatgrass juice and a tall glass of carrot-celery juice for breakfast Thursday at the Bluebonnet Cafe. Sounds healthy, all right, but most connoisseurs can only down about an ounce of wheatgrass juice at a single go. Just a gulp of the grassy-tasting drink known for its cleansing and detoxifying powers - can make first-timers dizzy and nauseous. The singer was in town to promote his new

reform and economic develrailed at local officials for plish any plan no matter opment," he said.

TAIPEI (AFP) --- President Lee Teng-Hui Sunday said the holding of a military review here instead of a live exercise ahead of Taiwan's National Day this week did not indicate that the island was afraid of China.

"If a war was waged, (our) firing power would be mighty. I can assure you that ... our combat ability is very strong." Mr. Lee said on state-funded TV from the southern city of Kaohsiung. Mr. Lee was referring to the Hua Hsing exercise which were held Thursday in place of the usual live exercise ahead of the Nationalist island's 46th National Day — double-10, or Oct. 10 — Tuesday. Members of parliament last week lashed out at authorities here for toning down the drill.

Local press said the Hua Hsing (Chinese Glory) Operation on Oct. 5 at the southern naval base of Tsoying was originally intended to be a large-scale drill with live ammunition.

In addition to the toneddown drill, celebrations on the anniversary itself will also be relatively low-key, eschewing the traditional massive military parade in a bid to stabilise relations with China, analysts here said.

"In considering the reality, authorities here do not want to further provoke mainland China by holding a more ostentatious parade boasting its military might," Hu Fu, professor of political science at National Taiwan University, said.

He added that this was also why the recent "Hua Hsing" exercise had been switched from a live drill to a mere military review.

Moses Pitakgka, the governor-general of the Solomon Islands will be the sole foreign state leader at the Oct. 10 National Day rally here. Although 250,000 representatives from various civic and government sectors have been invited to take part in the rally and other celebration activities, only some 1,000 are from abroad. Political analysts here say a more restrained and local celebration is necessary in the face of deteriorating relations between Taiwan and its long-time political rival China. Relations between the two sides, never cordial, have further soured since Taiwanese President Lee Teng-Hui visited the United States in June. Beijing, which has viewed Taiwan as a renegade province since the end of the Chinese Civil War in 1949, interpreted the trip as an attempt to promote international recognition for Taiwanese independence. China conducted two suspended high-level, semiofficial talks with Taipei in apparent retaliation. Beijing has vowed to ed Taipei to admit Beijing seize the island by force in 1971.

rounds of missile tests off

the north coast of Taiwan in late July and August and Taiwan to mark low-key National Day should it ever declare independence. The Foreign Ministry here has refuted local press reports that the current tension between Taiwan and China is the reason for the absence of foreign heads of state at Tuesday's National Day celebration rally.

"Our self-confidence is not built on the presence of foreign state leaders," Foreign Ministry spokesman Rock Leng said last week.

Western diplomats here point out that, for the time being, Taiwan needs no further international promotion following Mr. Lee's landmark visit to the United States which cut official relations with the island in 1979.

"That visit, which infuriated China, was indeed a diplomatic breakthrough for Taipei in its relations with Washington, regardless of the consequence," a foreign envoy here told AFP. The trip and its result have drawn international attention to Taiwan's status and provided countries which are friendly to Taiwan a more solid cause to promote Taiwan's membership bid in the United Nations," the diplomat said. At the ongoing General Assembly meeting of the United Nations in New York, more than 14 countries have supported the island's bid to rejoin the United Nations which oust-

Jucen Elizabeth will ken ie Duchess of York fig. ie limelight if she reunig oth her estranged husbage Tince Andrew according the Mail On Sunda ewspaper Britain's pier ave reported the couple the separated in 1992 at a love again and ready take a new start Be bucen Elizabeth damant the duches will of be allowed to testing wal duties, the Mail sad It has become clear the ie queen has no intention

Madonna to play title role in Evita

f rescinding the strict 006 itions imposed on the achess when the mamage

soke down," the news

टा प्यातं.

ONDON (AFP) inger-actress Madone ill play the title role in Im adaptation of it msical Evita about the cry wife of tome rgentine leader ha omingo Peron, the file. roducers announce; ilming under the direction f British film-maker 4lg asker is scheduled i egin Jan 18 and lasti. ceks. The film will is not in Europe and Sour merica, they are fadouna will play dogs ide Jonathan Price in the ele of Julia Dominge eron, and anderas in the adiptone ac musical wroten S indrew Hoyd Wither and im Rice

Michael Bolton is available

(ASHINGTON (AFF)) intering tomale hears? ill. American pop such tichael fishen is an ale, having called oil. minned with actoreolette Shendar ank it's safe to say that still a for between as fiat going to disappear olton said in an intervenith USA Testay "Kawasod way to put it. Time ill tell. the long-hand ager with the soulfo ace said

Julio's bad side

AN ANTONIO (AP) the lifestic has a bad de As the crooner greek I several hundred talk aday at a circuit city ere, he pleaded with pho graphers to shoot only 5 right side Please 90. at's my bad side," he sud one ancooberance the grapher who snapped om the left The 53-year d was in San Antonio for concert to promote his w all-Spanish CD 13

30y George takes it like a man

metera.

 $_{\rm ALLAS}$   $_{\rm CAP}$   $\sim$   $^{\rm Bo}$ gorge took a like a mail ie Bruish singer ordered ounce, of wheaters, ice and a fall plass of curfeeders lake for break. a Chursday at the nepennet Cale Sounds atthy, all right, but most anorseus can only wit about an outer of waterass mice at a single Just a gulp of the assy-tasting drink own for its cleansing and toxifying powers — call ske first-fillers dizzy and useous. The singer was town to promote his new toprodulity. Lake It

ke A Man

World News

SHUTTLE DELAYED AGAIN: Space shuttle Colombia Commander Kenneth Bowersox (right) and Kathryn Thornton (left) lead crewmates (rear left to right) Kent Rominger, Catherine Coleman, Michael Lopez-Alergia, Fred Leslie and Albert Sacco from the Operation and Checkout Building on their way to launch pad 39-B. The Colombia flight was postponed for the fourth time (AFP photo)

Dhaka opposition leader warns of fierce campaign

DHAKA (R) — Opposition leader Sheikh Hasina told Bangladeshis Sunday to prepare for a stormy campaign to force the government from power as a 32hour strike virtually crippled Dhaka and four other major cities for the second Vehicles poured back on the rain-drenched streets of Dhaka, the capital of nine million people, after the strike ended at 2 p.m. (0800 GMT), witnesses said.

· · They said thousands of police and paramilitary sel-i diers wrapped in raincoars folded their guns and left. for their barracks.

The people have already expressed their no confidence in the illegal, corrupt Rajshahi, the other major began their push to topple and autocratic regime of Prime Minister Begum Khaleda Zia," Mrs. Hasina said in a statement.

"The latest strike proved it more clearly...It was comshaky ruling coalition, battered by the justice minister's alleged deal with the unity Sunday ahead of a parliamentary debates on the budget and tighter con-

The move followed a newspaper report that

Justice Minister Tomoharu

Tazawa struck a backroom deal with the main opposition party to drop embarrassing questions in parliament over his loan from a

In exchange, Mr. Tazawa

promised to oppose a controversial government bill to tighten control over religious organisations, legislation vehemently opposed by the Shinshinto (New Frontier Party), the Yomiuri

Mr. Tazawa, who denied

the report, would step down

Monday due to pressure from his colleagues in the newspaper alleged Friday.

lay Buddhist organisation.

trols on religious groups.

plete and peaceful. People responded to the strike spontaneously," she said.

"Now I urge all of you to make the upcoming 96-hour national strike, due to begin on Oct. 16, a bigger success so that Khaleda Zia would be compelled to accept our demand for elections under fering. a neutral caretaker adminis-

"We want to ensure people's right to vote freely and without fear. To achieve that goal, we will not hesitate to pursue a stormy and more fierce campaign."-she said-without giving more details.

The stoppage began at 6 a.m. (0000 GMT) Saturday in Dhaka, Chittagong, Khulna, Sylhet and Barisal. city in the north, was Mrs. Khaleda early last exempted from the strike because of serious floods in the area which have killed scores of people and made millions homeless.

TOKYO (R) — Japan's Liberal Democratic Party Tazawa's alleged secret deal

(LDP), the biggest partner

in Prime Minister Tomiichi

Murayama's three-way

Hiroshi Miyazawa, the brother of former Prime Minister Kiichi Miyazawa.

was expected to replace Mr.

Mr. Murayama would not stop Mr. Tazawa from handing in his resignation, top government spokesman

Koken Nosaka said

"I feel very unhappy with

Hikam

what he did," senior LDP

Matsunaga said on an NHK

public television talk show

under attack from Mr.

Murayama's socialists. "It is natural that he should resign," Socialist legislator

Tomio Sakagami told the Coalition officials were particularly furious over Mr.

Mr. Tazawa also came

Tazawa, they said.

Saturday.

lawmaker

Sunday.

opposition, scrambled for coalition, news reports said.

witnesses said. Government leaders accused the opposition of "pursuing their selfish goals" at Sunday, like Saturday, is a working day in Bangladesh,

but most offices, schools

and businesses were closed,

the expense of people's suf-"The strike has hampered movement of relief goods from Dhaka to the flooded districts. This is very inhuman," said Abdul Mannan Bhuiyan, acting secretarygeneral of the ruling. Bangladesh Nationalist Party.

Police described the strike Sunday as one of the "most peaceful and unintimidating" since the opposition

They said several homemade bombs exploded in Dhaka around the end of the strike but no one was hurt.

to take sides with

Shinshinto over the revision of the religious organisation

What Tazawa did is troublesome when we are about to start a parliamentary debate on the revision of the religious institution act,'

the LDP's Matsunaga said.

Socialist Sakagami said Mr.

Murayama should sack the justice minister to secure

Apart from a five trillion

yen ($50 billion) supple-

Murayama pledged to press

for the revision of the 44-

year-old religious law during the current special par-hamentary session due to

The government moved to draft a bill designed to put tighter controls on the nation's more than 200,000 religious groups soon after the nerve gas attack on

Tokyo subways killed 11

unity in the government.

mentary budget,

end on Nov. 13.

Japan minister set to quit, coalition seeks unity

types...meant for celebration of what the opposition considered their victory in strike," one officer said. "Police did not have to use

"These were all firecracker-force against anyone," he told Reuters. Chittagong, the country's main port, was closed but activities in the other port of Chalna were normal, port officials said. The opposition wants Mrs.

Khaleda, elected in 1991 in what were billed as Bangladesh's first free polls, to step down immediately and allow elections supervised by a neutral caretaker administration.

They say elections with Mrs. Khaleda in power i not be She has refused to step

The next general election is not due till March, 1996.

and made about 5,000 pas-

Shinshinto, backed largely by members of major

Buddhist lay group Soka

Gakkai, has vowed to block

the bill to revise the reli-

"Mindful of possible general elections, we will deal with the issue," senior

Shinshinto official Kazuo

Aichi said during Sunday's

Mr. Murayama must call

A head-on clash between the coalition and the opposition over the religious law could plunge domestic politics into a fresh turmoil and delay the long-awaited bud-biggest ever submitted in Japan's parliament, forms part of a 14.2 trillion-yen

($142 billion) package of economic measures unveiled last month.

The extra budget, the elections by mid-1997.

gious organisation law.

talk show.

But the opposition

sengers ill on March 20.

Yeltsin sacks top prosecutor

MOSCOW (R) -- President Boris Yeltsin sacked Russia's acting Prosecutor-General Alexei Ilyushenko Sunday after accusations that he was cracking down too hard on the Kremlin leader's critics.

Mr. Yeltsin signed decrees relieving Mr. Ilyushenko of his duties at the top of Russia's judicial system and replacing him temporarily with a deputy, Oleg Gaidanov, Mr. Yeltsin's press office said.

The president considers this a civil act which reflects the moral spirit and sense of political responsibility in the state administration," Mr. Yeltsin's spokesman Sergei Medvedev said on Russian television.

Mr. Medvedev said Mr.

Ilyushenko had presented Mr. Yeltsin with a letter of resignation which the president accepted.

The decision was likely to be seen as a move to get rid of a supporter with a tarnished reputation ahead of elections in December.

> Mr. Ilyushenko won a reputation for being too keen to defend Mr. Yeltsin after starting a series of cases against his critics. He opened legal proceedings against the independent television channel NTV for interviewing Chechen guer-rilla Shamil Basayev, NTV has been at odds with government information services over its frank coverage of the war with rebel Chechens.

He also opened proceedings against the makers of pet show Kukly, a Russian version of Britain's Spitting Image satire, saying its mocking depiction of Russia's political bosses was insulting, Mr. Yeltsin said September that time was running out for the prosecutor, after another embarrassing report in the Russian linked media Hyushenko's wife to underworld business.

"Of course Mr. Ilyushenko denies everything...but after all these blemishes, I will hardly recommend him again as prosecutor-general," Mr. Yeltsin told a news conference then.

Mr. Yeltsin appointed Mr. Ilyushenko in February 1994 but a hostile parliament twice refused to confirm him. He was due to present a permanent candidate for the post soon, but it had become clear Mr. Ilvushenko would not be it. Mr. Ilyushenko's temporary replacement, Gaidanov, 50, was one of seven deputy prosecutors and was in charge of criminal investigations, the Saturday. Mr. Medvedev stressed that Mr. Gaidanov's appointment was temporary and that Mr. Yeltsin would present a new candidate soon, Interfax News

Rossiiskiye Vesti daily said

Agency said. Mr. Yeltsin's top aide Georgy Satarov told Ekho Moskvy radio the president would probably choose a candidate from outside Moscow for the post.

Grachev: Chechenya talks should be suspended

GENEVA (R) - Russian Defence Minister Pavel Grachev has said he thought the fragile Chechenya peace process should be suspended after a bomb attack which seriously wounded Russia's military commander in the breakaway region. Arriving in Geneva for talks Sunday with U.S. Defence Secretary William Perry, Gen. Grachev told Russian reporters: "It was the second explosion, a deliberate crime. I personally would interrupt talks."

Three servicemen were killed and 15 other people were injured when a bomb detonated by remote control blew up as a motorcade carrying Lieutenant-General Anatoly Romanov went through an underpass in the centre of Chechenya's capital, Grozny, Friday.

Gen. Romanov, who was said to have suffered wounds to his head, legs and abdomen, was flown back to Moscow for treatment Saturday. It was the second assassination attempt against a senior figure Russian

Gen. Grachev, known as a hardliner over the Chechen question, said President Boris Yeltsin and his government were working out their next steps in the crisis. A senior Russian official in Grozny said a state of emergency might be declared. Gen. Grachev said: "We can't make peace with these people. I've warned before that the number of Chechen fighters is increasing. They have the technical ability and the weapons, tanks and armoured personnel carriers. Bandits should be eliminated."

President Yeltsin was considering imposing a state of emergency on Grozny after his military commander there was badly injured.

Mr. Yeltsin's spokesman told TASS the president was weighing a government call for a state of emergency in in Chechenya in two weeks. Grozny following Friday's bombing, which came dur-ing a delicate stage in peace neogtiations with the Chechen rebels.

Spokesman Sergei Medvedev said Mr. Yeltsin saw grounds for such a measure but he added: "It is necessary to consider all the consequences which could follow declaring a state of emergency."

A curfew is still in force in Grozny and it was not clear what extra measures a state emergency would involve.

Mr. Yeltsin's spokesman said Friday that Moscow would bonour deals with the rebels "despite provocation and terrorist acts.

A spokesman for the Russian command Chechenya, quoted bv TASS, said terrorist acts had increased, with 34 civilians killed in September alone, since a ceasefire was declared.

Shots fired from a grenade launcher slightly damaged the Grozny building of the Organisation for Security and Cooperation in Europe (OSCE), which has been mediating in peace talks, at midday Saturday, TASS said. No one was injured.

TASS also said a Chechen field commander was killed when a house he was staying in west of Grozny was attacked with flame throwers and granade launchers. The report did not sav whether the attackers were Russians or Chechens.

U.S. administration is making 'big noise' who is former president of

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Cuba's Socialist rulers have found some common ground with conservatives in Washington: they don't think much of President Bill linton's moves to increase U.S.-Cuban contacts.

A top Cuban leader Friday night denounced Mr. Clinton's proposals as "a senseless publicity show" and an attempt to undermine Fidel Castro's Socialist system. After all, Mr. Clinton himself said that was the idea.

"They have made a big noise over something that is absolutely nothing," said Ricardo Alarcon, the president of Cuba's parliament and the country's top expert on the United States.

Republicans in Washington denounced the proposals as well, but from a different angle. Senate majority leader Bob Dole said the initiative is evidence of administration weakness toward Cuba.

Sen. Phil Gramm, a Texan who like Sen. Dole is running for the Republican presidential nomination, accused Mr. Clinton of 'putting out the welcome mat to Castro instead of tightening the noose around his aging neck." Mr. Clinton announced Friday he was ending a ban on U.S. news organisations operating from Cuba and said the government would ease restrictions on travel to Cuba by academic, religious and human rights workers. He said the moves would "encourage its peaceful transition to a free and open society" and he vowed to tighten enforcement of the 33-year-old U.S. embargo of the island "to keep the pressure on."

Mr. Clinton also announced a $500,000 grant to freedom house, a U.S.based group, for work with non-governmental organisations in Cuba to "promote peaceful change and protect human rights."

Mr. Alarcon said the plan seemed to do little more than allow emergency visits for Cuban exiles who want to visit ill or dying family members on the island. "The rest is to financially aid and train so-called human rights groups with subversive ends to undermine the revolution from within," he said.

Economist Carmen Diana

Deere, a specialist on Cuba

the Latin American Studies Association, said Clinton ernmental groups in Cuba officials should have expected a negative Cuban reaction. The way they presented it, the whole tone is going to be so objectionable to the Cubans that they can only react by becoming more paranoid," she said. In recent months, Castro has begun to warn against U.S. attempts to use increased contacts by academics, journalists and others to undermine the Socialist government.

He said in July that backers of the limited opening want to destroy us from within."

"These people want to exert their influence through broad exchanges with diverse sectors that they consider vulnerable, to grant doubtful scholarships and to dazzle us with their billion-dollar institutions, their technology and their social research centres," he said.

worry even some in the Clinton administration.

Richard Nuccio, White House adviser on Cuban affairs, expressed concern at

That reaction has begun to a seminar last week that U.S. support for non-govcould make them be seen as "as a possible enemy ... of the Cuban government."

He said it "would be a tragedy for Cuba" if that led Mr. Castro's government to crack down on the private sector, which has grown on Cuba since 1989 as a financial crisis has forced the government to permit small businesses and independent organisations.

Mr. Alarcon did not flatly reject the idea of letting U.S. news organisation open offices in Cuba, saying the organisations would have to discuss that with the Cuban government.

In the past, Cubans have demanded that the United States end a ban on Cuban news operations in the United States and halt the anti-Castro broadcasts of Radio and Television Marti. which are funded by the U.S. government.

Administration officials said Friday that they would let Cuban news media operate in the United States, but only after Cuba had opened its doors to U.S. news organisations.

Gore, Chernomyrdin hold talks at Maine Airport

BANGOR, Maine (R) — U.S. Vice President Al Gore and Russian Prime Minister Viktor Chernomyrdin called their private meeting at a Maine Airport Saturday "productive" but declined to give details on what was discussed.

Mr. Gore and Mr. Chemomyrdin told reporters in an impromptu news conference that the two hours of talks covered a broad range of bilateral concerns, including Bosnia, but focused mostly on issues of economic cooperation. "It was a very productive very useful dialogue," Mr. Gore said, "We're not going to devulge any of the details of it because this was a discussion about nuts and bolts is designed to increase in a business-like, commonsense way."

President Bill Clinton and Russian President Boris Yeltsin had requested their number two men meet, and Mr. Gore said Saturday's talks dealt with issues that needed "practical, commonsense attention" prior to the presidents' own meeting later this month in New York. An aide to Mr. Gore said prior to Saturday's meeting that it was an opportunity to "monitor" the progress of the U.S.-Russian joint commission on economic and technological cooperation, which the two men co-chair. The commission created by Mr. Clinton and Mr. Yeltsin countries in space and energy development. The leaders dismissed reporters' suggestions that it was odd for them to be talking about economic development while the two counties remained at odds on several diplomatic issues such as Bosnia.

"Frankly its hard for me to say that improvements in the life of an average working family in either one of our countries is not important," Mr. Gore said. Saturday's session marked the second Gore-Chernomyrdin meeting in less than four months. Their last meeting was a high-profile conference in Moscow that included the signing of a cooperation between the $15 billion deal to develop oil and gas fields in Russia's far eastern island of Sakhalin.

The vice president and prime minister are expected to meet again in Moscow early next year. Aides said Saturday's meeting was held in Bangor, a small city in northern Maine, largely to accommodate Mr. Chernomyrdin's schedule.

The prime minister Friday completed a three-day official visit to Canada Bangor's airport was also convenient because it is a major refuelling facility for planes headed to Europe.

Police chief urges officers to get over Simpson case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Although he still believes O. J. Simpson is guilty of murder, police Chief Willie Williams told his officers they must accept the jury's innocent verdict.

"Mr. Simpson had his day in court. As professionals, we must accept the verdict," Chief Williams said in the speech played during station roll calls this weekend. It was released Saturday to the news media.

Chief Williams said the department had been wrongly battered by Simpson's lawyers, who argued that their client was framed by evidence planted by one or more detectives.

"No evidence has ever been shown that robberyhomicide west LA and .. any others ever conspired to plant blood, to plant other evidence, to plant a glove, all the things that the entire Simpson defence team raised over the past 15 months," he said. "Hang in there," he told the officers. "You've been a great credit to law enforcement, not just in this city, but in this coun-

The trial of Simpson, a former football star, actor and TV sports commentator, transfixed the nation. Meanwhile, an attomey for victim Ronald Goldman's family said Simpson has been ordered to give a deposition on

Oct. 16 for the wrongful death civil lawsuit the family filed against him. "We're going to question him about every aspect surrounding the case," attorney Robert Tourtelot view. Tourtelot şaid Mr. Simpson, "must give the deposition and he must appear and testify in court. He has no options.

said Saturday in an inter-

A similar lawsuit has been filed by the family of Simpson's ex-wife Nicole Brown Simpson, who was slain with Goldman on June 12, 1994.

No one answered the telephone Saturday at the office of Simpson attorney Johnnie Cochran.

A poll in the upcoming issue of Newsweek magazine showed that 67 per cent of whites and 52 per cent of blacks believe Simpson's trial increased racial tension without offering any hope of a solution.

Sixty-five per cent of whites and 48 per cent of blacks said they believed race was at least somewhat important in the speedy verdict reached by the jury. Jurors deliberated less than four hours before announcing they found Simpson innocent. The poll, in the magazine's Oct. 16 issue, also found that 80 per cent of blacks and 50 per cent of the jury was fair and impartial, although only 32 per cent of the whites agreed with the verdict, compared with 85 per cent of blacks.

The telephone survey by Princeton Survey Research interviewed 760 adults during Oct. 4-6. The margin of error for questions based on the total sample is plus or minus four percentage points.

Participants in the case, meanwhile, continue to explore cash opportunities. Simpson juror Brenda Moran is writing a book, which will be released in the near future, her attorney, Robert Ball, said Friday on CNN's Larry King Live.

Three other jurors have retained attorney Steve Lerman, who represented police beating victim Rodney King, in a search for commercial deals.

Chairman of the Board of Directors: MAHMOUD AL KAYED

Director General: MOHAMMAD AMAD

Editor-in-Chief: GEORGE S. HAWATMEH

Editorial and advertising offices: Jordan Press Foundation.

University Road, P.O. Box 6710, Amman, Jordan. Telephones: 684311, 699634. . . .

Telex: 21497 ALRAI JO Facsimile: 696183

The Jordan Times is published daily except Fridays. Subscription and advertising rates are available from the Jordan Times advertising department.

Media in the balance

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS is one of the main pillars of pluralistic democracy and must be jealously guarded. This means that constraints on the exercise of this freedom must be applied in the most judicious manner so as not to jeopardise the democratic process and its underpinnings. As we look around and learn from well-established democracies we observe that seldom, if at all, do news reporters or columnists get thrown into jail for writing or publishing even false information. Laws on defamation and libel are the usual legal tools to bring to justice people who abuse their freedom to disseminate news, views and analysis. These laws serve as the main channel for would-be victims who can seek reparation or compensation from journalists or writers found guilty in a court

Admittedly there are many countries with fledgling democracies which apply more restrictive rules on the exercise of freedom of the press for fear that false or secret information, especially on matters that affect or relate to national security and stability, could undermine their systems. In this context it is understandable that the priorities of states, which are continuously threatened by external or internal forces, are quite different from those which are more endowed with stability and security. Likewise there might be a certain need to curtail news reports, which can inflame public opinion with malice or distort basic policies with a deliberate intent to cause harm to the country. Members of the mass media in such countries carry a heavier burden than their counterparts and colleagues in other nations because they must always be careful, even conservative, in handling what might be considered "sensitive" news. Under such circumstances the onus of proof of innocence tends to rest with journalists themselves, putting them, in the process, in a disadvantageous posi-

In some countries, including ours, the public prosecutor may be vested with the right to detain a journalist if there is a prime facie case against him or her for publishing reports that are malicious, grossly wrong or harmful to state security and stability. Under Jordanian law, for example, such violations are deemed serious crimes that warrant the most severe treatment. This right. however, can still be exercised with discretion with each situation examined on its own merits. When there is no risk that the accused would try to escape trial or abuse his freedom to move around, detention can and should be avoided. When in doubt, bail may be posted by the accused especially when there are sufficient safeguards and reasonable grounds to believe that he would not jump his bail.

Jordan, in any case, also has to reckon with its international treaty obligations and see where our current laws and practices may run counter to them. It is always prudent to double check with our legal experts on how we may interpret our legislation without running the risk of contravening treaties to which we are party. This is where the discretion of our judicial authorities can and must be exercised in a manner consistent with our international obligations.

We are naturally against detaining members of the media for violating articles of the press and publications and other laws unless a court of law has examined the complaint against them and made a determination on their guilt. It is true that journalists are not above the law, nor should they be treated as a class different from others, nor must they be regarded as a distinguished group. But let us remember that in a country aspiring to be democratic a violation of the laws and freedoms of the press is not considered among the most serious criminal violations that would warrant detention without bail. Secondly, normative punishment under the various human rights treaties for those who violate legislations on freedom of the press is mainly monetary which the convicted person would have to pay as a form of reparation. Thirdly, there is not a single country in need of making democracy a way of life for itself that can afford to incur the wrath of, or send the wrong signal to, democratic forces which are keen to see our experience work.

On the other hand, the journalists themselves have to abide by the law of the land, no matter how restrictive it is, and be governed by the ethics of the profession. Irreparable damage can ensue at times, to both the journalists themselves and the people and the cause they are supposed to serve, when the responsibility to be fair, accurate and objective is shirked by reporters and editors.

Balance is essential, and we have to strive to achieve it. But while it will take us some time to reach ... at goal, we have to know that there is but one way to our destination. It is only through observing democratic rules and respecting the law that we can succeed - together.

Himan Rights Files

By Dr. Waleed M. Sadi

New

Ulls her ps

'Let's target land mines and blinding laser weapons'

The Review Conference of the 1980 U.N. Weapons Convention is in its third and final week and has yet to receive appropriate interest or concern from the Arab World. The on-going conference, held in Vienna, is deliberating the prohibition or restriction of the use of certain conventional weapons deemed excessively injurious or as having indiscriminate effects, such as land mines and blinding laser guns. The magnitude of the crisis for the Middle East may be best appreciated through the shocking revelation that out of the 100 million anti-personnel mines littering the globe, about 30 million are scattered on our own soil, in our own backyards.

Regarding blinding military laser guns, their development and deployment is also on the increase worldwide, including, of course, throughout the Middle East where regional wars and internal armed conflict have been abun-

On a global level, the size of the land mine challenge is reflected most in the appalling number of anti-personnel mines the world has manufactured over the past quartercentury alone. The International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) - the guardian of all Geneva Conventions and the prime promoter of international humanitarian law even before WW1 -- estimates that 250 million land mines, including 200 million anti-personnel mines, have been manufactured in the last 25 years, by no less than 50

Peculiar to this type of conventional weapon is its inherent nature of taking a heavy toll on human life, mostly civilian, which continues even after the cessation of hostilities. This is because mines lie planted in areas accessible to civilians, such as areas for cultivation and economic development. Mines have proven almost impossible to defuse or detect, and not only by people like you or me, but also by military personnel who planted them in the first place. No wonder about 800 mostly civilian lives are claimed every month by land mines. Just to add insult to injury, the international community still produces annually about 10 million of these terrible weapons.

Another reason for the continued carnage is attributed to the high price of mine-clearing, estimated by some experts to cost $300-500 per mine, while manufacturing such mines is a snip at about $20 each. We can only begin to imagine this catastrophic side of the equation when developing countries are forced, through sheer economic constraints, to leave land mines, buried during regional or domestic armed conflicts, in unmarked places to be detected only when a child, woman or farmer step on one. triggering a bloody explosion.

affirmative action against such weapons even at this late hour. To date, there are international humanitarian principles calling for clear distinction between civilians and combatants in armed conflict. In addition there are specific treaties such as the 1980 UN Weapons Convention and its Protocol II that purports to control the use of mines, booby-traps and similar devices. But the shortcomings of existing customary and international laws are proven by the failure to contain the problem and reverse its tide. Awareness and recognition are on the increase that the current regime governing the use of such weapons is sim-

Yet the international community is still reluctant to take cient nor commensurate with the size and dimension of Besides, not many states have signed and ratified the modest 1980 Convention. Only 50 governments chose to become parties to the 1980 convention, demonstrating the indifference of so many countries, including Arab and developing countries which suffer the most from land mines in both human and economic terms. The convening of the Review Conference of the 1980 UN Weapons Convention also provides an occasion to invite Jordan to adhere to it, as I am sure it is sheer oversight on our part ply not working and all the while more people are losing their lives or limbs because legislation is neither suffi-

not to have become party to it until now.

And since the limited Convention is only applicable to "international" armed conflicts, the developing countries including of course the Arab World will continue to suffer because they provide the main theatre for internal armed conflicts that are bloody and vicious. Unfortunately, the recommendation of the Group of Experts assembled for the purpose of proposing more forceful measures against mines falls short of the desired objective because it adopts the view that additional restrictions and safeguards would do the necessary job for humanity. This contrasts with the view of the ICRC and an increasing number of governments that consider there is but one solution to the endemic carnage and slaughter of people: the total prohibition of the manufacture of land mines, as opposed to the mere introduction of cosmetic changes to existing international humanitarian law.

Perhaps it is too late to change the course of the Review Conference on this point. But it is never too late to start lobbying for a more humane and enlightened posture that insists on a complete ban on the use and manufacture of land mines as a real and effective panacea to the current carnage of innocent people.

Fortunately though, the Group of Experts did recommend the total prohibition of the use and manufacture of blinding laser weapons. This is a great and timely success, in view of the growing technology of blinding laser guns and their availability not only to states across the board. but also to factions or groups. In the meantime, Israel is known to have a crash military programme to develop this kind of weapon. No doubt other Middle Eastern states would respond likewise, sooner rather than later, unless the problem is nipped in the bud in this part of the world.

We have every hope that the Review Conference will not fail humanity at least in this area. Meanwhile the vigil against the use and manufacture of land mines must continue unabated until we attain our ultimate objective.

Why Russia opposes NATO expansion

By G. H. Jansen

ONE ELEMENT noticeably absent from Russia's campaign against the eastward expansion of NATO is that Moscow has not, so far. given reasons for its opposition. But a reason given to Indian correspondents by a Russian official in 1961, soon after the Belgrade non-aligned summit conference, may perhaps explain why at present Russia, though firmly opposed to the external expansion of NATO, does not say why.

The half-dozen indian correspondents in Belgrade for the summit in September "61 were very pleasantly surprised when they were told that they were invited by the Soviet Union to accompany the Indian prime minister, Jawaharlal Nehru, to Moscow for talks between Nehru and Soviet Primier Nikita Krushchev.

In Moscow the visit became more interesting for the journalists because the Russian officer accompanying the group was the press attaché at the Soviet embassy in New Delhi and already knew some of the journalists.

The single most enjoyable item on the usual dull official me of speeches and visits to Soviet show-pieces was a performance at the Bolshoi theatre of the well-known ballet "Romeo and Juliet" and not, this time, danced to the all-too-well known music of Tchaikovsky, but to a newer composition by the Russian composer Prokovief. And a splendid performance it was during which the prime minister, though a well known lover of Western classical music, seemed notably silent and withdrawn.

After we returned from the Bolshoi performance to the Sovietskya Hotel, we journalists and the Russian officer settled down to discuss the state of the world over the inevitable bottle of vodka. There was one question that especially interested this journalist and a news agency colleague. Whether it was the lateness of the hour or the affect of the vodka, the officer "opened up" and spoke frankly. And so when we pestered him with this question, "Why is Russia, a Great Power, stronger than ever after its victory in World War II, so afraid of a wrecked and divided Germany that it would do everything it could to stop Germany being put back on its feet by the West?"

The Russian said, "We don't usually discuss this, but I will tell you why. The broad road we took this evening from this hotel straight into Red Square and the Bolshoi, had huge holes in it at the end of the war. Not unrepaired pot holes and not bomb craters, but shell holes made by German artillery from the outskirts of the city. That was proof of how far the Germans reached. And that German army came here all the way from the Rhine (a pardonable exaggeration - the Elbe would have been more accurate) and the German soldiers fought their way here, all the way across Poland and more than half of European Russia. And it took a Russian winter and, of course, the Red Army to stop them just in time. "The Germans are a terrible and a formidable people. They can never be trusted and so must be kept weak by being divided and disarmed."

Lrecall those minatory words now that Germany is reunited and rearmed and is half-in and half-out of NATO - the Russian nightmare has come true.

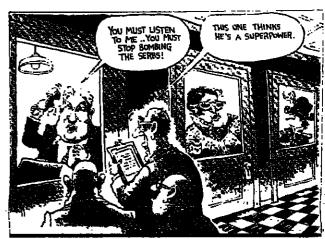

Germany is by far the strongest state in the Western European Union and NATO (except for the U.S.), so for a suspicious, nationalist Russia, no longer a really great power, NATO is quite simply Germany.

Thus, the seemingly innocent eastwards expansion of NATO and the attempts by the former Soviet satellites and

'For a suspicious nationalist Russia, no longer a great power, NATO is quite simply Germany'

republics, especially Poland and the three Baltic states and even Belarus, to connect up with NATO are, for Russians, all preludes to a possible repetition of Napoleon and Hitler knocking on the doors of Moscow.

The words of the Russian officer were an impressive presentation of the Russian position. They made sense and they still do. The Western advocates of NATO's eastward expansion, which the Russians have most recently called "a challenge," will have to overcome a deepseated Russian complex with roots dating back almost two centuries, to

It was only many years later that we discovered why on that September evening in 1961 Nehru had seemed so withdrawn from the performance at the Bolshoi. He had gone to Moscow on his own initiative, not on a Russian invitation, later extended pro forma, to talk to Krushchev and ask him, since Russia was an ally of China in the Moscow-Beijing axis, to urge restraint on the Chinese who were pushing south against the Sino-Indian frontier.

And that day Krushchev had told the Indian prime minister that the Moscow-Beijing axis was no more, because the Russian and Chinese communist parties had fundamental, ideological differences. The Chinese had told the Russians, who were by then anti-Stalinist, that they, the Chinese, would continue along the Stalinist path, which they still do.

Therefore, Moscow had no restraining influence on Beijing and India and China were on their own in an eye-ball to eye-ball confrontation. Among other things this meant that Nehru had to drop his sentimental "India-China brothers" policy which, unfortunately, he did not do quickly enough and the two countries soon went to war.

,If the Russians keep silent on why they do not want a German-dominated NATO on their western borders it is because they can hardly admit that their policy today is moved by old, atavistic fears, which are no longer realistic.

LETTERS

Where is the comradery

To the Editor:

AS A FORMER journalist, my displeasure with a system that allows the detention of a journalist for his writings before a trial declares him guilty is only superseded by my displeasure with a journalistic community that allows one of its own to be jailed without sounding a peep

Why are Jordanian journalists so preoccupied with arguing whether Amman's Al-Hayat correspondent, Mr. Salameh Nematt, was right or wrong in publishing his article on a government investigation of alleged bribe-taking by Jordanian journalists and officials? That is a matter for the courts to decide. What they should be voicing instead is opposition to this detention of their colleague.

I find it embarrassing that international organisations such as the Paris-based Reporters Without Frontiers are questioning the human rights and press freedom implications of Mr. Nematt's detention, while his own colleagues, who surely have much more at stake, are either attacking him in the local press or, at best, keeping silent on the Jordanian journalists often complain about the restrictive nature of the 1993 Press and Publication Law. But why do these people expect the government to protect and expand their rights when they themselves are too timid to take a stand and rally around a colleague whose situation they may very likely face one day?

Readers may wonder why I am writing this letter anonymously. It is not due to fear of voicing a seemingly unpopular opinion, bur rather because my present employment does not allow me the freedom to express personal opinions in the press. Still, my frustration at the sad state of journalism in Jordan is such that I find writing an unsigned letter slightly better than not writing one at all.

Name withheld upon request

The press we want

AS a concerned Jordanian, I was interested to see that a journalist for a London-based Arabic newspaper had been arrested and jailed pending trial in connection with an allegedly defamatory article he had written. I am not going to discuss this particular case as it is now before the courts, nor shall I repeat the allegations made in the article in question because I do not want to give them further publicity. Nevertheless there is a much wider, general issue at stake which needs to be urgently debated in Jordan if we are to successfully fulfill the high aims for our country set by His Majesty King Hussein.

It is my firm belief that the Press and Publications Law allows the state prosecutor to put on trial any journalist for what he or she may have written, in a manner that contradicts all international norms of respect for freedom of the press. In a democracy it is the role and responsibility of the press to challenge falsehoods and seek out the truth. Such battles should be fought through public debate not through law courts. Of course any time an individual is falsely accused of something, he or she has the right to bring a libel action against the perpetrator and seek damages. But do we really need the prosecutor to bring a court case on behalf of the entire country? By doing so, doesn't he simply attract attention and importance to the very allegations that are to be challenged? Surely it makes more sense to allow the press to do its job and debunk any claims that insult the intelligence and honour of the country. Ultimately we must have faith that ordinary Jordanians are perfectly capable of judging the issues before them. Yet they are hampered from using that judgement if the press is constrained by regulations and controls that put journalists in fear of imprisonment merely for doing their jobs. People cannot exercise responsible choices, as democracy requires them to do, if they are not exposed to a lively and honest political debate. In other words there simply can be no democracy without a free and

If the standards of our Press and Publications Law were applied in a respected and ancient democracy such as Britain, then half of that country's population might be paying fines or serving prison sentences and world-class newspapers such as The Times, The Guardian or The Economist would have long ago closed down or simply became colourless vehicles for petty gossip and marriage announcements. Is that the kind of country we want Jordan to be? Is that the kind of process we have the kind of the service we want Jordan to be? Is that the kind of press we want to have?

I am sure that many journalists and politicians have been offended by allegations made against them in the past. But isn't it their job to use their respected position in society to debate and question all issues that affect them and society to debate and question all issues that affect them and society at large? I doubt that there are many professional journalists in Jordan who feel they need the state to protect them against every foreign writer with an axe to grind, but if any journalist is incapable of defending him or herself on the pages of a newspaper then perhaps he or she should seek a different vocation. Finally, I think it is clear for all to see that continued over-involvement of the state in regulating the press is delaying the process of demograticaregulating the press is delaying the process of democratisation championed by His Majesty King Hussein. The mere possibility of prosecution has surely dissuaded many from openly expressing their views on even some rather innocuous subjects.

Finally let me say that I believe in Jordan and I believe that His Majesty King Hussein's endeavours have lifted our country to a position of international respect far outweighing our size and resources. It is our duty, therefore, to our King and country to be part of a responsible, constructive and equal political debate without having to look over our shoulders. Restraints on the freedom of the press severely damage Jordan's image in the world. They risk casting a shadow over His Majesty's great achievements on the national and the world stage. If we allow that to happen then we will all be worse off. It is time to reexamine the Press and Publications Law in the name of democracy, of peace and the farsighted vision of Jordan set out by His Majesty King Hussein.

> Ali Abunimah 1030 N. Winchester Avenue, 2RB Chicago, IL 60622

By James Fenton

shape than ever, and while everything seems to bode

well for its prospects in the next election, there is still no decent broad-based magazine for people on the left to read. It's not, after all, a question of money. In the general scale of things, a weekly political magazine should not be that hard either to found or to keep

One is not envisaging that elusive beast, the daily paper

which would have to the Labour Party the same intimate relationship as the Telegraph has to the Tories.

One is talking about a political and cultural weekly that would have to new Labour

the same relationship as ....

as the New Statesman had to old Labour. In fact, one is talking about the New

Recently there was a deal of talk in the press about an attempt by Tony Blair's kitchen cabinet to get control of the moribund New

Statesman, kick out its editor and replace him with a Blair-controlled stooge. Chief culprit in this story was a PR

Y. OCTOBER 9, 1985

Sion

the discovery about ha had a med swite on a Press periodates. Kriish, bay and adding in the Montes Benty iese who was pashing the bedray prime mas-

as no non- occase be sactory had contamend ar hand to be the Rivelin. that they the Chinese. with which have sail & зивир видеене оп Вер their own man evenil ar Nebru had to drop his policy which unforthhand the ran commo

dry they are not wint a it western penders wis at their policy today 8 hate no i maj realistic s popularios might be teness and world class Joseph Joseph of Simple iv government marriage country we want lorden we wime to have ed politicalis, larce been of them to the past But al passing consequence affect them and welch to them probability aced the state to protect ith an averaginal, but admy him or heiself of haps he or she should bink it is clear for all to nent of the talk of MOCCOS OF GUIDOUSHIELD me Hussem The mere dissuaded many from even some father me in Jordan and I believe leavours have interfour onal respect for our is our day, therefore, nate of a responsible. hate without having he on the freedom of the age in the world They ajesty's great achieves i stake if we allow that use off it is time to ps I aw in the name of

ted vision of lordan set Ali Abunimah Ali Abuning 2RB hester Avenue, 2RB Chicago, II 60022 USA

nia once an accord is signed.

the force.

NATO's military control.

'Statesman' staggers from crisis to crisis While political magazines of the right thrive, why is the voice of the left so often in turmoil?

man called Brian Basham. who was said to be in the Blair loop. But Mr. Basham tells me this is complete nonsense. He has only met Mr. Blair once in his lifetime, and while he does indeed know several Labour figures (the Kinnocks, for instance) he is no way linked to any Blairite plot.

I also phoned the effective owner of the New Statesman, Philip Jeffrey, and asked him whether he thought Mr. Basham was a Blairite Trojan horse, intent on ensuring a loyal, stooge-like magazine. Mr. Jeffrey said, in the course of a quite long conversation, that he thought Mr. Blair had no interest in the New Statesman at all; he said that he would like to improve the Statesman to such an extent that Mr. Blair would sit up and take notice of it. He also said that if Mr. Blair had wanted a Trojan horse on the New Statesman, then the obvious candidate would be himself, Mr Jeffrey (a loyal member of Amersham Labour Party), but he had had no approaches of any kind from the Blair camp. In fact, he had had precious little connection at all with the magazine either.

So this idea that Steve Platt, the magazine's editor, was being forced to resign as part of a general attempt to stifle opposition to new Labour appears to emanate from Mr. Platt's circle. It appears to be a spin -- a genuine example of a spin from spin doctors as yet unidentified.

Mr. Platt was indeed being asked to resign, had in fact agreed to resign, and the finance committee of the magazine met last Tuesday to draft a press release to say that he had resigned. The reason for this resignation was that a refinancing scheme was being developed, and that if the magazine was to be refinanced the new investors would expect there to be a new editor. They would expect someone who, the phrase goes, was better box office.

Yesterday, there was to have been a press conference at Brighton, announcing the new deal for the poor old Staggers and Naggers. Instead Mr. Platt, baving been persuaded, or having persuaded himself, that he was being hounded by unsavoury elements from Islington, decided not to resign. Mr. Jeffrey learnt that the staff was about to pass a vote of no confidence in the board and decided to demand the resignation of the entire board. Christopher Price, the chairman, resigned, but Mr. Basham has yet to do so. The other members have apparently refused to go. But, of course, the refinancing deal appears for the moment to be fin-

I say "for the moment" because Mr. Jeffrey, who, as I reported above, was sweetness itself to me and in all his references to Mr. Blair, gave this paper's correspondent a rather different impression last Friday saying: "What has happened today is not good news for Tony Blair." Apparently Mr. Jeffrey is subject to moodswings. I got his sweetest side. He paid tribute to the enormous effort and sacrifices made by the board members whom he had just instructed to resign.

The situation, as far as I

The revolution begins, at last as is his right, has appointed himself chairman of the board, and brought in the accountant Peter Jones to look at the books and to decide whether or not to close the magazine down. Mr. Jones has actually been looking at these books, to the best of my knowledge, of the past two decades. Perhaps he will come up with something this time. Perhaps not. Meanwhile, he has the defiantly unresigned former can see, is that Mr. Jeffrey,

The boards of the New Statesman have a not very happy history. In 1978, when I was one of the candidates for editorship, the paper owned its building in Lincoln's Inn Fields, had money in the bank and made, as a company, an operating profit. All the can-

members of the board to didates who made proposals within the fairly cautious old parameters were turned down in favour of an expansionist scheme intended to turn the Statesman into a news magazine on the lines of, say, Der Spiegel. The scheme was batty, went off at half-cock and the capital was soon used up.

In 1990 the magazine faced bankruptcy but was saved in part by the investments made by two staff members. In one week, in January 1992, the prime minister and his caterer sued the magazine and its distributors for libel, the distributors settled their side and under the terms of their contract passed on to the magazine the bill for 250,000 sterling pounds about which it could do nothing. ( The magazine's own part in the legal action was settled on much more modest terms.) When it started going under again in 1993, there was interest from the quarter of one Derek Coombs, a former Tory MP, who is now the biggest single shareholder in Prospect, the new political magazine that was launched last week. The board split between supporters of Mr. Coombs, who seemed OK except for having a Tory, and Mr. Jeffrey, who was eccentric but was at least Labour. Mr. Jeffrey was chosen by one vote, and has since (with his wife) put the best part of 600,000 pounds into the company. He owns 49 per cent, Mr. Platt owns 1.5 per cent. Hence the block vote.

If Mr. Jeffrey intends to put the paper in the hands of the receivers, he may well thereby end up delivering it into the hands of his old rival for ownership, Mr. Coombs. If Mr. Platt digs in, in the name of resistance against Stalino-Blairite stifling of free speech, he may find his position overrun by an old Tory. Could someone make either of these fine individuals see sense?

The above article is reprinted from The Indepen-

Calls for parliament reforms

(Continued from page 12)

cabinet member and not on the cabinet as a whole. Jan Westenbroek, deputy secretary general of the group of the European Peoples Party at the European Parliament, said democracy was essential for stability and security for the country and its neighbours as well. "King Hussein is delegating part of his responsibilities and it is a question of time and will on both sides for democracy to flourish," he

"Parliament has to show it is responsible and gradually, Jordan will rise to the level of European countries." he

Discussions continue today with a special emphasis on the prospects of developing the Jordanian Parliament's performance. The there-day seminar was organised by the Konrad Adenauer Foundation in cooperation with Al Urdan Al Jadid Research

Right media approach urged

(Continued from page 12)

expected to attend the meetings, which will be covered by approximately 500 journal-

At least 250 to 300 Jordanian delegates will take part in the conference, which will focus attention on the economic climate and investments in local and regional schemes, he said.

Urging the media to work in unison with the official information services to relay ments in the gathering.

500 personalities and 900 private sector participants are Kingdom, Mr. Abul Ragheb said that the Ministry of the formation had created a main press office at the Sports City complete with all means of communication to extend full coverage of the event directly > from the centre. He said that at least 400 foreign journalists will cover the conferences during which press conferences and briefings will be held to keep the media posted about develop-

European giants expected

(Continued from page 12)

Superhighway and telecommunications and tour-will be said during the official sessions will be what happens away from the spotlights, the exchange of business cards and the chats in the lobbies of the hotels" Mrs. Ashqar said. "Though business is not something one can make 'on the spot,' but something that takes a long pro-cess, the interest of the French Businessmen Association and of European companies in the Amman summit is genuine." Mr.

Ponsot said. "More than investors and finance, we think the Jordanian private sector is looking for 'technical partners,' someone to have the technology and the knowhow," Ms. Ashqar said.

Romualdo Bettini, the Italian ambassador to Jordan told the Jordan Times: "The major achievement of the Amman forum is already under everybody's eyes: It is the great mobiisation of the Jordanian industries, the associations, the government, Parliament and the internal and foreign public opinion in the past months. Mr. Bettini added that the new Investment Law, which stipulates equal treatment for foreign and domestic investments, and the efforts exerted by Parliament and the government to open the economy to trade are going to give Jordan "the economic development that is essential to support peace." Dr. Touqan also pointed that the new Investment Law and Jordan's application for membership in the World Trade Organisation (WTO) were necessary steps ahead of the MENA summit.

Reflecting the climate of great expectations in Italy of the summit on a political, economic and public opinion level, will be the Italian government delegation which will be headed by Susanna Agnelli, minister of foreign affairs, and sister of Giovanni Angelli, president of Ferrari, Fiat and Lancia.

The official EU delegation to the MENA economic summit will be headed by Spanish Prime Minister Felipe Gonzalez, accompanied by his Minister of Foreign Affairs Gavier Solana. The EU is also a member of the summit's steering committee, together with the "four core" parties (Egypt. Israel, Jordan and Palestine), and Japan, Morocco, Russia. Tunisia and the

Bosnia ceasefire still on track

(Continued from page 1)

whether Mr. Perry had submitted any new plans on Russian troops joining the force.

(them)." Mr. Grachev replied as he sat for a second session of talks. "It's going to be a tough task."

NATO is planning to pour up to 60,000 troops into BosThe United States is expected to provide the backbone of Both Russia and NATO want Moscow to send troops as well. But Russia will not place its soldiers under NATO command and Western powers say they will not accept any "dual key" command that would dilute social and economic lives of those who use it. The telephone has brought companion-

30 issue of the Economist.

ship, employment and information to millions. It is now poised to do far more. Over the next few years, the price of making a long-distance or international call in and between some countries will fall to the point where it costs little more to telephone from Hollywood to Glasgow than to nearby Beverley Hills. At the same time, telephone companies will begin to switch the basis of charging their customers from the length of time for which they talk to a flat subscription. Within a decade or two most ordinary telephone conversations will cost nothing extra, whatever their duration or distance. As a result, one of the most important limits imposed by geography on human activities will eventually vanish.

The following leader is reprinted from Sept.

ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL would be amazed. His little invention of 1876 has already changed beyond all imagining the next half century. This has been predicted before; the difference now is that it is actually starting to happen. Revolutionary as the change in pricing will be, its impact will be magnified by two other earth-moving changes. One is a huge increase in the capacity and the portability of the telephone. New investments, by telephone and cable companies, are already expanding bandwidth the capacity to transmit information. You want to play video games with your friend

The demise of distance as the key to the cost of communicating may well prove the most significant economic across the country? You want to organise a press conference to allow journalists a continent away to question the chairman of AT&T? Those possibilities exist for the few. Soon, they and thousands of other ingenious concepts will be here for the many. Telephones have also acquired another, even more useful characteristic: mobility. The machine that sits on a table in the hall and rings just as you get into the shower is being overtaken by a ubiquitously portable gadget that can always reach its owner at one number, anywhere. The second earth-mover will be the wiring of the world. Today, 5.6 billion people make do with a mere 600m telephones. In the developing world, telephone "density" is a mere one-tenth that of the rich world. But developing countries are forging ahead with privatisation: More than a dozen have done so in the past couple of years, with more planned in Ghana and Guinea, Panama and Poland, and other yet more disparate countries. Some are allowing cellular-telephone operators to step in to fill the gaps in their markets that fixed-wire networks cannot plug fast enough. China alone has hopes of adding the equivalent of an entire Baby

For the big telephone operators, fearful of a collapse in the cost of international calls their most profitable business — the prospect of new markets is a relief. But for their customers, the future is joyously unpredictable. New technologies go through many refinements before their potential is fully exploited. The telephone is hardly new, but the novelty lies in the effect such costless communication has on two other commonplace machines. As the transmission of information is increasingly digitised, the boundaries between the telephone, the television and the computer are blurring. Put the three together and all sorts of unpredictable new products and services start to evolve from the fun of television, the brain and memory of the computer, and the two-or-more-way human contact of the telephone.

Still trying to connect you

How fast this new world arrives will depend on governments. Some seem determined to fight against opening their markets to foreign investment and allowing international telephone services to become as tradable as telephones themselves. While they struggle against the inevitable, other countries will benefit. The key change, in the words of Al Gore, America's vice-president, will be that "Time zones, not cost, will become the biggest barrier to keeping in touch." It will become possible to site any screen-based activity anywhere; and to tap into all sorts of information and advice from crop prices to university courses to medical help — from anywhere in the world.

As a result, decisions about location will be formed and regional policy will at become meaningful. Many services will become internationally tradable -- and indeed easier to ship from one country to another than goods are today. Countries thousands of miles apart will be able to offer services, from providing an insurance quote to monitoring a security camera, that have up to now required proximity.

The further a country or a town is from the main centres of economic activity, the more it will gain as a result. In developing countries, telephone tariffs are currently highest and international charges most outrageously adrift from costs. They, and the poorest, most distant regions of the rich countries, will gain most of all when this changes. They will be able to keep skilled and educated workers, who might otherwise have migrated to where the jobs paid best. But some rich-world white-collar workers, who up to now have thought themselves insulated from the competitive pressures that have affected manufacturing, will find their jobs and wages at

Proximity will still have some value: Hollywood's breakfasting and the City of London's lunching will never be replicated over a wire. But cities, which have so dominated development for the past two centuries, will lose some of their clout: no longer will it necessarily be the case, as it is now, that their productivity (and therefore their wealth) is vastly greater than that of the surrounding countryside. In poor countries, whose cities threaten to be the behemoths of the next centurv. telecommunications will make it possible to provide in rural areas many of the services and jobs, and much of the access to information and entertainment, which have the bright lights.

For governments and big companies, the telecoms revolution will be unsettling. because it will put more power into the bomes and on to the desks of ordinary, people. Voters and customers alike will find it easier to make comparisons, acquire information, by-pass gatekeepers, cross borders. The telephone is a seditious little instrument; but it will create a better-informed, more prosperous life for millions of people.

Women refuse to leave jail

— (Continued from page 1)—

big gaps between the two April, following the Israeli sides," said a Palestinian official, Major General Ziad Al Atrash. "What we are looking for is an overall redeployment timetable."

Mr. Peres said the Israeli army would pull out of four villages in the West Bank within 20 days. The operation was to start in Salfit, in the Nablus area, as early as Tuesday, a military spokesman

Israel has promised to free 2,300 of the prisoners in three stages. The first stage was supposed to be "on the signing" of the agreement, and the second prior to Palesti-nian general elections. Elections are expected to be held either in January or and out of most of the seventh — Hebron — in March. The situation in Hebron is complicated by the presence of 450 fiercely ideological Jewish settlers living in the middle of the town's 120,000 Palestinian re-troop withdrawal and deployment of Palestinian police.

Israeli troops are supposed to be out of six cities in the West

Bank by the end of the year.

The third stage of a prisoner release is supposed to take place during negotiations on the final status of the Palestinian territories, which are supposed to begin by next

Bomb explodes at rail track (Continued from page 1)

Blanche bombing, a state- quers France." ment signed by Algeria's Armed Islamic Group (GIA) claiming responsibility for bomb attacks against French interests since 1994 was faxed to a western news agency in

In the typed statement, signed by Abu Abdul Rahman Amin, the GIA "Emir," the group vowed to continue its strikes in revenge for Paris' backing of the Algerian government "until Islam con-

The authenticity of the statement, dated Sept. 23, could not be confirmed.

The group said it would continue the attacks not only to punish France for interfering in Algeria's domestic affairs but also because President Jacques Chirac had ignored its call to convert to Islam. A 31/2-year-old insurgency in Algeria has left more than 30,000 people

Arafat frees Hamas leader (Continued from page 1)

allowed Hamas officials to travel to Sudan for talks with their leadership abroad. Israel authorised their travel at the request of Mr. Arafat. In Gaza, Hamas said four officials went abroad to review a dialogue between the day that the security services self-rule authority and the Islamic movement, which has carried out several anti-Israeli bombings.

The officials were to consult on whether to halt anti-Israeli attacks in the West Bank after the army has pulled out of Palestinian towns.

NEWS IN BRIFF

Iraq frees Kuwaiti prisoner BAGHDAD (AFP) - A Kuwiati has been released by Iraq after serving a two-year jail sentence for entering the country illegally, officials said here Sunday. Majed Sanhil Metaeb Sahrar Al Matiri left Baghdad on Sunday escorted by a member of the International Committee of the Red Cross, sources at the organisation said. He was travelling home via the border town of Safwan. In a statement to the official news agency INA, the Iraqi Foreign Ministry said he had been released after serving his sentence. The ministry said Mr. Matiri was "a Kuwaiti civil servant, according to his passport, who entered Iraq illegally via the border with Iran." In addition to the Kuwaiti, 13 Westerners have been jailed for entering Iraq illegally since the end of the Gulf war in February 1991 but all were subsequently released. Kuwait wants Iraq to explain the fate of 605 people missing since Baghdad's occupation of the emirate. Iraq has insisted it is not holding any prisoners #### of war from the conflict. Saddam elected president of Qatari tribe

BAGHDAD (AFP) — Iraqi President Saddam Hussein has been elected leader of a tribe in Qatar, official Iraqi newspapers said here on Sunday. The 60,000 members of the Abidli tribe decided to elect him their president after hearing that he was seeking to have his mandate as Iraqi leader renewed in a referendum next Sunday. "After hearing about the referendum, we have elected you (president) of the Al Abidli tribe. The 60,000 members of the tribe are at your command," the tribal chief wrote in a message to President Saddam. Iraq announced in September that President Saddam, 58, who has ruled the country since 1979, was seeking to have his mandate renewed for another seven years in a referendum.

Arafat honours 84,000 Egyptian war victims

CAIRO (AFP) — Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat on Sunday honoured 84,000 Egyptian military personnel who have died or been wounded in four wars against Israel since 1948. In an interview with the Egyptian news agency MENA published by newspapers here on Sunday, Mr. Arafat said: "We will not forget that the Egyptian people have sacrificed 84,000 martyrs and wounded since 1948 to defend Palestine." Egyptian forces were involved in the Arab-Israeli wars of 1948, 1956, 1967 and 1973.

U.S. beefs up security at Cairo embassy

CAIRO (AFP) - The U.S. embassy in Cairo has placed surveillance cameras on streets in the Egyptian capital, fearing militant attacks after the conviction of Sheikh Omal Abdul Rahman, a government newspaper said Sunday. The Egyptian government weekly Ruse Al Yousef said the U.S. embassy had installed video cameras and sophisticated surveillance equipment at Tahrir Square and on streets leading to the embassy, located in the heart of Cairo. The paper said they were installed to "detect all suspicious movements." No official could be reached at the embassy, which is closed on Sunday, to confirm the report. The security measures were taken for fear of retaliatory attacks by fundamentalist groups after the conviction last week in New York of the spiritual leader of the armed

Egyptian group, Gamaa Islamiyah, the paper said. Militiaman wounded in South Lebanon bomb

MARJAYOUN (AP) - A suspected guerrilla roadside bomb wounded a pro-Israeli militiaman in South Lebanon Sunday, security sources said. The sources, speaking on condition of anonymity, said Israeli forces and their allied South Lebanon Army (SLA) militiamen shelled suspected guerrilla hideouts in the area in retaliation. They said the bomb exploded as an SLA patrol drove near the village of Tallousa in the central sector of an Israeli-occupied border zone. No one claimed responsibility for the attack and there was no word from Israel on the incident.

Iran police arrest robbers of diplomats' houses

TEHRAN (R) - Iranian police have arrested three armed robbers of Tehran houses used by foreign diplomats, a police chief was quoted on Sunday as saying. "One of the armed robbers, Ali Abed, has confessed to 14 cases of robbery at residences of foreign diplomats," Brigadier Reza Abulfathi, Tehran's chief of police, was quoted as saying by the Akhbar daily newspaper. So far police have arrested three robbers and found 50 million rials ($16,700 at official exchange rate) worth of gold and audio-visual equipment, he said. Efforts are continuing to capture "a number of other robbers collaborating with these three.' Abed's crimes included robbing the residence of the Malaysian embassy's first secretary earlier this year and the home of the Japanese embassy's second secretary in 1993. Brig. Abulfathi said.

Lawyer sues Egyptian film about lawyers

CAIRO (R) — Egyptian film stars Yosra and Gamil Ratib appeared in a Cairo court as interested spectators on Sunday in the first hearing of a lawyer's suit against the Adel Imam film "Birds of Darkness." Mahmoud Riyad is suing producer Wahid Hamed and director Sharif Arafa for insulting the legal profession in the film, which shows corruption among lawyers and government officials. Seventy-five lawyers turned up at court in solidarity with the producer. One of them, Mohammad Sabri of the Federation of Arab Lawyers, said the aim of the film was to encourage reform in the profession and in government, Yosra and Ratib have roles in the film but top actor Adel Imam, who plays an opportunistic lawyer, did not show up.

Palestinians to launch first Islamic bank

Palestinian investors, buoyed by a landmark peace deal with Israel, are to launch their first Islamic bank after raising more than half of its paid-up capital, its founders said on Sunday. The Palestinian Islamic Bank (PIB), based in Gaza City, has a paid-up capital of $10 million and around $5.5 million have been secured, said Khaled Al Husari, chairman of the Palestinian Islamic Investment Company in Gaza, one of the key shareholders in the new bank.

'The main shareholders will contribute around $7 million while the rest will be raised through public subscriptions," he told AFP during a visit to the United Arab Emirates (UAE) to seek in- areas under the self-rule

KUWAIT (R) — Kuwait's

Central Bank said on Sunday

persistent state budget deficits could damage the economy and should be tackled

by boosting non-oil revenue.

vestors for the bank. "Subscriptions will close on Oct. 15 and we expect the capital to be either fully subscribed or over-subscribed. There is a strong demand by Palestinians and investors from the Gulf and other Arab countries. The bank would start operating in January and within three years, it would open up to 10 branches in the Gaza Strip, the West Bank and Jordan. At a later stage, there could be branches in other Arab countries," Mr.

PIB is wholly owned by the private sector and has already got approval by Yasser Ara-fat, who heads the Palestinian National Authority which runs the autonomous

Mr. Husari said they were seeking subscription from outside those areas because they wanted to expand the "public investment base" of the project.

"We want as many Palestinian investors as possible. There are many Palestinians here seeking to invest their money," he said "depending on its operations in future, we may increase the capital."

Mr. Husari said PIB, the first Islamic bank in Palestinian history, would invest in three main sectors — industry, agriculture and housing, which he expected to be among the fastest growing sectors in the autonomous

He said he expected strong vices as it would be the only Islamic institution in the autonomous areas. The bank would operate according to Islamic rules, which prohibit interest as usury and allow banks instead to charge a percentage of the profits.

"We expect the bank to be one of the main financial institutions in the Palestinian areas. Its capital is relatively small but you should not judge a financial institution from its capital," he said.

"You have to take into consideration its investments. deposits by clients, contribution to projects and companies and other factors. Our studies have indicated that business will be in full swing, given expectations of a steady end of the Israeli occupa-

Palestinians signed an historic autonomy agreement for the Gaza Strip and Jericho with Israel two years ago. They struck another deal last month to extend self-rule in the West Bank.

Palestinian leaders hope the accord will lead to the creation of their long-sought independent homeland. The United States and other potential creditors have promised to extend funds to Palestinians to enable them to repair the economy that has been wrecked by nearly 18 years of Israeli occupation. Palestinians say economic revival is essential for the success of the peace agree-

population since the conflict.

The Central Bank said the government had made relentless efforts to prepare the favourable conditions for a

Financing the deficit by borrowing would only make more vibrant and active private sector.

"As this deficit arises from the growth in public spending at rates inconsistent with levels of public revenues and insensitive to their development, financing this deficit by withdrawals from public reserves will adversely affect cent of national wealth as measured by gross domestic

Arabs set up first joint financial monitor

"It will strengthen the official Arab auditing bodies like the central banks and the stock market managements

in auditing and supervision of the activities of the financial institutions in the region.

This will contribute to protecting the rights of dealers and investors in the Arab

The statement gave no details of the functions of the company or its headquarters

but AMF sources said it could be based at the fund.

pany coincides with reforms

in the Arab banking sector

following guidelines by the Bank for International Settlement (BIS) for banks worldwide to boost their capital adequacy to at least eight per cent to ensure they have enough funds to face any

BIS's Basle Committee.

which groups the central banks of major industrial states, has classified Arab nations, except Saudi Arabia.

as high-risk countries in lending activity on the grounds that their adequacy is low.

The creation of the com-

tors base," it said.

markets.

Kuwait deficit poses risks

The bank's annual report for 1994 said public spending the volume of these reserves growth in the Gulf oilexporting state was outstripand the incomes generated by ping revenue growth and them. would lead to the erosion of Kuwait projects a deficit of 1.32 billion dinars ($4.4 billion) for the 1995/96 fiscal official reserves. "The persistence of the year, equivalent to 18 per general budget deficit bears many current and future risks for major aspects of the national economy," it said.

ABU DHABI (AFP) -

Arab states have created a joint institution that will give them greater access to the performance of their financial bodies and ensure security for domestic investors, the organisation's sponsor said in the operation of the company for the Evaluation and Classification of Credit Adequacy, the first of its kind in the Arab World, said the

Abu Dhabi-based Arab

AMF chairman, Jassim Al

Manai, signed the agreement

for the new venture in Washington, where he was attending joint meetings of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund.

it said in a statement sent to

The contract was signed with the World Bank's International Finance Corporation and the company would begin operation before the end of the efforts to activiate

stock markets in the Arab World and expand the inves-

The new company is part of the year.

Monetary Fund (AMF).

The World Bank will help

The deficit is to be covered from reserves, already halved by large withdrawals that funded a leap in state spending after the 1991 Gulf war.

Analysts say deficits soared when Kuwait paid its share of the war costs, repaired oilfields and bought arms.

Other economic woes include low prices for Kuwait's single big export, oil, huge private sector bad debt equivalent to 90 per cent of Gross Domestic Product, commercial losses caused by Iraqí occupation and a fall in

Saudi Arabia was excluded as it was the fifth biggest credi-tor to the World Bank.

ly those in the Gulf, have reported progress in their reforms, which include stronger control of banks and instructions for them to raise their capital. Most of their banks have now exceeded the BIS

level of adequacy, the ratio between shareholders equity

League's main financial organisation, said the new company would help bridge the gap in financial data given by enable investors to map out their investment strategies.

taking into consideration available alternatives on the basis of risks and return from investing in those alterna-

The AMF, a regional IMF

style institution with a capital of JD 1.3 billion, has also been invovled in plans to develop regional stock markets and encourage members without exchanges to open tives." it said.

"Such a process will in turn banks and companies.

The AMF, the Arab and assets.

Several Arab states, main-things worse, the bank said, "laying a constant burden on public finance to service such obligations.'

The bank said the deficit way for fundamental reforms that would address the should be tackled through structural nature of the decomprehensive measures including raising non-oil re-These moves would alllow venue. Oil exports at present account for 90 per cent of for a reduction in the enormous role of the public sector state revenue. in the economy and create

This could be done by repricing government services such as electricity, water, communications and health care, or by increasing tax and

Iran interested in Adriatic oil pipeline

"I love you with all my heart and soul.

But my inner child thinks that your inner child is a big stinkface."

said it was interested in using an Adriatic oil pipeline to transport Iranian oil to central and Eastern Europe. Tehran Radio reported.

It quoted Transportation Minister Akbar Torkan as saying that the issue was discussed in a meeting on economic cooperation among Iran. Bosnia-Herzegovina and Croatia that opened here Tuesday.

Mr. Torkan said that once agreement was reached on Iranian use of the pipeline,

GLASBERGEA

Peanuts

Andy Cap

Mutt'n'Jeff

HEY, MARCIE .. LET'S

60 DO SOME SHOPPING

FOR SCHOOL SUPPLIES.

TEHRAN (AP) - Iran has Tehran could supply crude oil to the Czech Republic, Austria, Hungary and Slovakia.

> The Iranians have been looking for a piped route to Europe for their oil for years, and the issue has been discussed with a number of coun-

> The radio said banking issues and the creation of joint companies to invest in Bosnia-Herzegovina, Croatia and Iran also were among topics discussed at the meeting.

> > I DID THAT

A MONTH

A60, 51R

'All local departments

Unscramble these four Jumbles

one letter to each square, to form

our ordinary words.

RUETT

YIPTE

PERSOC

INTOAR

SURE, MARCIE...AND I

YOU'RE GOING TO!

SUPPOSE YOU ALREADY

KNOW WHICH COLLEGE

(UAE) do not publish their local budgets.

for more than two thirds of the UAE's annual expenditure given its large oil pro-

THAT SCRAMBLED WORD GAME

WHAT A HAT

CAN BECOME ON A COLD DAY.

Now arrange the circled letters to form the surprise answer, as sug-gested by the above cartoon.

Jumbles: SLANT AGILE OFFSET MIDWAY

■ job — SEW IT GOES

wer: What the bored seamstress thought of her

AND I'VE ENROLLED

MY THREE KIDS

IN PRE-SCHOOL!

POOR LITTLE DEVIL. HIS WHOLE IAPPINIESS IS SUCH A DELICAT BALANCE IS SUCH A DELICAT

Union (I-11) to benefit from its experience in facilitating trade across the border.

A GCC customs union would help the 14-year-old Gulf alliance in reaching a free trade agreement with the EU, which has been reluctant to sign such a pact because of the wide gap in tariffs among member states. After years of negotiations. GCC countries have reached initial agreement on a compromise, setting tariffs at between eight and 10 per cent, midway between the minimum four per cent duty in the UAE and Oman and taxes of more than 20 per cent in Saudi Arabia and Bahrain. But some imported products would be exempted while others would be listed as special items. A common Gulf market would give birth to the biggest oil bloc in history, with current production of around one fifth of the world's total supplies and reserves of 45 per cent of the global crude reserves. Its 1994 trade stood at around $120 billion and gross domestic product at

Abu Dhabi to cut 1996 spending to offset low oil prices

Gulf states hopeful on customs union empted.

December.

of more than 1,200 products that would be taxed or ex-

They will present the list to their finance and economy

ministers, who will meet at the end of this month to make final proposals for their heads of state at their annual summit talks in Oman next tariffs on foreign imports.

customs harriers among the six GCC states would automatically collapse as they have already lifted duties on

But barriers have existed

because some members with low tariffs were reexporting products to others with high tariffs, threatening measures to protect their local indus-

GCC stastes - Saudi Arabia, Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman,

Qatar, and the United Arah

Emirates — have sought a customs unions since early

1980s, in line with their pact that calls for the creation of a

Several GCC delegations

have visited the European common market.

thier own products.

With the unification of

ABU DHABI (AFP) — The Gulf emirate of Abu Dhabi, one of the biggest oil producers in the world, is planning to pursue austerity measures it has introduced to offset weak crude prices, Al Bayan daily reported on Sunday.

ABU DHABI (AFP) — Gulf

Arab customs chiefs began gathering on Saturday for fresh talks on unifying tariffs

on foreign imports as officials said the long-sought customs

The customs directors from the six-nation Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) will try to agree on the final list of products that would be either taxed or exempted under a jonit customs mechanism.

which is essential for the establishment of the Middle

East's first common market.

end of the road towards a customs union. We are hopeful it will materialise next yeare." a GCC official told

AFP from the group's headquarters in the Saudi capital

"With the unification of the tariffs, the establishment of the common Gulf market will not be a problem. It

The official emirates news agency said the customs directors, who begin a four-day meeting in Rivadh on

312 items, the remaining list

Sunday, would try to classify could come automatically."

Řiyadh.

"GCC state are now at the union was now in sight.

The Abu Dhabi finance department has asked government institutions in the emirate to cut expenditure for 1996 although spending was also trimmed in the previous fiscal year, the paper quoted department sources as saving.

have been asked to make real and tangible spending cuts in their 1996 budget compared with their 1995 budget since the circumstances which have prompted such cuts are continuing," it said, in a reference to the decline in crude prices over the past decade. It said the departments had been told not to include any budget and make minimum allocations for new projects. The paper gave no figures for 1995 spending Abu Dhabi and the other six emirates in the United Arab Emirates

new jobs in next year's

But Abu Dhabi accounts

duction, estimated at around 1.8 million barrels per day, nearly 80 per cent of the emirates total output.

In 1994, overall spending by the UAE stood at 54.4 billion dirhams ($14.82 billion) and revenues at 38.5 billion dirhams ($10.49 billion), creating a deficit of around $4.33 billion.

Oil export earnings provide more than 80 per cent of the UAE's income and the decline in their prices has turned a large budget surplus into a deficit, slowed down the economy and slashed the trade surplus.

HOROSCOPE

FORECAST FOR MON-DAY, OCTOBER 9, 1995

By Thomas S. Pierson, Astrologer, Carroll Righter Astrological Foundation ARIES: (March 21 to April

19) Get your abilities to the attention of bigwigs who can help you to profit greatly by them. Be consistent in carrying through with tasks. FAURUS: (April 20 to Ma

20) Put those ideas to work which will make you feel you are progressing quietly but surely today. Put your intuition on any new project.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) This is a good day to show your ingenuity at handling practical affairs. Know what it is your mate desires the most and try to please.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) Try to reach a better understanding today with one who is rather calculating, so be more objective and less sensitive with close friends.

LEO: (July 22 to August 21) Be practical in organising your practical affairs today and you will get fine results. Show you are sensitive with fellow associates.

VIRGO: (August 22 to September 22) Make the appointments necessary to have the good time you desire tonight and tomorrow. Find a more practical way to push talents.

LIBRA: (September 23 to October 22) Do whatever will increase the security you now enjoy at home. If you have any guests in, be certain they are the common sense kind.

SCORPIO: (October 23 to November 21) Plan how to handle your routines more efficiently now and get more cooperation from partners and fellow associates on a new project.

SAGITTARIUS: (November 22 to December 21) Use your finest judgement today when handling monetary and other practical affairs and don't take any risks with your repu-

CAPRICORN: (December 22 to January 20) Use every means at hand to gain your objectives today provide they are ethical. Being with persons you like is wise.

AQUARIUS: (January 21 to February 19) Stop all that daydreaming today and find practical ways to gain your ambitions and become far more affluent in your ability to succeed.

PISCES: (February 20_to March 20) You have a fine friend who can help you to gain some ambition very quickly, so accept. Be happy and more sure of yourself.

Birthstone of October: Opal - Tourmaline

THE Daily Crossword by Grace C. Pinkston

financial crisis.

- ACROSS 1 Egyptian VIP. once 6 Rio de la --11 Chum
- 14 Incomparable 15 Western 16 "--- Maria" 17 Oxymoronic
- vine? 19 "The --Divorcee" 20 Shoe width
- 21 Suffering 22 Mare's — (hoax) 23 Tendency 24 Actress Holm 27 The Bard's
- oxymoron 30 School: abbr. 31 Sea creature 32 — Paulo 35 Oxymoronic
- adage 40 Have being 41 Healing plant 42 Orchestral
- instrument 43 Oxymoronic crustacean 47 Actor Telly
- 50 Moored 51 State strongly 52 Poet Teasdale 53 — de deux 56 Obstacle
- 57 Abbott-Costello oxymoron film 61 — Tin Tin 62 Consummate
- 63 Author Loos 64 Brew 65 Vessels 66 Lowest point
- DOWN 1 Word by Tonto
- 2 "i cannot tell —' 3 Fawn over 4 Insect
- 5 Indian home: var.
- 6 Fixes firmly 7 Grass plot 8 Devoured 9 Pipe joint
- 10 Garfunkel
- 39 Roman poet 43 Cookie holder 44 Plays for time 45 Retain 46 U.S. president

11 Leaves

22 Modern

12 Nautical word

13 Philippine island

18 Raise a ruckus

23 Eng. theologian

24 Algonquian

26 Take it easy'

aftermath

28 Ship's track

29 Path prefix

32 Use a

34 Olive -

37 — mater

38 Displays

emotion

36 Lug

30 "I — Camera"

natatorium

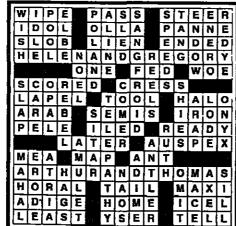

33 Unsymmetrical

27 Emotional

25 Notable times

40 © 1995 Tribune Media Services, Inc.

Yesterday's puzzle solved:

47 Israeli 54 Against 48 Be of use 55 Asterisk 49 Nemo's creator 57 Ad — 52 Law: abbr.

58 Altar words 53 Cleared up a 59 Souchona 60 One - million

FOR A COLD IS ME BOTH HAD YEH, WE CAN COLDS HOW SEEMTD GET FOR ACCUPLE) RID OF IT STAY IN BED

ms union

AY, OCTOBER 9 1/1/2

non-that the pendulus experience in facilitate the more than bounder the acres. The border of A Cre Constraint was and help the 14 testing the all all and the stage of trade detection in mining to trade detection in with a constraint base because here. which has been telling SIER SIE HA PART BOOKING s, with but in truth and some Mici veats of heggin other mittal according compromise a time land petasen ciste art in be or norther between h the PM and comes a very of the PM and compared to the second to the seco m m Sauch Value 2 diram But with support ordine to would be excluded the other wonld by he

Special many A common coll mate and give both to the he est cut blee in history age in fully of the could real labilities and the states of the a cent of the global agserves H. I and trade day allound Nich bullen ares domestic product իկ հվետ

96 prices

iction, estimated at alog-8 million barrels per & ardy Su per cent of g mates total output In 1994 overall spens the UAL stood at S. floor dufame ($14.82 kg and and revenues at a then dichams (Stoats) m), creating a debat ound $4 11 billion

Oil export carmas g de more than superier. e I Al some me and s reline in their piece is med a large maled supp to a defect hourd diee economic at latera ade surplus

HOROSCOPE

ORECAST FOR MOV DAY, OCTOBER 9, 106 Thomas in Fem-abolish in a Fem-Addition of a Figure

RIES: (March 2000 Ag) 2) Cler Cour ability let Termon of bigwigs while elp you to promercalize sem, the consistent in a ang through with tak" AURUS: CApul 20 to 30 i) Put these ideas to wo buch will make you ledy it progressive quellett steiv today Parvourati on on any new propin EMINE (May 2) to be () The received day testis That is summan and metical affairs. Know with re vour mate desire # ost and no to please IOON COMPRESS OF The July 21 of the feet ther understanding adthe one who is nother ale ting, so be more objects ad less sensative with dis

EO: Galv 2 as August B e practical in organish sur practical affairs four ad you will recome result the ten are somewhat How assessed

1RGO: August 22 P mountains mesessing we the coast time von de c tomely and tements and a more practical was R 38h talents (RRA. (September 2 % crober 2011 o whatever will crease the security you not new at home. It you had is guests in the certain the e the common sense kind ORPIO: O'RIGHER TOR wember 21) Plan how P indle your commer man ficiently than and get not aperatum from parting al fellow associates on t on product GITI ARIUS Novembe to December 1111 se will nest pulperneut rocks when adding meanch and and actival althus and don't ke any risks with contrept tion

APRICORN: December in Limital 2011 Location of the part of the p c othical Henry with peras you like is wise WARUS: (Lanual) a sea dreners 10) Stop all this Adventure today and find action was to gan on action was not become at the surface was a surface to the surface of the attention to the attention of the surface of th SCES: (February 20 to arch 200 You have on to

arch 201 You have a me end who can help you to m some ambitual wkly, so accept he hapfi wkly, so accept he hapfi d more sure of vouncil appropriate October, Obj Continuine

U.S. jobless rate steady at 5.6%

WASHINGTON (AP) -The U.S. unemployment rate held steady at 5.6 per cent in September as 121,000 new jobs were created, fresh evidence the economy is rebounding modestly from last spring's slump.

"This signals a slow, gradual bounce back from the very weak conditions of the first half of the year." said Daryl Delano of Cahners Economics, a Newton, Massachusetts, forecasting service.

"The basic message is that the economy has rounded the corner and is back on the forward track." agreed Robert G. Dederick, an economic consultant with the Northern Trust Co. in Chicago. "We have had our soft landing and we are now in a sedate recovery.

The Labour Department said Friday the unemployment rate remained at 5.6 per cent for a second straight month. After reaching 5.8 per cent in April, the jobless rate has bounced between 5.6 per cent and 5.7 per cent for the last five months.

The report said that although job growth slowed from the 262,000 pace in August, every sector except manufacturing and govern-ment shared in the expan-

The services industry added 106,000 jobs, retail payrolls grew by 48,000 and builders hired 16,000 new construction workers.

There was little sign of price pressures in the report. It said average hourly earnings increased by four cents to $11.52 in September after falling two cents a month earlier. That meant average hourly earnings have risen just three per cent over the last vear.

Stock and bond prices fell when the markets opened as traders focused on the job growth figures, less than many analysts had expected. But they rallied by midday on reports of stronger-than-expected third-quarter earn-

Factories, which were particularly crimped by earlier economic weakness, lost 32,000 more jobs in September boosting losses 500 200,000 since last March. But analysts noted that orders have picked up recently. which should pare inventories and spur production and

"Manufacturers are now getting control over merchandise that has been piling up and I'd expect a resumption of manufacturing job growth in future months," Labour Secretary Robert B. Reich predicted.

Government employment dropped by 30,000 after surging by 71,000 in August. The Labour Department said the figures reflected the increasing trend for schools to open in August rather than

September. Analysts said the employment figures and other recent reports were consistent with economic growth of between two per cent and 2.5 per cent at an annual rate in the quarter that ended in September. The economy grew at an anemic 1.3 per cent rate from April through June.

Since the economic appears to be bouncing back. many analysts believe the Federal Reserve will leave interest rates unchanged, after having cut them by a quarter-point in July to stimulate the economy. It was the first decrease in near-

"I think the Fed can sit back in happy comfort that they have done an excellent job in fine-tuning the economy, said economist Eugene Sherman of M.A. Schapiro and Co. in New York. They've got the economy where they want it."

More than half the September job growth was in business services, with temporary-help firms accounting for a big increase of 35,000 jobs. Retail employment was boosted by the addition of 20,000 restaurant

Hiring in the health industry remained strong with a gain of 25,000. Employment at auto dealerships was up

But with the end of the summer vacation season, the amusement and recreation industry lost 13,000 jobs. And clothing stores continued to shed workers, reporting a particularly steep 15,000 decline.

As the economy slowed from robust growth in 1994, employment growth has also slowed. Payroll jobs had been rising by an average of 365,000 per month in the final quarter of 1994. But in the just completed July-September quarter, the increase averaged just 130,000

Bahrain plans to develop stock

exchange MANAMA (R) — Bahrain is studying a five-year plan to develop its stock exchange. Commerce Minister Ali Saleh Al Saleh said. Mr. Saleh, speaking on Bahrain Television on Friday night, gave no details of the plan but said it was aimed at developing the official bourse into a regional stock ex-Bahrain and Oman, two of the few Arab markets allowing foreign investors, signed an agreement earlier this year linking their bourses, allowing cross-listing of firms. The move was the first of its kind in the Middle East. Mr. Saleh said liquidity shortage after investors turned to real estate investment and higher interest rates on deposits with banks were to blame for the drop of share prices in Bahrain. Bahrain's official share index, continuing a decline in the past three weeks, lost 7.37 points in the week ending on Thursday to 1,316.08

But trading volume soared to more than 6.4 million shares worth 1.2 million dinars ($3.2 million) from 3.7 million shares worth 327,671 dinars ($869,154) the previous week.

Workers set up picked lines at Boeing plants in the Seattle area, Wichita, Kansas, and Gresham, Oregon. No talks were scheduled.

workers.

Boeing, the world's largest manufacturer of commercial iet aircraft and one of the nation's leading exporters, will try to maintain production with supervisors and workers who cross picket lines, said spokesman Paul days in 1989.

Financial

Jordan Times in co-operation with Markets Cairo Amman Bank

Weekly Financial Exchange Market Summary (October 2 - October 6, 1995)

The U.S. unit appreciated noticeably against the yen last week, while depreciating marginally against the mark and stabilising against sterling. It ended the week 0.40 per cent lower against the mark and 0.82 per cent higher against the

The dollar depreciated against European currencies Monday, while appreciating against the yen. Reports indicated that the dollar came under pressure as traders sold it to buy Deutschemarks and Swiss francs. Analysts indicated that despite of the selling pressures, most traders were reluctant to close their long dollar positions ahead of the G-7 meeting at the end of the week. Market sentiment towards the U.S. unit was mixed, as analysts were divided on whether the G-7 meeting will result in a communiqué that would prop up the dollar.

The U.S. unit rose against other major currencies Tuesday, as more traders thought that the G-7 countries will stress the importance of a higher dollar at the end of the week. Meanwhile, the dollar lost ground against the Canadian dollar on news that the Quebec referendum will result in Quebec remaining a part of Canada.

The dollar continued its appreciation against sterling Wednesday, but depreciated against the mark and the yen. The upcoming G-7 meeting continued to influence the market. Worries that the G-7 countries will overlook the dollar's recent decline mounted and caused many traders to close their long dollar positions. These worries surface when a Japanese official said that the current exchange rates of the dollar are fairly valued, and as such, any central bank intervention will not result in a higher dollar unless it was accompanied by structural changes in the U.S.

economy.

The dollar continued its depreciation Thursday. It declined on worries about the G-7 meeting. The selling pressure on the U.S. unit eased at the end of the week, however, as traders closed there short dollar positions ahead of the G-7 meeting the following day. The dollar also rose on comments by U.S. Treasury Secretary Robert Rubin that a higher dollar is in the interest of the United Rubin that a higher dollar is in the interest of the United States. Meanwhile, the U.S. labour department released September's employment report showing a rise of 121,000 in non-farm payrolls, compared to a rise of 262,000 the previous month. Unemployment remained at 5.6 per cent.

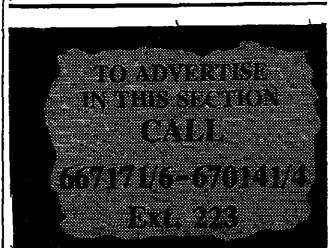

The U.S. unit, thus ended the week at 1.4218 marks, 100.55 yen and at $1.5830 to sterling.

Currency	-Month (%)	I-Year (%)	I-Morab (7-)	1-Year (%)
(I,S, 12dlar	5.78	5.75	5.72	5.68
Sterling Pound	6.62	6 75	6.62	6/2
Deutsche Mark	4.90	1,93	3,95	7 45
Swiss Franc	2.36	2 38	200	2.12
French Franc	/- 12	6.28	sı 17	600
Japanese Yen	0.50	0.62	0.50	U.56
-

Oct - 6 - 1995

Central Bank of Jordan Exchange Rate Bulletin

Date:	Umaber - 1 - 1975
B <sub>i</sub> d	Otter
0.7120	0.7140
1.1244	1.1308
0.4999	0.5024
U.G209	0.6240
0.1423	0.1430
0.7081	0.7116
0.4467	0.4489
0.0441	0.0443

	Bid 11.7120 1.1244 0.4999 11.0209 11.423 0.7081 0.4467

30,000 Boeing workers go on strike

SEATTLE (AP) — Unions representing more than 30,000 Boeing Co. dried up during the recession of the early 1990s, Boeing's production-line workers in three American states went on strike Friday at the worldwide employment has dropped from a peak of 165,787 in 1989 to 105,230, world's No. 1 maker of jetlinwith about 71,700 in

The walkout began at mid-might after the Machinists Union voted 3-to-1 to reject a contract offer that would have required them for the first time to pay health insurance premiums.

"This is about the maddest

I've seen people in this union, and I've been with Boeing nearly 30 years," said Bill Johnson, president of Machinists District Lodge 751, with 23,500 Boeing

The machinists' strike is the second in six years, the shortest period of labour peace in Boeing's 79-year history. They walked out for 48

Production has fallen sharply as aircraft orders Boeing said pay for protract offer included a lumpduction workers now aver-

Washington state. At the Wichita plant, one striker's sign said, "export planes, not jobs" — a reference to the company's use of outside contractors.

The rejected contract offer would have required employee contributions to health insurance premiums, as well as higher deductibles and copayments. It also lacked provisions sought by the union to limit outside contracting.

Boeing's three-year con-

sum payment of 5 per cent of annual pay in 1995, a 3 per cent cash payment in 1996, and a 3 per cent wage increase in 1997. The union wanted wage increases and lump-sum payments in all three years, but had not specified amounts.

FURNISHED APARTMENT FOR RENT

ages $20.37 an hour, and would average $22.16 at the end of the contract it has offered, counting cost-of-living increases. The average worker also would receive more than $3,400 in lump-sum payments.

2 bedroom apartment, deluxe furniture, 2 bathrooms, modern kitchen, dining room, spacy salon, 2 terraces, over looking Amman, telephone, TV, video & satellite, central heating, no water problem.

Location: Jabal Amman, 3rd Circle, safe & quiet residential area, near Al Khalidi Hospital.

Call Tel.: 632755, 641345 from 9-11 am amd 3-9 pm

AMMAN FINANCIAL MARKET HOUSING BANK CENTER AMMAN - SEMEISANI TELEPHONE: 607171 / 607179

H	ORGABIZED MARKET SHARE PRICE LIST COMPANY'S HAME  ARAB BARK PIC JORDAN HATTOMAL RANK BANK OF JORDAN INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT BANK JORDAN GUNAT BANK JORDAN GUNAT BANK JORDAN ISLAMIC BANK BUSINESS BANK AMMAN BANK FOR INVESTMENT PHILADELPHIA INVESTMENT BANK.	FOR SURDAY	08/10/	1995
П		NO 02	+1=1= 1 =
Н	COMMITTED BANK	MO. OF	VALUE TOANEN	CINCIPS DOICE
П		TRADED	.TD	PRICE
Н	:			ARREST STREET
Н	arab bank pic	1520	364880	244.500 240.000
l	JURDAN NATIONAL RANK	B41	3683	4.409 4.380
il	THINTSTOTE: ACCUSATION CARE	3530	12979	3.550 3.660
1	JONDAN KUWAIT BANK	2410	20276	2.350 2.360
H	JORDAN CULF BANK	80439	95121	1.200 1.180
П	JORDAN ISLAMIC BANK	4581	16841	3.690 3.680
Ιi	BUSINESS DANK	1000	3485	3.500 3.490
H	AMMAR BANK FOR INVESTMENT	8650	7958	.930 .920
H	PRILADELPHIA INVESTMENT BANK.	2250	3502	1.560 1.550
l	BANKS SECTOR	113R21	535343	TYNEY WITHOUT 101 71
П		110-11		CEANGE : -1.34/
H П
ļļ
١I	JORDANIAN ELECTRIC POWER RATIONAL PORTFOLIO SECURITIES REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT HACHHARY EQUIP. RENTING & MAINTENANCE UNITED HIDDLE EAST & COMMODORE HOTELS ARAB INTER. FOR INVESTMENT & EDUCATION ZARRA PRIVATE UNIVERSITY UNION LAND DEVELOPMENT CORP>
H	JORDANIAN W.KCTRIC POLICE	28078	45030	1.650 1.630
(	NATIONAL PORTFOLIO SECURITIES	6411	13235	2.070 2.070
H	REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT	250	260	1.080 1.040
11	MACHINARY BOUIP. RENTING & MAINTENANCE	1000	680	.680 .680
u	UNITED MIDDLE EAST & CONGROORE HOTELS	2500	5775	2,320 2,300
l	ARAB INTER. FOR INVESTMENT & EDUCATION	6150	19360	3.160 3.170
П	ZARKA PRIVATE UNIVERSITY	3800	4940	1.31C 1.30D
П	UNION DAND DEVELOPMENT CORPS	88600	98RJ2	1.110 1.120
П	SERVICES SECTOR	114839	180051	TRIDE WINGER, 107 17
П		120033	109031	CHANCE : -0.23
Н			*****
Н	THE JORDAN CEMENT FACTORIES	3947	14106	3.590 3.560
Н	JOXDAN PROSPHATE MINES	1033	.3118	3.020 J.U20
П	THE VICTO LANDS	2690	74365	9.000 9.000
П	THE INDUSTRIAL COMMERCIAL & AGRICULTURAL	339	1107	3.280 3.280
H	ARAB PHARMACEUTICAL MANUFACTURING	170	805	4.800 4.770
П	JORDAN CERAMIC INDUSTRIES	1000	5980	5.980 5.980
П	JORDAN DAIRY	1000	2500	2.450 2.500
Н	THE JURDAN PIPES HABUFACTURING	370	917	2.520 2.460
H	SPINNING & WEAVING	286	499	1.800 1.750
ı I	DON UT DEMO DEAFTSLERAL & IMARRIMENT	717 . 400	5193 460A	7.250 7.350 6.220 5.300
H	LIVESTOCK & POULTRY	59200	41477	.720700
H	ARAB PAPER CONVERTING & TRADING .	11350	15875	1.420 1.400
H	MATICMAL INDUSTRIES	- 2350	2515	1.080 1.070
۱ ۱	INTERMEDIATE SEINO-CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES	100	17.7.	1.780 1.780
H	WATTONAT CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES	200	850	4.250 4.250
l	JOHDAN BULDUN-CHRNICALS	1050	35 (U 1427	4.30U 4.2UU 1 180 1 260
H	ARAB CENTER FOR PHARM, & CHEMICALS	· 4800	10080	2.100 2.100
Н	UNIVERSAL MEMBERS INDUSTRIES	3500	11200	3.220 3.200
H	JORDAN INDUSTRIAL RESOURCES CO.	6200	12231	1.980 1.980
Н	JORDAN HEW CARLE COMPANY	6950	11012	1.600 1.580
П	INTERNATIONAL TOBACCO L CIGARETTES	11493	16117	1.410 1.420
П	THE JORDAH CEMENT FACTORIES JORDAN PHOSPHATE NIMES THE ARAB POTASH JORDAM PETROLEUM REFINARY THE INDUSTRIAL COMMERCIAL & AGRICULTURAL ARAB PHARMACEUTICAL MARBYACTURING JORDAN CERANIC INDUSTRIES JORDAN CERANIC INDUSTRIES JORDAN PIPES MARBYACTURING EFINNING & WEAVING DAR AL DAWA DEVELOPMENT & INVESTMENT ARAB ALUMINIUM INDUSTRY LIVESTOCK & POULTRY ARAB PAPER CONVENTING & TRADING MATIONAL INDUSTRIES INTERNEDIATE PETRO-CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES JORDAN CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES MATICHAL CHELE & WIRE MANUFACTURING JORDAN GULPHO-CHEMICALS ARAB CERTER FOR PHERM, & CHEMICALS UNIVERSAL MEDERN INDUSTRIES JORDAN INDUSTRIAL RESOURCES CO. JORDAN HEW CARLE COMPARY INTERNATIONAL TOBACCO & CIGARETTES UNION CHEMICAL & VEGATIBLE OIL INDUSTRI	1841	3661	1.990 1.990
	INDUSTRIAL SECTOR		205916	INDEX SUMBER: 123.51 CHANGE : -0.517
H	وموا ومسود ومركي والمواهد والمواهد والمركوب والمستسوعون			~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~
١١	GRAND TOTAL		930310	INDEX NUMBER: 158.11
П	·			CHANCE : -0 982
П	HO. OF TRADED SHARES IN PARALLE. MARKE
] [	VALUE TRADED IN PARALLEL MARKET		16720 29579
ı	11-1

Business Dally Beat:

'4,000 engineers to work in Malaysia'

he Jordan Engineers Association (JEA) and a Malaysian delegation which visited Jordan recenty agreed to provide 4,000 Jordanian engineers with job opportunities in Malaysia, Director of the JEA's Training and Employment Department Hisham Khreisat said. Mr. Khreisat said about 200 Jordanian engineers already work in Malaysia. He said his department started since last month contacting embassies of Arab Guf countries in Amman as well as foreign industrial and engineering firms to find jobs for unemployed engineers. He said after contacts with 7,000 firms, the association managed to find job opportunities to 35 engineers. He said he hoped the number to increase as JEA's contacts continue. He noted that there are 1,275 engineers who applied to the department to find them jobs. Some 10,000 Jordanian engineers registered with the JEA work abroad. According to Mr. Khreisat, the number of engineers registered with the association stands at 34,600 and that unemployment among engineers currently stands at 3.5 per cent. (Al Aswaq)

A feasibity study on digging a canal between the Red Sea and the Dead Sea will be completed within six months, informed sources said. The sources said the project will not produce results before 10-15 years. They added that the study is financed by the Word Bank. The sources also told Al Aswaq Arabic daily that Jordan and Israel have agreed to build an international airport on the two countries' border, north of Aqaba, and to launch a railroad project linking the Red Sea with the Dead Sea. According to the sources, the airport will be built on the Jordanian side of the border and is expected to serve between 1.5 and 3 million passengers annually. Passengers using the airport will have the choice to either cross into Israel or Jordan once arriving at the airport. The $500,000 feasibility study on the airport project, expected to be finished by mid 1997, was financed by the U.S. The airport is expected to start operations within five years. The informed sources also said that the railway project will be used in transporting Jordanian and Israeli phosphates to the Aqaba and Eilat ports on the Red Sea. They added that Japan migh also finance a Jordanian project worth $15.10 million to build four bridges over the Jordan River. (Al Aswaq)

* The National Information Centre is about to compile a wide-range data base which will be used by conferees at the MENA summit. The data base includes figures on development witnessed in various sectors in the Kingdom as well as the history of Jordan. The centre has also prepared information on Jordanian companies, industries, the investment climate in Jordan and the Jordanian projects which will be presented at the summit. The centre will also place computer screens in the summit's various halls to be used by participants. (Al Dustour)

* The Housing and Urban Development Department (HUDD) has over the past 30 years carried out about 100 projects which benefited 225,000 people, HUDD. director general Yousef Hiyasat said. (Al Dustour)

STUDIO HAIG

Develop your colour film at our shop and get:-

• JUMBO photo

· Free enlarge-

ment 20 x 30 cm

Shmeisani Opp. Grindleys Bank. Phone: 604042 Swefich tel: 823691

Szechwan Garbens

CHINESE RESTAURANT

Typical Chinese Feeds

Stilled Chinese Chafs

Open 11:30 - 3:30 & 6:40 - Michigan

Take away is avaliabi

Shet Al-Arab Street
Um Utheineh Commercial Centre

Tel.: 361174

Bace Tasted Always Loved

size 30% larger

Professional Quality in 1 Hour Service

JORDAN MARKET PLACE

Cheers

Cafe! Hamburgers + Pizzas

ELITE CAFE'

Sweifiyeh

816690

At Turino

For Rent in Um Uthaina, 3 bedrooms, 3 bathrooms, ground floor, telephone. Other apartments and villas

Furnished/unfurnished for rent or sale

Euro

Abdoun Real Estate Tel: 810505, 810509, 810520

DOLLAR

Make Car

Rental Simple

Shmeisani

Tel: 693399

AVIS RENTACAR

RENT A PHONE when you pick up your keys

Tel. 699420

For Rent

Deluxe Furnished

<sub>Eand</sub> Unfurnished മ്

ப்Villas apartments ப

Fand office Space 5

চTo Suit all Budgets ্ট্

681113 688816

For Rent - For Rent

A SECURE

Hotel

Turino

SECURITY

HOSPITALITY

All Suites Hotel FLAT .O. TEL الابنعة القنفية المكوف

الملوكية بمنتوى عالمي جديدا

GASTRONOMY

Flat.O.TEL

Swelflyeh

5th Circle - 692672

Sanabel

FOR RENT

Deluxe Villas

& Appartments

in Amman

for further details please call

Tel. 864230

Fax. 864231

REAL ESTATE

World Gymnastics Championship

Ukraine's Podkopayeva and China's Li take golds

SABAE, Japan (R) — Lilia Podkopayeva won a closely-contested battle and earned Ukraine's first gold medal Sunday when she clinched the women's all-around title at the World Gymnastics

Champion-ships.
In the men's event, Li Xiaoshuang became the first Chinese world allaround champion. His near-flawless display in the team event Friday also helped China to their second successive gold.

But it was a bad day for both defending champions. American Shannon Miller, gunning for an unprecedented women's world title but hampered by an ankle injury, came in 12th, while Ivan Ivankov of Belarus finished 18th in the men's event. Ivankov has been nursing a shoulder injury.

The women's competition was a thrillingly close tussle, with the lead changing hands twice dark horse Podkopayeva snatched the lead in the last two expect to win the overall title. There is no doubt that this is the happiest moment in my life so far," said Podkopayeva.

The rapidly-improving 17-year-old Donetsk, second after the team event, chalked up 39.248 points.

Svetlana Chorkina of Russia jumped from behind into second place and the silver with the day's highest score of 9.912 on her final apparatus — the asymmetric bars — taking her to an overall total of 39.130.

This is the second-best experience in my life. The first was victory in the European Cup this year," said Chorkina, who screamed with joy after seeing her score from the asymmetric bars.

Lavinia Milosovici of Romania, silver medallist in last year's all-around competition, won the bronze with 39.086 points to nudge out her teammate Simona Amanar.

very happy "I'm because being on the podium is like a dream...and it gives me more courage for the (Atlanta) Olympics," said Milosovici.

Pre-event favourite Mo Huilan of China, who convincingly led the field after the team event, started off disastrously when

"I thought maybe I'd she fell after dismounting win a medal but I didn't from the beam.

The 9.312 points for the beam dashed her hopes of taking the title and giving China double gold in the all-around competition.

Mo performed brilliantly on the remaining three apparatus to end in sixth

Solid performances on all the six men's apparatus helped the 21-year-old Li to win his title by a margin of 0.499 points, pushing Vitaly Scherbo of Belarus, who won six golds at the Barcelona Olympics, into second place with 57.499 points and 1995 European champion Eugeni

Chabaev of Russia into third with 57.248 points. Scherbo managed to snatch the silver medal from Chabaev in the final rotation when he notched up his highest score on the horizontal bar while Chabaev had a poor showing on the rings.

Li, who led after each round and earned the top scores in three apparatus the pommel horse, vault and parallel bars — said he tried to ignore the widening chasm between his score and those of his competitors.

"Halfway through I knew I was ahead by a lot of points but there's a Chinese idiom that goes you can only be really happy when everything's over," Li said. Li is looking forward to next year's Olympics in Atlanta but said he was disappointed he was unable to compete here against Alexei Nemov, a triple gold medallist at this year's European championsips.

The Russian failed to qualify for the individual

"He's nearly the same level as I am. I hope I can compete with him next year in the all-around competition. Next year's competition will be more exciting," said the stony-faced Li, who did not once smile throughout the medal winners' news conference.

self-assured Scherbo, who spent most of his time bantering with journalists, revealed the secret of his steady performance during the com-

"I pray to God for good judging and that's what I got," he said.

Better future awaiting Jordanian soccer, Prince Abdullah says

AMMAN (Petra) — His Royal Highness Prince Abdullah Ben Al Hussein on Sunday said a more promising future awaits Jordanian soccer. In a statement at Amman airport where he received Jordan's Olympic soccer team upon its return from Qatar. Prince Abdullah, the president of the Jordan Soccer Federation, said a change towards the better will take place on the Jordanian soccer arena very Jordan's Olympic team returned from Qatar where it received a 4-2 defeat at the hands of the Qatari Olympic team, thus being eliminated from Asia's Olympic qualifying matches. The defeat was the third for the Kingdom's young squad. Earlier, it was beaten by Qatar 2-1 and by Iraq 4-0. It now has one match to play in Baghdad.

Prince Abdullah, who attended Friday's match in Doha, Qatar, voiced appreciation of efforts exerted

by the team members and their high morales.

He also underlined the importance of early preparations for participation in Arab and international competitions and the need for continued training for national teams, saying members of these teams should be available on full-time basis to represent their countries well in international tournaments.

On Friday, Prince Abdullah blamed the Jordanian media "for destroying the Olympic team's morale" in the heat of competition.

"We in Jordan have to support the national Olympic team with all our capabilities to enable it to improve to a level in which it is able to play with better teams," he said.

ESPERANCE WINS AFRO-ASIAN CUP: Esperance striker Abdelkader Belhassen (L) scores the first goal for his team past Farmers keeper Nippon (R) and defender Sujja (C) during their African Asian Cup match in Tunis October 7. Tunisia's Esperance soccer team beat Thai Farmers Bank 3-0 thus winning the Afro-Asian Cup (Reuters photo)

Longo takes road race for second gold

DUITAMA, Colombia (AP) - Jeannie Longo of France won her second gold medal in three days with a victory in the 85.5kilometre women's individual race in the World Cycling Championships. In the men's 177.7-kilometre Saturday, Danny Nelissen of Netherlands won the gold. finishing the course in 4.52.39 hours.

Daniele Sgnaolin of Italy came in 13 seconds later for the silver, and Pedro Rodriguez of Ecuador won the bronze 46 seconds behind Nelissen.

Longo, 37, won comfortably despite colliding with other cyclists on the second of five laps of a 17.7kilometre circuit around Duitama, northeast of the capital, Bogota.

European Community Chamber Orchestra

Under the patronage of H.E. Mr. Samir Habashneh, Minister of Culture

The Delegation of the European Commission along with EU Member State Embassies and Cultural Centres, presents

ECCO

European Community Chamber Orchestra in concert at the Prince Hassan Auditorium of the University of Jordan on Friday 13: October 1995 at 8:00 p.m.

Ticket price: 5 JD (3JD for students) Tickets available at the Goethe Institut, the British Council, the Instituto Cervantes and the French Cultural Centre and at the venue. The Orchestra will hold a workshop with. students of the National Massic Conservatory on Saturday 14 October 1995 ant 16:30. Revenue will be given micharity

FOR RENT A Villa And An Apartment

Deluxe, fully furnished, telephone, satellite TV, with all facilities. Location: Abdoun and Swefieh. Owner Tel.: 811053.

FURNISHED FLAT FOR RENT

Three bedrooms, one sitting room, dining room, living room, three bathrooms. telephone and garage. Location: Shmeisani,

FURNISHED APARTMENT FOR RENT

Independent first floor apartment with garden and independent garage, consisting of 2 bedrooms, spacious kitchen guest room, sitting & dining room, maid's room, glassed-in veranda, independent central heating with telephone. Very good furniture. Please call: 665711, 664256

A VILLA FOR RENT

Body Reform offers total beauty care, totally natura

Our products are made of luxurious combinations of herbs, flowers fruits and vegetables to suit all your needs.

Come in and let our specialised beauticians help you choose the perfect treatment. Body Reform provides a complete line of face, body and hair care products for the whole family. Visit us today and get 20% off our natural products Valid until Thursday 11th of October 1995

Body Reform

COSMETICS - GIFT BASKETS

FACIALS

Villa with a nice view - Jabal Amman ( between 4th & 5th Circles ), 4 bedrooms, 3 bathrooms and a large living area, maid's room + bathroom, closed two- car garage. Nice garden. Call 624815

FOR REN

A NEW BUILDING CONSISTS OF EIGHT FULLY FURNISHED FLATS. EACH FLAT CONTAINS THREE BEDROOMS, LARGE HALL, THREE BATHROUMS AND A KITCHEN

TEL. 863265 From 10 - 1.30 A.M & 3 - 5 P.M

CHEVENING

SCHOLARSHIPS

SCHEME

British Embassy Amman

The British Embassy's Chevening Scholarships Scheme provides funds for post-graduate study in the United Kingdom.

For the academic year 1996/67 we are looking for scholars with a record of excellence, either professional or academic, who will use their studies in the UK to build their future in Jordan. We favour candidates with excellent command of English and some relevant work experience. The maximum age for a candidate

Chevening Scholarships are normally awarded for Masters degrees, although they can be awarded for other courses. Candidates are encouraged to apply in humanities subjects and in applied sciences. Applications for medicine and dentistry will not be considered.

Scholars will be expected to make some contribution towards the cost of their studies.

Application forms are available from the British Embassy or the British Council in Amman from Sunday 1 October and the closing date for the receipt of completed applications is 15 November 1995.

BRITISH EMBASSY, AMMAN

GOREN BRIDGE

WITH OMAR SHARIF

WEEKLY BRIDGE QUIZ

bold: 4AQ C63 OAQ1054 +J983

Q. 2 - Both vulnerable, as South

you noid: #QJ94 ♥KJ752 064 The bidding has proceeded:
NORTH EAST SOUTH
1 ♥ Pass 2 ♥
2 NT Pass ?

What action do you take? Q. 3 - Neither vulnerable, as South

you hold: , AAQ963 V85 097 AAK42

What action do you take?

Q. 4 - Both vulnerable, as South you hold: AAQJ73 VAQ982 OA7 AR

What do you bid now?

Q. 5 - Both vulnerable, as South The bidding has proceeded:
NORTH EAST SOUTH WEST
1 V 1 4 ?

AFURNISH

ಌ೮೪೯ ೯೦೩ ಕ್ಷ

 $\mathfrak{p}_{[\theta,J(\theta,0)],\{a,b\}}$

34:3-4 1 1.

What do you bid now?

Q.6 - Both vulnerable, as South you AJ2 ♥KQ9 OAQ976 4K82

What action do you take? Look for answers on Monday

Zarka Private University announces

A vacancy of a post of an assistant professor in the Department of English who should hold a PhD degree in English literature. An MA is acceptable, and experience is essential. (N.B A native speaker of English male / female). Applications should include CV and experience certificates to be sent by Air mail or Fax within two weeks of this advertisment to the University address

Zarka Private University Personnel Dept. P.O.Box 150863 - code No.13115 Jordan - Zarka the middle Fax: 09/986945

Interview will be held at the University campus and upon the candidates expenses

SWEIFIYEH

CINEMA TEL: 634144 PHILADELPHIA

Al Fadel Sin Hosson Stree

Body Reform

ESSENTIAL CILS

Liam Neeson & Jessica Lange... in

Shows: 12:30, 3:30, 6:15, 8:30, 10:30

CINEMA TEL: 699238 PLAZA

FRAGRANCES

SHMEISSANI

Elia Abu Modi Street

Sandra Bullack & Bill Pullman

While You Were Sleeping

Shows: 12:30, 3:30, 5:00, 6:30, 8:30, 10:30

CINEMA TEL: 677420 CONCORD

CONCORD "1" Adel Imam & Yusra Birds of the Darkness (Arabic) Shows: 12:30, 3:30, 6, 8:15, 10:45

CONCORD "2" POLICE ACADEMY "MISSION TO MOSCOW" Shows: 4, 6, 8, 10

AMMOUN THEATRE TEL: 618274 - 618275

> MUSA HIJAZIN " Sumaa"

Hi Citizen

daily at 8:30 p.m. Written & directed by Mohammad Shawaqfeh Nabil & Hisham's Theatre TEL: 625155

Presents "Peace Oh Peace"

in English every Saturday Show starts at 8:30 p.m. For reservation call 625155 second gold

o suppose the name

apabilities to enable;

4 52 W to at.

Daniel Samonary

Plant (gl. 1.

niversity announces

h every Saturday $\operatorname{arts}$ at $\mathbf{s}$ (30 $\mathrm{P}^{\mathrm{int}}$ ation call 625155 .

Bulgaria thrashes Albania

PARIS (AFR) - Bulgaria fired in a shot from the left notched up a 3-0 victory over Albania Saturday night as the surprise heroes of last year's World Cup stepped up to score. almost certainly booked their place in next year's European Championships. Yordan Letchkov, whose winner at USA '94 sensationally knocked the holders Germany out of the quarter-finals, was back on the scoresheet in Sofia with a quarter of an hour gone.

The midfielder beat two defenders before unleashing a superb left-foot shot into the right-hand corner. The Bulgarians promptly relaxed their grip on the game, allowing Albania to launch a series of attacks before the break.

With a 35,000 crowd them, Bulgaria came out for the second half looking for more goals - only to run into the brick wall of the Albanian defence, and a string magnificent saves by keeper Foto Strakosha.

However, the wall finally crumbled in the 80th minute when maverick striker Hristo Stoichkov which Strakosha failed to hold, and Emil Kostadinov

Kostadinov, whose lastminute winner in 1993 denied France a place at the World Cup, added his second a minute later from a Letchkov header, following a scramble in the Albanian

Stoichkov, who left Barcelona for Parma this season, said: "It was a difficult match, but now we are 120 per cent sure of going to the

Bulgaria, unbeaten with seven wins from eight matches and a total of 22 points, are the runaway leaders of Group 7. Second placed Germany, who were to play Moldova late Sunday, are six points behind.

After this weekend's matches, both sides will have two more games to play — the second one being against each other November 15. Only the group winners are guaranteed a place at the championships in England.

Belgium 2, Armenia 0

Belgium meanwhile kept alive their remote hopes of qualifying, Armenia 2-0.

Luc Nilis scored both goals, pouncing on defensive errors. A poor clearance in the 28th minute enabled him to strike a superb far-post drive, and he was left with only the goalkeeper to beat in the

The Belgians took it easy in the second half, happy enough to sit on their twogoal lead. "It was a good first half for us," said Belgian coach Paul van Himst. "But I'm not happy how we played in the second half." Belgium remain third in Group 2 on 14 points, behind defending champions Denmark (17) and played a game less. Czech Republic beat Belarus 2-0 in their Group 5 qualifier, consolidating their second place with 18 points, two behind Norway.

Spain (22), who have both

Lewis stops Morrison in 6th round

ATLANTIC CTTY, New Jersey (AP) — Lennox Lewis, known for his righthand punching power, scored three of four knockdowns with his left hand and stopped Tommy Morrison in the sixth round of a heavyweight bout Saturday night Convention Centre.

The 30-year-old Lewis, a former WBC champion, was too strong for Morrison and dominated the bout from the outset, knocking Morrison down in the second, fifth and sixth rounds, cutting him over the right eye and under the left eye, and almost closing the right. The end came when referee Mills Lane stopped the bout at 1:22 of the sixth round after Morrison got up from the second knockdown of the round. Lewis showed that he definitely is not just a one-banded fighter as he did tremendous damage with his left. He did score in the fifth round with a right uppercut, but the left was his big weapon on this night before a crowd of 8,369 fans.

Morrison, on the other hand, known for his left hook, threw few of them. landing several rights to the head and working well with both hands to the body.

"He was tough, very tough," said the 26-year-old Morrison, "trying to fight guys like that with that reach is tough, especially with one eye. I'm not used to fighting with one eye."

The right eye was cut in the second round when Lewis landed a left hook to the head that also put Morrison down briefly. Lewis then worked on that eve with stiff left jabs and it was all but closed by the fifth round. Morrison seemed to have an edge in the first round when he circled and got in a couple of jabs and a right to the head. Then Lewis took charge in the second round and by the fourth it seemed to be just a question of when Lewis would finish it and not whether he would

Lewis, 241, hurt Morrison, 227, badly with a left hook and right hand early in the fifth round, and then knocked him down with a right uppercut at about 2:25 in the round. Morrison jumped up quickly from that knockdown, as he did from the two in the sixth.

A lewis left jab scored the first knockdown early in the sixth and then a left hook produced the final knockdown.

"I was real relaxed out there," Lewis said. "I relied on my patience and a good jab. I was taking my time because I knew Tommy was getting tired." It was Lewis' third victory since he lost the WBC title when he was stopped in the second round by Oliver McCall Sept. 24, 1994, at Wembley, England. His record is 28-1 with 24 knockouts. Morrison lost for the first time in nine fights, dating back two Oct. 29, 1993, when he was stopped in the first round by Michael Bentt. Lewis earned $2.4 million, while Morrison made $2.1

England's Lennox Lewis knocks the USA's Tommy Morrison to the canvas in the sixth round of their 12 round non-title bout Oct. 7 at the Atlantic City Convention Centre (Reuters phto)

Player suspended over haircut

ROME (R) — Italian Minor League soccer player Domenico Onofrio has been suspended for refusing to get his hair cut as ordered and then talking to the media about it, newspapers reported Sunday.

The Gazzetta Dello Sport said southern C2 club Matera had ordered its long-haired players to get

When Onofrio turned up following the deadline with his hair as long as before, he was barred from

The 19-year-old player then got his hair cut but told the media about the incident, prompting the club to suspend him on Saturday and impose a press silence on other

UNFURNISHED HOUSE FOR RENT

Second floor from a villa ,consists of 3 bedrooms, 3 salons, 2 bathrooms, kitchen. With all utilities, central heating and telephone. Location: Jabal Amman 4th Circle. Annual rent is JD 5500 Please call

641378 - 641747

Tickets available fro Babiche, tel. 661322

Romero, tel. 644227

Ahlia Abella, tel. 688481

Freddy For Music, tel. 692696

AIR FRANCE

Justice department regards Steffi as accomplice, report claims

BONN (AFP) — The Justice Mannheim Department regards women's tennis world number one Steffi Graf as an "accomplice" to her father who is facing tax evasion charges, the German weekly Der Spiegel claims in a report to be published Monday.

The magazine quotes a document from the department investigating Graf's financial affairs that lists her as an "accomplice". It adds the German

Tennis Federation (DTB) had not declared Graf's prize-money earned in domestic tournaments.

The report follows

Saturday's comments by Opel Chairman David Herrman that there was no question of Opel ending their sponsorship deal with Graf over her tax problems.

He said she was an innocent victim and had viewed for almost eight always been faithful in her dealings with Opel. Graf's father Peter has been detained since Aug. 2 while inquiries contin-

Steffi Graf was inter-

hours by investigators this week but public prosecutor Peter Wechsung said they had uncovered no new evidence to justify detaining her.

Graf's earnings since arrested.

she turned professional in 1982 amount to 180 million marks ($120 million). She took over the management of her financial affairs after her father was

CAR FOR SALE Duty Unpaid

1993 Jeep Grand Cherokee, colour black cherry, mileage 48000.

Asking JD 11,000 Cail Tel.: 818669, from 3 - 8 pm.

FIAT FOR RENT

Area 300 metres, 2nd floor, 3 bedrooms and one master bedroom, 3 bathrooms, a large living room and dining room, large kitchen. Location: West Amman, 7th Circle. Please contact Tel: 714741

APARTMENT IN ABDOUN

Unfurnished, ground floor, 150 sq.m, two bedrooms, salon, one bathroom and kitchen, telephone and other services. Location: Behind Abdoun Pharmacy Rent is JD 3500

Dr. Mahmoud Jumaa House. Telephone 624824, 819850

FOR RENT

BUILDING / APARTMENTS (furnished / unfurnished) Three floors building, each floor is independent spacious apartment, located at Um Uthaina. The building could be rented as one unit or as apartments.

Interested to call 696764 between 10 am - 1 pm and 3 - 6 pm.

Ticket price: JD 7

- The National Music Conservatory, tel. 687620

- French Cultural Centre, tel. 637009

- Philadelphia Hotel, tel. 607100

- Music Box, tel. 815745

The National Music Conservatory/Noor Al Hussein Foundation

and The French Cultural Centre present

TRIO WANDERER

(Violin, cello and piano)

Definitely

working in your interest

The British Bank of the Middle East offers competitive interest rates on Jordanian Dinar Deposits with interest paid monthly on Savings accounts.

How good? Just look at the table below.

JOD TIME DEPOSIT RATES

AMOUNT	CALL / 24H	1 WEEK	1 MONTH	3 MCNTH	6 MONTHS	12 MONTHS
10,000 - 25,000.	6.50	6.50	7.50	7.75	7.75	8.00
25,001 - 50,090	6 75	6.75	7.75	8.00	8.00	8.25
50,000 - 100,000	1.7	7	8.00	8.25	8.25	8.50
100,000 - ABOVE	7.25	7.25	3.25	3.50	8.50	8.75

JOD SAVINGS - INTEREST PAID MONTHLY

AMOUNT	0 - 500	501 - 10000 10001 - ABOVE
INTEREST	Nil 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	6.00 6.50

البنك البريطاني للشرق الاوسط Your beal global bank.

Jebel Hussein: 607471 Amman Downtown: 636175 / 6 Jebel Amman: 643102 / 6 Wahdat: 770810 - 770130 Zarga: 09 / 992501

Legislature will fare far better with sound reforms, experts say

By Sae'da Kilani Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN — The Lower House of the Jordanian Parliament might not be performing its role properly when compared with legislatures in developed countries. but it should not be long before it reaches the same level if consistent reforms are made, local and foreign specialists said Sunday.

Parliamentarians and specialists attending discussions on the second day of the seminar on "Parliamentary Work: Prospects and Realities" heavily lashed out at the poor performance of deputies and loopholes in the House's bylaws. However, they pointed to planned measures that ensure a better performance of the House and consolidate its role in the Jordanian political life.

Deputy Abdul Razzaq Tubeishat said the poor performance of the House was basically due to the improper functioning of parliamentary blocs under the dome. One of the major impediments, he said, is the members' noncommitment to the decisions taken by the bloc.

Members of the same bloc deliver speeches reflecting different points of views on the same topic but reiterate. at the end of their speeches. their loyalty and commitment to the speech delivered by the bloc's spokesperson, said Dr.

Problems and divisions surface especially when government reshuffles occur or if a new cabinet is formed, he

Furthermore, deputies do not get proper attention from the bloc when they raise issues of concern to them or to their constituencies, Dr. Tubeishat said. "Their demands and proposals are met with indifference most of the time." he said.

The 12th Parliament. elected in 1993, saw the birth of six major blocs - "six in theory but four in practice." said Dr. Tubeishat.

The six blocs are the Islamic Action Front (17 members); the National Action Front (NAF - 17 members); the Democratic Alliance (21 members originally but 10 at present); the Jordanian National Front (nine members); and the Brotherly Bloc (five members) and the rest of the 80 members of the House are independents.

According to Dr. Tubeishat, there are only four blocs: the IAF bloc, the NAF, a four-member "leftist" bloc and "moderate centrists" who number 42.

In another vein, Wolfgang Zeh. senior staff member of the German Bundestag administration, criticised the routine forwarding of draft laws to one legislative committee in parliament and said it was a waste of time because the law would be discussed at length many times. He proposed laws be referred to specialised committees that would study the legislation from all aspects with the re-

(Continued on page 7)

"In the German Bundes-

of the details in the plenary creasing the number of committees to 13 from the present four. Each committee,

as it is the case with ministries, will be specialised in a particular field and will discuss related laws in that field

and present recommenda-

But the formation of specialised committees necessitates the establishment of a special department that groups specialists and experts from outside the dome, Mr.

Dughmi said. This department should be given the task of studying all draft laws and mendations to the respective

Minister of State for Parliamentary Affairs Abdul

Majid Azzam, who is also a deputy, tackled the relationship between the legislative and executive powers concentrating mainly on the double role of deputy/minister. He proposed that the provision that allows parliamentarians to become ministers be cancelled. He also called for taking separate vote of confidence on each committees.

tions to the full House.

session." he said.

House's committees.

EARTHQUAKE: A local resident describes the damage done to a mosque in Sungai Penuh, central Sumatra in Indonesia, by an earthquake that measured 7 on the Richter scale on Sunday (see story inside)

Karaki, Abul Ragheb urge media to convey right image of Jordan

Ministers meet local press to discuss MENA summit coverage

AMMAN (Petra) — Deputy and aspirations, but there is a Prime Minister and Minister of Information Khaled Karaki on Sunday called on the Jordanian media to rise to the occasion at their month's Middle East and North Africa (MENA) economic conference and to relay to the world the true image about the Kingdom's achievements. stability and democratic pro-

Addressing editors of the local press, Dr. Karaki said there was " no need for exaggeration in relaying this image, nor is there a need for linking this major event with unrealistic great prospects need for Jordan to prove its stand and its major role in the region."

The minister said he had reservations about certain articles that tend to harm the concepts of freedom and democracy. "Such articles stem from lack of political awareness or lack of experience in understanding or analysing situations." he said.

"It is not in the interest of anyone to see the image of the country distorted with irresponsible and destructive criticism." he said. Biased attitudes and slander even between newspapers themselves will mislead observers about the country and result in misunderstanding of its stands and subsequent unjust attitude towards the King-

He said that the media were still involved in controversy over the role of the official information services and relations between the Ministry of Information and the Jordan Press Association about information policies and the country's national cratic march reflecting the bright image about Jordan and its political, social and economic achievements.

The minister said that the media, together with the official information services.

Addressing the meeting was also Minister of Industry and Trade Ali Abul Ragheb. who discussed preparations for the MENA conterence. which, he said, will be a regional as well as international forum where the private sector will play the local

Noting that the conference enjoys international backing. the minister said that up to

(Continued on page 7)

bdul Sha

Kin

Que retu

Vynn գա։ ԼՏ

reportedly de

 $\eta_{\rm SM} \lesssim$

Sill ...

III .

Malana .

Andrews Care Laye

Steff Programme 4

a ved South The

 $\mathsf{kg}^{\mathsf{a}}_{\mathsf{ul},\mathsf{ud},\mathsf{d},\mathsf{d},\mathsf{v}_{\mathsf{ud},\mathsf{d},\mathsf{d}}}$ comois the new .

and his principles

frantia he

Amening Source

<sup>4</sup>dead, 20 mi

<sup>MAlgerian</sup> m

ndin. Peres ,

odox priz

 $45 g_{01} \ldots$

the treatment

Snorers have fragile heart

TEL AVIV (AFP) People who snore run a far higher risk of heart attack than quiet sleepers, according to an Israeli medical report published Sunday. Doctors at Assaf Harofeh Hospital near Tel Aviv, in an extract from their report in Maariv newspaper, said 93 per cent of patients with heart problems were found to be snorers. Most fatal attacks occur between 4 and 8 a.m. The amount of sleep was also an important factor. The death rate is 70 per cent higher among people who sleep less than six hours a night.

Chinese lured by cable TV

(AFP)

Between 25 and 30 per cent of Chinese families

BELIING

will have cable television in their homes by 2005, the official China Daily said Sunday Electronics Ministry official Hua Deqing. The number of Chinese homes that subscribe to cable TV will at least triple within 10 years, the newspaper said. According to government projections, the number of subscribers will rise from the 30 million at the end of 1994 to 60 million in 2000 and 100 million in 2005. the report said. Cable television, which appeared here at the beginning of the 1990s. currently offers music, sports, and films. Cable television hook ups are available in most new buildings in Beijing for about 10 yuan ($1.20) a

III-fated Russian circus finally going home

DAVAO, Philippines (R)

— A Russian circus stranded without money for ern Philippines and forced to survive on charity is finally going home. Barring further strokes of bad luck, a Russian cargo plane arrives early this week to fly all that is left of the circus — 13 performers and nine animals - back to Moscow Thursday. members of the group said Sunday. "When I come here first time...I don't have friend. Now I have plenty friends," troupe leader Boris Fedotov said in an interview Sunday. He was referring to Filipino officials and citizens who gave the Russians food, money and shelter to enable them to get through the bad times. The troupe originally numbered 37 performers and more than 20 animals when it arrived in the Philippines in July ! last year for a series of shows. After several performances, the group and its Filipino promoter broke up in a row over money and the Russians have been stranded since March in Davao, 980 kilometres south of Manila. Penniless. they had to depend on Davao residents to survive. Market vendors gave them leftover vegetables as feed for the starving animals, taxi drivers sometimes gave them free rides, and a businessman allowed them use of a vacant lot which enabled them to put up a mini-200 that brought in some money. The local exempted them from paying taxes, and a businessmen treated them to occasional free lunches. Others helped get plane tickets that enabled a majority of the troupe members to return separately to Russia earlier, with some of the animals. Misfortune first bit the troupe earlier this year when two circus donkeys and three ponies were electrocuted after a live wire fell on their cage after a show in another city. A llama died of massive diar-

Several European giants expected at MENA summit projects is expected to be

By Francesca Ciriaci Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN - Reflecting a rising European interest in business opportunities into the region, businessmen from nearly 100 economic giants of the European private sector are expected to attend this month's Middle East and North Africa (MENA) economic summit in Amman.

At a first glance, it could seem a small number, but quality definitely makes up for quantity: according to a provisional list released by the Jordanian committee preparing for the summit. participation of the European private sector is going to be marked by the presence of big companies. covering all sectors and represented by their highest cadres.

From Marks & Spencer to Volkswagen, Club Mediterranee and Henkel. most of the names that accompany the average European every day life are going to be at the MENA

The president of Olivetti, Carlo de Benedetti, is registered as one of the co ence's speakers, while Sir Brian Hill will represent Higgs and Hill. Also presidents, directors and board members from Credit Lyonnais, British Aerospace. Siemens, Alcatel, Baring Securities, Barclays, and Stirling are going to attend the summit.

Particularly remarkable is the presence of oil companies. (Total and Elf), and major banks," said Christian Ponsot, commercial secretary of the French

According to Maria Pia Bianconi, commercial attaché of the Italian embassy. ENI. the Italian colossus for hydrocarbons and one of the sponsors and speakers of the Amman economic summit, has already invested $3 million fility study for the Red Sea-Dead Sea Canal Project. Mrs. Bianconi said the project aims at bringing the Red Sea water to the Dead Sea, restoring the natural level of the Dead Sea, generating energy and serving desalination pur-

"European companies have a solid tradition in this area and their participation will be very consistent and effective." said Umayya Toukan, rapporteur of the Jordanian preparatory committee.

According to a bulletin published by the Central Bank of Jordan, in the first four months of this year. 34.6 per cent of Jordan's imports and nine per cent of the Kingdo exports were from and to European Union countries.

general of the Amman Financial Market (AFM). said that the three-day Amman conference starting on Oct. 29 is meant to focus especially on business and its purpose is to give potential investors a chance to sound out the economic potential of this region.

"To achieve concrete results, the conference has to be 'manageable' to a certain extent, we also tried to contain the number of participants." Dr. Toukan added. Over 400 government delegates and over 600 executives from leading international companies are expected to take part in the summit. "From the companies" side we can see a serious interest, though at the actual stage we still don't know much about their concrete projects." said Samar Ashqar, commercial officer at the British

"Board members and even presidents are coming here to make contacts and to have an idea of the situation in this area: "If they'll be satisfied, they'll: send their senior managers here again to conclude

The British government delegation will be headed by Anthony Nelson, minister of trade. Some of the companies taking part in the conference are new to this area. others are familiar with it, others are already working here, like Rolls Royce, which is now building a power plant in Agaba worth £41 million, said Ms. Ashqar. "But, most importo Amman knowing what to expect and prepared, because over past months they've been briefed and updated with all the useful information.

During the conference. the Jordanian private sector, represented by the Jordanian Businessmen Association (JBA), will present its foreign counterparts proposals of over 100 projects. The list of the ready by Oct. 15, according to Ms. Ashqar. According to Dr. Tou-

gan, besides the official plenary sessions, there will be over 50 sessions, each one with five speakers and one moderator, chosen to meet as much as possible the requirements of balance among different sectors and geographic areas Plenary sessions will be about: finance and investment, infrastructure, economic climate, trade and industry. The main categories to be discussed in the workshops are: financial services, food and agroindustry, textiles and apparels, transportation. energy, engineering and constructions. Information

(Continued on page 7)

Turkish troops enter Iraq to hit PKK

DIYARBAKIR, Turkey Turkey over the incursion (Agencies) — Turkish troops into its territory by Turkish have crossed into northern forces, the official Iraqi News Iraq to strike at separatist Kurdish guerrillas fighting the Ankara government, a Turkish official has said.

"We went in and hit them," Unal Erkan, governor for Turkey's 10 southeastern provinces under emergency rule, told Reuters on Saturday.

soldiers crossed into northern Iraq Friday and advanced three to four kilometres. It was unclear how many were sent in. "When the work is finished they will return," he would assist the Philippines and the international community in the area of counterterrorism." the palace said airlines.

erations a blatant violation of its sovereignty," the spokes-

and economic relations at all the signing of various memoranda of understanding in-

The two leaders witnessed possible levels."

ernment fully and immediately withdraws its forces and stop repeating these viola-tions," the Iraqi spokesman

in a rail link between Tehran

and the Central Asian repub-

The Iranian leader was also due to meet with the heads of the two houses of congress.

Hunt on in Morocco for policeman who killed 2 tourists, injured others

TANGIER, Morocco (R) Police combed forests

Ms. Kiham was in the in the bar.

Witnesses said Patricia Cherrat, a British woman in her 50s, was shot when the gunman chased her up

Doctor Wafa Benhalima, who treated Ms. Cherrat, said her condi-

land, said she was in her room at the Tarik hotel when she and her parents heard a woman outside shouting: "Help me save

"I said to the man: 'excuse me, can you help me?' He looked carefully isolated incident.

"It seems an off-duty policeman in a fit of rage killed his wife and injured his brother-in-law before opening fire on residents in the ...stel," it said.

Agency said.
The agency quoted a Fore-Turkey often sends troops and manned roadblocks in into northern Iraq in pursuit ign Ministry spokesman as saying Turkey's charge d'afthe northern Moroccan tion was stable after two said Sunday. at me and he shot. He of guerrillas of the outlawed city of Tangier on Sunday wore a white robe. He had bullets were removed Turkey twice this year Kurdish Labour Party (PKK) faires in Baghdad was sumfrom her back. She said a in the hunt for an off-duty no beard and no glasses, poured troops into northern who have been fighting for a moned to the ministry to be policeman who gunned hospital plane was due to the blonde schoolgirl said. Iraq to pound PKK rebels. Kurdish homeland in southinformed of the government's down two British tourists arrive in Tangier later on Ms. Hall, whose hand east Turkey for more than a A major cross-border opin a shooting spree at a seaside hotel. Sunday to fly Ms. Cherrat was in bandages, said she eration in March was criti-It said Turkish forces croscised by some of Turkey's home. put her hands over her sed into Iragi territory Friday A de facto, autonomous Three other tourists, in-Western allies, but small "There were fragments Mr. Erkan said Turkish head as the gunman aimed in pursuit of Turkish Kurdish state for Iraqi Kurds was set groups of soldiers are rein her back and she has cluding 12-year-old British his pistol at her. rebels, causing many casualup in the Kurdish north of ported at times to engage in schoolgirl Charlean Bardifficulty breathing but ties. It did not elaborate. Iraq under U.S. protection 'I think he was crazy. I forays across the border. "The Iraqi government ker Hall, were wounded in after the end of the 1991 Gulf she is stable. She is conthink he had too much categorically rejects the prehashish," Charlean's the attack on Friday night scious and speaking," Dr. war. PKK gueffillas use bases The regional governor's texts repeated by the Turkish in northern Iraq to launch office in Diyarbakir Sunday at the Tarik hotel. Benhalima told Reuters. mother, Janet, said, "My issued a statement saying that government to justify its attacks against Turkish forces Steven Stewart, a daughter is alive. That's Police said Martin Gowmilitary operations inside 32 PKK guerrillas were killed spokesman for tour operthe most important er, an electrician from Iraq Sunday protested to Iraq and considers these op-"The Iraqi government dein the past 24 hours. ator First Choice, said the Ruislip near London, and thing.' holidaymakers were given his wife Margaret, both in A German tourist, who a choice of curtailing their Rafsanjani to help Ramos fight extremists their 60s, were killed inwas in the bar at the time two-week holiday or flying stantly when Mustapha of the shooting, described home as scheduled on Hamouche went on the the scene at the hotel, MANILA (AFP) — Iranian President Ali Akbar Hashe-Wednesday. without elaborating.
The palace also said Mr. where 150 British and He also allegedly carried rampage in the hotel's bar out the mid-air bombing of a Philippine Airlines flight last He would not say when just after killing his wife in investment and technical German guests were mir Rafsanjani has assured Ramos briefed Mr. Rafsanthe bodies of the two viccooperation in the fisheries a fit of passion. He staying at the time. his Philippine counterpart year that claimed one life. tims would be flown jani on the status of talks with industry. escaped by running into a "There were about 50 Fidel Ramos that Iran will the MNLF, which waged a Palace aides said Sunday They also included an home, saying the family forest near the hotel. people in the bar when a help Manila in the field of that security for Mr. Ramos had requested privacy. bloody separatist war in the agreement on merchant ship-'He was shouting Allacounter-terrorism, a presshould be boosted in the light man wearing a long white southern Philippines in the government ping, cooperation in the ener-The guests have been hu Akbar all the time. He robe walked in and started idential palace statement said 1970s, but which has since of the threats by Yousef. gy sector, on the environmoved from the Tarik to Sunday, Mr. Ramos said he exwas hysterical," said Barshooting with a small pisagreed to negotiate for Iran has not been directly ment and a trilateral agreeother hotels in Tangier bara Kiham, of Liverpool, tol." the German, who did implicated in the attacks in ment with Turkmenistan on and a few, including the not wish to be named, pected Tehran to continue the Philippines although transporting Philippine ex-England. populated regions. Hall family, have said they The palace made no menports by rail to Iran, palace supporting peace talks besecurity officials have said tion on whether the talks that other foreign Muslim would stay until Wednestween the Philippine governofficials said. bar when the man, an The British embassy in included recent reports that fundamentalists are involved Details of the agreements ment and the country's main day. Reporters said there off-duty police inspector described as wearing a Rabat said on Saturday it Muslim insurgent group, the Moro National Liberation Ramzi Ahmad Yousef, the and are supporting MNLF were not immediately availwere no signs of extra alleged mastermind of the able although Manila earlier breakaway groups which are had no reason to believe security at the hotels Front (MNLF). World Trade Centre bombnot part of the peace talks. said they would involve joint long white robe, walked in the attack was politically although the attacker was Mr. Rafsanjant met with ing, had threatened to attack Mr. Ramos said before the oil and gas exploration in this and started to shoot ranmotivated and they still on the run. Mr. Ramos and other targets Mr. Ramos for talks soon meeting Mr. Rafsanjani that country, training of Filipinos accepted that it was an domly. Frenchman Herve Ms. Charlean, from their talks would focus on the after arriving here on Sunin Iran in that field as well Mangin was also wounded Norfolk in eastern Engneed to "improve our trade. calls for Filipino investment Yousef, who was detained

cluding one on the reciprocal ly planned attacks against visiting Pope John Paul II as

He assured Mr. Ramos "he in Pakistan in February. had and the Iranian government earlier been here and alleged-